J. B. Harshbarger and son, of Stone Mill section, were in town on Monday and stopped with the Reporter long enough to have the Harshbarger name recorded on the subscription list. Mr. Harshbarger is tenant on the old Runkle farm, owned by George Harter. He is unusually well equipped for farming, having two grown sons who are willing to stay by him.

The collapse of a step ladder on which D. J. Meyer was standing, resulted in his striking his hand against a grass sickle and cutting several gashes into his fingers. For a few days the wound was looked upon as dangerous, but after antitoxin was administered by Dr. Longwell, Mr. Meyer's condition improved so much that he has since been able to be about. The accident occurred Wednesday of last week.

The Russian symphony orchestra, booked for Saturday evening, December 15th, is the first attraction on the Pennsylvania State College Y. M. C. A. lyceum course. This wonderful musical organization is filling a return engagement at State College, which speaks for its success. There are 6 other numbers to be offered on the course. The price of a general admission ticket for the season is $1.50, with the reserve season ticket at $3.00.

The first wild turkeys to be brought to town this season were killed on Monday by C. M. Arney and "Ted" Bailey. The former killed his bird in the morning, while the latter brought his down in the evening after having been in the woods scarcely five minutes. The "turks" are supposed to have been a part of the flock which was scattered on the other side of the mountain last week, since both birds were alone, which is contrary to their nature.

Karstetter saw five turkeys in the road ahead and having no gun, he jumped from the wagon, got a club and hit the largest one before it flew away. A shot from a hunter's gun had broken one of the turkey's legs.

That Sweater Lie.

It is the German sympathizer that is industriously peddling about that sweater lie. The lie is to the effect that someone knit a sweater, sent it to Red Cross headquarters to be sent to a particular soldier—a son or a brother—and in the sweater was secreted a piece of money in coin or paper. Later the sweater was found on the person of some one else than it was intended for, the identity being proven by digging out the money. The story varies to suit. The object is the same, and is to discourage the making and sending of soldiers' and sailors' comforts.

In whatever form this story appears, it is a lie. It is peddled about villages, country and city by the pro-German who endeavors to influence loyal citizens against our country and our cause.

Get right after those who are circulating this and similar lies, and tell them of it. If they persist in their disloyal work, report them to an officer.

"No Man's Land."

"No Man's Land" is the space between the trenches over which attacking troops must go. It is swept constantly by the breath of death. To set foot upon it is to stake all upon the fortune of the moment.

The men whose daily and nightly outlook upon this fire-torn "No Man's Land" are there in order to make their home countries safe as "Every Man's Land." Are you working to back up and sustain their efforts? Get a place for yourself in the ranks of the workers!

Women of Pennsylvania, have you seen it?—the shadow that dims the sun.

Listen? The air seems vibrant as if stirred by distant thunder.

A tempest is upon us—a storm worse than any America has known, and its danger signals are far-fung.

The storm has crept in from Transatlantic shores. The air, too, was surcharged there—made vibrant by the gun-peals of human hate. Take heed! There is a warning for you in these far-fung signals. If you have not read it, read now.

War—merciless war—has been unleashed to wreak its fury upon you and yours.

The extent to which that fury will ravage America depends very largely upon the part the women of America decide to take in the war.

If you and every other woman capable of giving some useful service will promptly give that service so that America may strike with crushing effect, then the dread of what the war will bring need not be all upon this side of the Atlantic.

Therefore, it remains for you—the women of Pennsylvania and of the nation—to make a momentous decision. Will you stand back now, supinely claiming exemption from unusual effort upon the plea of sex?

Or will you come forward to work in some useful capacity that will give the fighting men of your country the support they need to win the war?

That is what is being asked of you and of every other woman of working age in Pennsylvania. Your decision will mean much to your state and to your country. It may mean even more to you.

Remember: The worst trials that defeat brings to a conquered people invariably are the horrors experienced by its women. Keep stricken Belgium and outraged France before you—then decide that you will do your utmost to make defeat impossible for America.

Every Woman Needed.

If you have any doubt about the help of every woman being needed now consider these facts:

One million men in Pennsylvania alone have been holding themselves subject to a call to the colors since Registration day, June 5, last. One hundred thousand recruits—the pick of the state's manhood—have already been taken from productive employment for army and navy service. Additional thousands are being drafted with machine-like precision. Still more thousands have been drafted from ordinary into war employments.

