Musser, in Petriken Hall, High street, Bellefonte. Dr. Maloy has bought the office from Dr. Musser and will conduct it in the future. All work is guaranteed to give complete satisfaction. Give him a call. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William Wagner, all of Reading, were an auto party who stopped off at Centre Hall on Saturday night, continuing their journey next day through this part of the state. The Wagners have relatives in this section. Mr. Hill is the owner of eight farms in Berks county and made the tour for the purpose of gathering what good pointers he could from the Penna Valley agriculturists.

Harry W. Potter, a son of J. T. Potter, of this place, who has been employed on extensive lumber operations at Edinboro, Washington, for a number of years, has virtually been tendered a lieutenantcy in the U. S. forestry service of the new army in France. When the chiefs at Washington asked Mr. Potter's boss to recommend one of his men for the position, Mr. Potter's name was sent in, believing him to be amply qualified for the task. Following the formal acceptance at Washington, Mr. Potter will be required to pass the necessary physical examination before leaving for across the sea. Foresters are needed at once in France to take out timber for bridge and trench construction, for making railroad ties, and the like.

Fred, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Luse, on the Huyett farm, west of town, met with a painful accident on last Wednesday, resulting in the mashing of the left foot. The youngster had gone along with his father to the field where the men were engaged in hauling in the second crop of hay. The lad was following the wagon as it was being loaded and in a moment when his attention was drawn in another direction his foot was caught under the front wheel of the wagon. Before the team could be brought to a stop the rear wheel caught the lad and passed over him at the hips. The soft earth is all that prevented a fracture of bones in the leg. While the foot was badly mashed, no bones were found broken by the attending physician, and the little fellow is already hopping around without the aid of crutches.

If An Owl Could Speak.

one of his wise pieces of advice would be: "Put your spare money into some good savings bank, where it will draw compound interest and be a source of profit to you." This bank fulfills these conditions. Here your funds will be safe as though in the United States Treasury and every six months you will get dividends at the rate of 3 per cent interest per annum. Any time you want to draw out your money, you can do so. Your investigation of our facilities and management is courted.
