THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

June 18th.—The select school will close in two weeks, and after a vacation of four weeks the fall term will commence.

An incident: Thirty years ago when Wm. Wolf opened up in business J. H. Keller purchased the first bill of goods. June 1st, 1882, when the new firm, Wolf and son, opened, Mr. Keller again happened to be the first purchaser.

The geographical centre of this State is said to be Spring Mills.

Centre Hall was improved last week by two new sidewalks.

Mrs. John Farmer of Centre Hall died on Sunday, June 4th. Her age was seventy-eight years.

The cherry crop in this valley will be small, no doubt. Apples and other fruits are promising.

Dr. Jacobs, after recovering from his illness, has gone to Millburg.

On the 30th ult., the saw mill operated by Jacob McCool did the largest days work known in ten hours.

Black Moose in Pennsylvania.

"The Black Moose in Pennsylvania" is the latest literary work of Col. H. W. Shoemaker, author of many legendary tales of Pennsylvania. The booklet is an excellent addition to the many others on wild animal life in Pennsylvania which have preceded it and is worthy of a place in any library.

The Reporter gratefully acknowledges the receipt of a copy of Col. Shoemaker's new book.

Fishermen Find Dead Body.

Lester Reager, of Lewistown, returning from a fishing trip on the Juniata river one day last week, found the half submerged body of Thomas Thompson, colored, 35 years old, a native of Tazewell S. C. He had been in Lewistown about six months. It is thought that in a fit of derangement he leaped from the bridge. His body had likely been in the mud and water for a week, which is the time he is reported missing from his work. The coroner took charge of the body, which was interred in the Potter's field.
