PLEDGE OF LOYALTY BY THE INDUSTRIES

Convene to Work Out Plans to Assist Government

ACTION AFTER WAR ALSO UP

Control Of Materials and Machinery Is As Necessary To Victory As Mobilization and Training Of Men.

Atlantic City, N. J.-American industries' support of the government in its prosecution of the war was reaffirmed at the opening of the war convention here of American business men, called by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Speaking of a preliminary meeting held by the Chamber's national council, J. W. Fahey, of Boston, honorary vice-president of the organization, declared that the country's business men, after helping win the war, will "so organize as that never again shall a group of murderers form a government to threaten the progress and liberty of the nation.

"This fundamentally is a struggle of nations in which control of materials and machinery are as necessary to victory as the mobilization and training of men," said Mr. Fahey, who added:

"This tremendous enterprise is especially a concern of business and it is the task of American industry to answer the call which the world and humanity makes upon it. Behind the national council are more than half a million business men, corporations and firms. This chamber has at its disposal offices, equipment, machinery and capital. No similar machinery to equal it is available to any other nation involved in the war, and we are indeed negligent of our duty and responsibility if we do not utilize it up to the utmost. American business has heard the call, and never before have men of business responded with greater devotion, energy and sacrifice than those of our country."

Plans for assisting the government and state defense councils with coal and food conservation problems, it was announced, will be worked out by the chamber soon. A discussion of these topics developed the general opinion that the coal shortage is due to inadequate transportation facilities. Some speakers predicted coal famines in parts of the country this winter if the subject is not dealt with wisely.

Plans For Army and Industrial Mobilization.

Madrid.-At a cabinet meeting it was decided to create two new regiments of field artillery, seven battalions of garrison artillery and seven battalions of heavy artillery. It was decided also to appoint a special committee to draft a plan of industrial mobilization from a military point of view. Eduardo Dato, the premier, explained that these reforms were not undertaken in any militaristic spirit.

POOR BOMB THROWERS

Training of Professional Baseball Players Is Wrong.

Lieutenant Elliott of Australian Army Expresses Himself After Morning's Practice With Cleveland Indians.

"I hate to discourage you, but your rofessional baseball players will make bloomin' poor bombardiers, unless they go through a lot of training," is the way Lieut. Lester Elliott of the Australian army expresses the situation. following a morning's exercise with the Cleveland Indians.

"I've been told that American baseball players expect to raise havoc against the Germans because of their training in baseball, but that training is all wrong.

"One of the training stunts for the soldiers in the intensive camps in France requires that the bombers shall throw almost without a rest for two hours. When you consider that each bomb weighs from 71/2 to 91/2 pounds, ráther heavier than the American baseball, you will see the difficulty facing Americans who throw their baseball with a snap and overhand.

"The best motion for bomb throwing is a sort of half-bowling motion, as used in English cricket. Seldom do the throwers see their target. An observer, looking through a periscope, keeps them informed of their luck in dropping the deadly bombs into the enemy's trench. The throwers have merely to keep the storm of bombs going over their own parapet and into the enemy's trench.

"After looking at the baseball players tossing their light baseball around, I am convinced that not one will be able to throw a bomb 20 feet. If they insist on this baseball motion, they will throw their arms away.

"However, every player with whom talked appeared interested and most intelligent. I have no doubt at all but that the players will soon pick up the new motion and be quite as effective as any other force on the firing line."

An Illuminating Postcard. A young girl of plebeian ancestry achieved fame as an actress in London. Feeling the necessity, however, of a rest from her labors, she wrote to her uncle, a police sergeant of a country village, asking him if she might come and stay with him to recuperate. She ended her note: "Please send a P. C. to say if I may come."

A few days later her landlady rushed upstairs with an awesstricken countenance-a policeman wanted her! The girl descended with an ominous feeling at her heart, says London Tit-Bits. "If you please, miss," said the stolid being who confronted her, eyeing her with stern disapproval, "I'm the P. C. what you asked your uncle to send, but I may as well tell you straight away as I'm a respectable married man.