Every man called leaves another gap in the army of production. Every man drawn means, also, that four new workers must be found to produce the things that will give him fighting efficiency.

With industry losing its workmen and, on the other hand, being required to produce a greater output than ever it is apparent that new labor sources must be tapped or disaster may result.

DEATHS.

Miss Tamma Kleckner died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Kleckner, at Mill Hall, on Tuesday afternoon, after a lengthy illness. She was born at Woodward forty-one years ago. The body was taken to Millheim where burial will be made on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Frank Royer, of Millheim, is a sister of the deceased.

Frank Alfred Wendi, the Blair county murderer, is sentenced to die in the electric chair at Rockview next week. He was found guilty of killing Constable Michael McGinley, of Altoona.

Glass caskets are something new and the manufactory is to be established at Altoona.

Only twenty-six days until Christmas. Do your shopping early.

MILK 8 CENTS QUART.

Beginning December 1st, milk will be advanced in price from 7 to 8 cents per quart.—D. F. Smith, Centre Hall.

You women who have never been required to earn your living—and there are some hundreds of thousands of you—constitute the most important undeveloped labor reserve in Pennsylvania.

If you will from patriotic inspiration accept some useful work, even though you do not need to earn money, you will help amazingly to solve a labor crisis which, with the country at war, ranks as a positive menace.

How to Find Work.

To assist you in finding the job you are willing to fill as a patriotic duty—to train you for the job if necessary—a registration of women is now being conducted under State and Federal supervision.

The Pennsylvania Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense and the Civilian Service Department of the Pennsylvania Committee of Public Safety have it in charge.

It is a registration that is determining the complete "woman-power" of the state. It is showing with exactness the total number of women, trained and untrained, of working age and it is classifying them according to their capacity for work. The purpose is to inform the government—the United States Department of Labor—of how far it may rely upon women's energy as a productive resource.

Even the women who are unable to take regular positions, but who can accept work at home are being listed. The plan has the support of President Wilson and is commended by Governor Brumbaugh, who, by official proclamation, fixed November 1 and 2 as special registration days.

In conducting the registration, no interference with existing labor situations or with useful industries is permitted. While workers as well as non-workers are being listed, trained workers are not being solicited to change employers or employment. In fact, established industries will be assisted. Part of the plan is to place new workers at jobs in their home sections and thus encourage and speed up useful, established production.

Signing-Up is Easy.

Registration, too, has been made easy. Every organized group of women in the State is taking names. County Committees of Public Safety, Federated Clubs, Suffrage Associations and Women's Christian Temperance Unions anywhere will sign you up.

And now that you have learned of the dire need of women's service in this world crisis, it is for you—the women of the state—to make your registration a roll of honor for Pennsylvania.

With the future of all civilization, with human liberty itself in imminent peril the call from the "Front" is for "workers, more workers, and still more workers."

Work will win the war. Let the women of Pennsylvania by their actions say, "WE WILL NOT SHIRK."

Day Light Hunting Only.

It might be well to investigate, for the benefit of some hunters who seem to be ignorant of the fact, that gunning for small game such as birds, squirrels, pheasants, etc., is limited entirely to the hours between sunrise and sunset. The wardens further declare that this procedure is to be followed all through the hunting season and applies with equal force to deer, bear and other animals classed as big game.

A Tough Job.

If you would win the plaudits of the world, do you not become a country editor. The more you labor for up-lifting things, the more will your motives be questioned. If you take a hand in local or general politics, you have been bought, with a price. If you do not, you are condemned as a mollycoddle, afraid to express an opinion. If you advocate public improvements, your motives are questioned every time and you are accused of having axes to grind. If you stand for law and order, you are charged with truckling to women and the churches. If you take a stand for temperance, you are denounced as a fanatic and crank. If you condemn mail order houses, you are told to mind your own business and that people have a right to buy where they please. If you print mail order advertisements the merchants jump on you. If you try to discuss fairly the service of public utility corporations, you are condemned as being under their control. In fact, whatever you may do your integrity is liable to be brought in question. If you are a candidate for office, it gives the readers real pleasure to add you to the defeated list. Yet if you continue an upright, and proper course for a great many years people will at last give you a little credit, but your virtues will never be fully acknowledged until after you are dead. Then comes an admission that you were a progressive and useful citizen, an up holder in the right—"Jeff", in the Lewistown Sentinel.
