POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

JURY COMMISSIONER.

We are authorized to announce the name of A. C. Ripka, of Centre Hall borough, as a candidate for the nomination of Jury Commissioner on the Democratic ticket, at the Primaries, September 18, 1917.

THE FIFTY DOLLAR BOND.

In issuing Liberty Loan Bonds in a denomination as small as $50 the Secretary of the United States Treasury has put it in the reach of every American citizen to do a real and actual service to his country.

Not all can fight, not all can render personal service in other ways, but those who are denied the privilege of serving their country in person have the privilege of serving her by lending their money to win her victories.

But it is not patriotism alone that urges the buying of Liberty Loan Bonds. Thrift and a wise economy in investing small savings commend these Liberty Loan Bonds to small investors. They are safe, and considering their tax-free quality—free from all federal, state and local taxes (inheritance taxes excepted) and free from any war tax that may hereafter be levied, affording an absolutely net income of 3-1/2 per cent, they constitute an ideal investment for savings.

Nor is there any reason for waiting for a later bond issue in the expectation of a higher rate of interest being obtained, for the law provides that should such bonds be issued later, Liberty Loan Bonds may be changed for them at par.

Tree Talk.

Enough campers and transients visited the State Forests last year to make a city larger than Altoona.

Do you want to add 25 per cent to the life of your fence post? Write to the U. S. Department of Agriculture for Farmers' Bulletin No. 744.

Dr. J. T. Rothrock, Pennsylvania's first commissioner of Forestry, says that during his lifetime he has seen one-seventh of the State's area cease to produce wealth. He says of one section: "Wooded, settled, cleared, ruined, since 1785."

Never backfire against a forest fire from the bottom of a mountain. You may burn up some of your own party if you do. Go to the top and work down the hill.

If you are burning resinous wood, such as pine, and your chimney becomes clogged with soot, throw a few pieces of sheet zinc on the fire.

MEMORIAL DAY IN CENTRE HALL.

many can muster—boys and older men—a million of them. Second, the peril growing out of the unsettled conditions in Russia, where German influence and German gold and German falsehood are at work day and night.

The procession then left the cemetery in the same order in which it entered and proceeded to the diamond where short exercises were held for the flag raising. A forty-foot pole had been erected a few days previous to receive the stars and strips. As the children joined in singing The Star Spangled Banner, the veterans slowly drew Old Glory to the top of the staff. Rev. F. H. Foss then delivered a short address on the colors which every American cherishes so dearly particularly at this time.

SERVICES AT OTHER POINTS.

Equally interesting services were held at Tusseyville and Sprucetown, and the attendance at both places was remarkably large and enthusiastically entered into by those present regardless of age.

The decorating of the graves in the cemeteries on Zion Hill and Tusseyville was performed by the children, accompanying whom were several veterans of the Civil War, and representatives of the P. O. S. of A. After the ceremonies on the hill, which were under the direction of D. C. Roseman, a line of march was formed to the Tusseyville cemetery. After the decorating at the cemetery there was singing of patriotic songs and a thoroughly patriotic address by Rev. D. S. Kurtz and prayer by Rev. F. H. Foss. It was the first Memorial services held at these points in a number of years, but it will not be the last judging from the spirit exhibited by the local residents.

At Sprucetown Marcellus A. Bankey had the program in charge. The attendance there was large and fully up to former established record for enthusiastic services on these occasions. The decorating was performed similarly as at Tusseyville. There was singing and recitation by a little daughter of William Sweeney, and prayer by Rev. W. H. Williams. After this all assembled in the church, where there was more music, and then came the address by Prof. Hughes. His address was well received and frequently applauded.

Jacobs—Robertson.
Announcement of the marriage of Guy Watson Jacobs and Miss Fan Earl Robertson reached relatives and friends of the groom in this place the early part of the week. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride in San Antonio, Texas, Friday, June 1st. The happy young couple are now on their honeymoon journey, visiting points in the east, including New York City, York, Pa., and are expected to arrive in Centre Hall on Saturday to spend a short time with the groom's mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs.

The announcement declares that they will be at home after June 10th at 622 North 5th Street, Steubenville, Ohio.

Mr. Jacobs is a "Penn State" graduate, class 1910, and it was while employed with the York Manufacturing Company as erecting engineer of ice plants in the sunny South that he met Miss Robertson, an accomplished young school teacher. Their friendship, in due time, ripened into love, culminating in the happy event which occurred on Friday.

Frazier-Zong

Howard F. Frazier, of Bellefonte, and Miss Leah C. Zong, of Linden Hall, were married on Saturday morning at the local Evangelical parsonage by Rev. F. H. Foss.

Linden Hall

Earl Motz has enlisted in the engineering corps and gone to Fort Slocum.

Samuel Blizer of Lewistown, spent the latter part of last week with his brother, Clarence Blizer.

G. M. Hall and family, of Huntingdon, accompanied by a party of friends, spent Sunday at Linden Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frazier returned Monday evening from their wedding trip and were given a rousing welcome by the calthumpians. The bride was formerly Miss Leah Zong.

At a recent meeting of the school board, of Harris township, the teachers were elected for the ensuing year: Miss Marguerita Goheen, principal of the township high school; Miss Ruth Smith, assistant principal; Miss Rosalie McCormac, grammar; Miss Guthrie, primary; Arthur Burwell, Shingletown; John Patterson, Walnut Grove; Prof. G. W. Johnsonbaugh, Linden Hall. All of the teachers are college or normal school graduates except two.

Better Sanitation Needed in Rural Schools.

In the interests of efficiency and health there is increasing necessity for the application of scientific medical and sanitary knowledge to the administration of the public schools, in the opinion of the Public Health Service.

In general, the faults observed in rural schools, the annual report of the Service declares, are due to a lack of skilled advice, especially in regard to the location, construction and equipment of school buildings and disregard of sanitary principles governing water supplies, the disposal of sewage, ventilation, temperature, illumination, and the arrangement of school desks and blackboards. During the past fiscal year surveys have been made in rural districts of several states and many thousand school children have been examined. These examinations have included thorough testing of the eyes by competent oculists, tests of mental capacity, and the effect of sanitary environment on school progress, as well as inspections for the customary physical defects.

The conclusion is reached that there is great need for improvement in rural schools and that communities themselves will benefit if conditions are bettered, the schools serving as object lessons for surrounding sections. Conditions in country districts have been found below those in the cities and it is apparent that organized health work has largely been confined to the latter. Considered from a sanitary standpoint alone the Public Health Service is in favor of the consolidation of rural schools, since it must eventually result in the providing of better buildings and the organization of systems of efficient sanitary inspections.
