FARMER'S OWN WORK.

Any farmer in Pennsylvania who can and does not begin this very instant, if he has not before, to plan to spend Farmers' Week at State College during holidays, is ignoring a splendid opportunity for self and farm improvement.

These "Weeks" have been observed so many years that they have become an established institution. They are held deliberately at a season best suited to the farmers' own time and every year finds the attendance growing.

Farmers need not be told how their business is changing. They need not be informed that agriculture is a science and farm management a business. They know it is and, knowing it, the progressive farmer misses no favorable opportunity to learn what the new developments of that science and that business are.

Penn State aims to acquaint the farmer with just these things. Its administration goes to great efforts to make the sessions not only interesting but instructive. Men of authority lecture and demonstrate the newest and best things in farming and the best things based not only on theory but on practice.

Further the week becomes a great clearing house of ideas as between farmers. The contact of one farmer and his experiences with another benefits both. Enjoyable entertainment is provided and the net result is that the farmer returns to his place refreshed, instructed, entertained and determined to go back next year.—Harrisburg Patriot.

Reformed Church Planning 400th Anniversary.

Plans are being laid for an imposing observance of the four hundredth anniversary of the Reformed Church in the United States. The celebration projected by the General Synod at Lancaster, in 1914, has been given definite scope and character in the acts of the district synods of the church whose sessions have just been closed.

Special commemorative services will be held during the year 1917 by all synods and classes at their annual meetings, exercises marking the event will be held in all of the educational institutions of the church and each local congregation is called upon to hold special anniversary services.

The aim is to stir up the Christian consciousness of the entire church with reference to its denominational responsibility at home and abroad.

In view of the growing sentiment in favor of the practical expression of the Christian life in national affairs, the celebration will have patriotic as well as religious significance.

Every member of the church will be given opportunity to pledge anew his devotion to his mother church and to seal it with a gift to the four hundredth anniversary fund for the advancement of Christian education.

It is expected that the fund as a whole will reach at least $1,000,000.

STATE AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

It is estimated that there are now 540 tractors in use on the farms in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania apple crop is estimated to be about eleven per cent larger than last year.

Seven counties in the State show an average yield of over 95 bushels to an acre in potato production.

There has been an increase of over three per cent, in the acreage sown to wheat this fall as compared with last year.

Despite the high price of meat there are less hogs being fattened on Pennsylvania farms than last year. The high price of feed is a deterring factor.

Lehigh county shows the largest potato production in the State with 1,142,470 bushels, while Cameron has the smallest, of 21,645 bushels and Forest 22,000 bushels.

Puts New Auto Bus in Service.

L. L. Smith, the auto liveryman, surprised the town early Wednesday morning by appearing with a handsome new auto bus, especially made to convey Uncle Sam's mail and passengers to the local railroad station. The bus will accommodate ten persons and besides has ample room for mail and baggage. Mr. Smith had the machine made to order, having delivered the chassis to the Hopp Carriage Company, at Millinburg, where the body was constructed. The man carrying the distinction of being the first passenger to the local depot is J. S. Holwagner, a traveling salesman.

Mr. Smith is to be commended for his efforts to give quick, satisfactory and up-to-the-minute service to the town and the traveling public.

Will Hold a Bazaar.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will again hold their annual bazaar in the Bartholomew storeroom during the day and evening of December 2. The bazaar will be opened at 10 a. m. The ladies have an unusually fine display of both fancy and useful articles for sale, and a new feature of the bazaar will be the doll table, which will be especially attractive to the little ladies. Everybody is cordially invited to come and bring their friends.

District Teachers' Meeting.

The organized district teachers' meeting, consisting of the public school teachers of Potter township and Centre Hall borough, will meet in the school house at Centre Hill, Monday evening, December 11th, instead of the 4th, as previously announced.

40 Scholarships at Penn State.

Plans for the establishment of forty scholarships for the education of skilled young tradesmen and women at the Pennsylvania State College are under consideration by officers of State Federation of Labor. If the project goes through the students will receive special training at the college, which added to their practical and industrial experience, will enable them to serve as teachers in the continuation and vocational schools of the State.

The plan provides for an endowment fund of $25,000 to be raised by the labor unions in the first, second and third class cities of the state.

The fund is to be held in trust by the State College, to be loaned to such students as may qualify for the scholarships through competitive examinations and who may later become teachers in the vocational schools of Pennsylvania.

Methodists Adopt Vigorous Policy.

A vigorous and liberal policy for the Methodist church was adopted at the convention of Methodist Men, held in Harrisburg, last week. The convention unanimously declared for:

The consummation of Methodist Union.

A better prepared and a better paid ministry.

Federal benevolence boards.

An increase in the practice of prayer. Renewed diligence in personal evangelism and religious training.

The recognition and discharge of our social obligation.

The elimination of the liquor traffic. Brotherhood toward all newcomers among us.

The carrying of the Gospel to the ends of the earth.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
