LOCALS.

Miss May V. Rhone was home from Harrisburg for a few days.

Mrs. James Herring, of Altoona, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Laura Lee, in this place.

Letters for Elizabeth Moore, N. Guy Snyder and Samuel Coble remained uncolled for in the Centre Hall post office.

John Barnaby Still, a senior of Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., his father's Alma Mater, is spending his vacation at the manse.

Mrs. I. V. Musser and sons, Harold and William, of Millinburg, spent Sunday with Mrs. Musser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Arney took advantage of the Niagara Falls excursion, Saturday evening, to visit their son, Miles Arney, and family, who are located at that place.

Mrs. John G. King attended the graduation exercises at the Curwensville High school, beginning of this week. Her niece, Miss Louise Karstetter, was a member of the graduating class.

Next week being the week of the Glorious Fourth, no paper will be issued from this office, which is in keeping with a custom long in vogue. The office, however, will be open for the transacting of business.

Mrs. D. L. Kerr, a few days ago, returned from a visit to the National Capital, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rearick. Mrs. Rearick, nee Miss Maude Currie, is a niece of Mrs. Kerr. Mr. Rearick is in the employment of the government.

Harry L. Burris, farmer on the Samuel Durt farm at Earlstown, has been unable to do much work for the past week or more owing to sickness. He was threatened with appendicitis, but his physician hopes to bring him around without resorting to an operation.

The youngest Liberty bond holder in Blair county is said to be J. Edmond Crowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Crowell, of Tyrone, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ishler, of Centre Hall. J. Edmond was born at the home of his grandparents just seven weeks prior to the taking of the $50.00 bond for him.

During the greater part of last week automobile traffic through Penns valley was unusually heavy, due in part to the fact that farmers from all parts of the State visited Pennsylvania State College. On Sunday of course there was much travel, the few pennants displayed indicating that the tourists were from distant points.

Representatives from the various Sunday schools in the Centre Hall Luthera church will meet in the Luthera church at this place, Saturday evening, 8:00 o'clock, to make definite arrangements for the annual reunion and picnic of the schools as well as the congregations of the charge. T. M. Gramley is president of the organization.

Ralph E. Bitner, M. E., is home from Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, where he was a full-fledged instructor the past term in the department of physics. Very few men so tender in years as Mr. Bitner can boast of such a multiplicity of college and university training. Besides being a graduate of Penn State, he has taken advanced work at the University of Kentucky, Chicago University and Cornell University. A great future stands before this young man.

DRAWING FOR ARMY TO BE DONE ABOUT JULY 15TH.

Work of Choosing Men Will be Done at Washington.—Local Boards to Have No Hand in Drawing.

Local boards will have nothing to do with the actual drawing when Uncle Sam selects the 625,000 young men who will compose the first conscription army.

The local boards will number serially all registration cards. Duplicate cards bearing the serial numbers will be sent to the Adjutant General's office in each state to prevent any possibility of a number being changed on a card after the drawing has been made.

The Government will begin the greatest "lottery" in history in Washington. The serial numbers for each district will be placed in a wheel and drawn until the requisite number has been taken. The numbers will be telegraphed and later mailed to each local exemption board.

SYSTEM IS SIMPLE.

The same numbers drawn will apply, of course, to each registration district in the United States, so the actual drawing will take a comparatively short time. For example, if No. 14 is among the numbers drawn the person whose card bears the serial number 14 in each district of the several thousand will have been selected for service and will have to present himself for physical examinations and, if he claims for exemption, before the board for a hearing.

As the Provost Marshal General's office will not have the least possible way of knowing who of the thousands of young men happen to hold the various serial numbers in the nearly 5,000 districts, there is no chance whatever for the drawing to be juggled. By centralizing the drawing at Washington the great fear that has been expressed of local favoritism being shown in drawing is done away with. If political influence comes to save some young men from service, it will have to be before the boards or the appeal boards in an open hearing on a claim for exemption.

