Potato Days are Here.

It is the time when the consumer is laying in a stock of potatoes for the winter—and eating them. It is a time when the aroma of "hash-brown" potatoes and the delicate flavor of the baked potato fill the land. It is the time when the potato is taking its place as a substitute for bread and other foods needed for export to our allies.

The farmer is receiving a fair price for his crop and the Food Department of the Committee of Public Safety is urging the producer to at once take advantage of the demand by selling at least fifty per cent. of his stock.

From now until December 1st the farmer ought to sell a part of his crop for the housewife is seeking to fill the bin with potatoes and there should be a constant stream of Pennsylvania potatoes going into Pennsylvania homes.

This State has raised more than 25,000,000 bushels on the farms alone, not to speak of the many more produced in war gardens. Considering this big output, there is every reason why the farmers should take advantage of present prices and at the same time render a patriotic service.

A shortage in cars has delayed the movement of western potatoes but this will be overcome by Federal action and it is likely that Colorado, Idaho and Montana potatoes will shortly be on their way East. In addition to the local crop now coming on the Pennsylvania market, potatoes from New York, Ohio and Michigan are now arriving.

There are plenty of potatoes—there are plenty of months watering for them.

LUTHERAN CHURCH AT AARONSBURG TO BE RE-DEDICATED.

Sunday, November 4th, Time Set for Re-dedication.—Prominent Lutherans to preach sermons.

On Sunday, November 4th, in the morning at 10:30 and in the evening at 7:00 o'clock, the formal re-opening and re-dedication of Salem Evangelical Lutheran church at Aaronsburg, will take place. The Rev. Frederick G. Gotwald, D. D., of York, editor of the Lutheran Church Work and Observer, and a member of the Board of Education, will preach the morning sermon. The theme will be on the church, appropriate to the occasion and the 40th anniversary of the Reformation. Dr. Gotwald's grandfather was pastor on the charge and lies buried in the Lutheran cemetery at Aaronsburg, and Aaronsburg is the birthplace of Dr. Gotwald.

The Rev. A. Stewart Hartman, D. D., of Baltimore, Md., Secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the General Synod Lutheran Church of America for 25 years, will take charge of the finances for the day, assisted by Dr. Gotwald, and will preach the re-dedication sermon in the evening. The pastor, Rev. M. D. Geesey, will perform the act of re-dedication. Sunday, November 4th, is Go-to-Sunday-School Sunday. We hope, invite, and urge that everybody will be found in the Sunday-School. In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Paul, Dr. Gotwald and Hartman will give short addresses. At no time could there be a more suitable occasion for a re-opening of a church, this being the 40th anniversary of the Reformation. Let it be to all Lutherans a day of feasting on good things and the occasion for larger Lutheranism in the Aaronsburg parochial. All the denominations of the town, the vicinity, and the general public are cordially invited to be present at all these services.

Fatal Auto Accident.

A girl was killed, and her father and sister were fatally injured on Saturday morning when a Pennsylvania Railroad engine struck the auto in which they were riding at a grade crossing in Williamsburg, near the passenger station.

The dead: Lena Simons, 18.

Oscar Simons, 45, owner and driver of the car. Taken to the Blair Memorial Hospital, Huntingdon, in a dying condition. Fay Simons, 17, skull fractured and left leg crushed. Taken to the Blair hospital. Both died the same day.

All are of Williamsburg. Simons, employed by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company mill at Williamsburg, started out with his two daughters for a ride. At the station he waited for a freight to pass. He then started his car across the tracks, failing to see an eastbound engine with a cabin attached coming.

The auto was struck and dragged 150 feet. The occupants were hurled out along the track. Lena Simons was dead when picked up.

The crossing is protected by a bell that rings when a train is approaching, but, as it also rings for some time after a train has passed, it did not serve to prevent the fatality.

The Centre Hall Auxiliary of the Red Cross have arranged to meet every Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Smith. The work at present is plain sewing.