GOVERNORS INSTRUCTED

Instructions have been mailed out by thousands to the Governors of the various states telling in detail how the local exemption boards shall be organized and giving them full directions in the numbering of the registration cards serially preparatory to the drawing. That will be first work to be done. As soon as it is out of the way, the drawing will be held at Washington, with July 15 as the probable day.

CENTRE COUNTY BOARD.

In Centre county the the members of the draft exemption board will consist of George H. Yarnell, Dr. C. E. McGirk, and D. A. Grove.

The following persons purchased Liberty Loan Bonds through the Penns Valley Banking Company, the sum total being $19,000:

Prisoner Captured.

Allie Hammond, alias William Jennings, the prisoner who escaped from Rockview Tuesday of last week, was captured on Friday evening on the State road leading to Spruce Creek. He was first seen at Pine Grove Mills that morning where he asked for breakfast at the O. P. Bloom home. He then retreated to the mountains and next turned up at the S. Y. Elder home, at the Glades, where he asked for supper. After dark he was seen on the road by J. E. Miller, who was in his car. Miller asked the man to ride and he consented. The prison authorities were in the neighborhood and Miller soon had the prisoner in their hands. He was weak and submitted to arrest without any trouble.

Red Cross Contributions.

A quick canvass was made of Centre Hall and vicinity for Red Cross work, last week, with the result that $163.49 was collected, $111.40 of which was contributed by citizens of the borough proper. It appears from this that a large number of persons are contemplating making their contributions to this noble work through other channels, and the organization of a Red Cross Auxiliary in this place will give all such an opportunity. Reference to this organization appears elsewhere in this issue.

For the same cause, Spring Mills and vicinity contributed $163.35.

A Red Cross auxiliary will be organized at Centre Hall, Tuesday evening, July 3rd. The meeting will be held in the Grange hall, and the work will be fully explained by Mrs. Beach and Mrs. Mitchell, of Bellefonte.

Patriotic Sunday will be observed July 1st in the Presbyterian church in Centre Hall, in the afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock in a joint service by the Sabbath-School and the congregation. Special program. Offering for the Red Cross Relief Fund.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE BY A PRIVATE CITIZEN.

"Thousands of visitors will be sent to France as quickly as possible, Secretary Baker announced.

"The secretary said he was convinced American airmen and airplanes can turn the tide against Germany, and that the Nation's ability to furnish innumerable men and machines for air affords America her supreme opportunity for immediate fighting.

"Secretary Baker's statement interpreted as a virtual administration demand for speedy action by Congress, was sanctioned by the President before it was made public. It says: "The War Department is behind the aircraft plans with every ounce of energy and enthusiasm at its command."

Putting the Ban on Carnivals.

Inland cities are opening their eyes to the evils of carnivals and the ban is being put on them right and left. Altoona has just realized the baneful effect of the carnivals, and the Altoona Tribune sums it up like this: A concerted effort to have carnivals and similar amusements placed under a ban in the city will be made in the near future by Altoona business men and merchants as a result of considerable agitation growing out of many complaints from citizens this week. City officials will be asked by the business men to place the same restrictions as those asked for the itinerant merchants who recently infested the community. Prominent Altoonians declare that carnivals are a community menace and add nothing to the uplift of the city, but rather detract from its morals.

A movement is under way, it was announced the other afternoon, to stamp out the cheap show and carnival evil. Thousands of dollars which rightfully belong to Altoona are taken away by these amusements through their minor gambling devices and in other sinister ways.

Junata borough officials will likely be urged to cooperate with Altoonians in eliminating the carnivals for the remainder of the summer, as the shows can cause nearly as much difficulty for the community if they exhibit just outside city limits as within its confines.

Painter Injured in Fall From Roof.

Orvis Ewing, aged 28 years, of Lehigh, was quite seriously injured Tuesday evening of last week while engaged in painting the residence of James Schrick, at that place. Ewing was rushed to the Bellefonte hospital Tuesday evening. His complete recovery is almost a certainty.
