

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

No school next week.
 W. C. T. U. Saturday evening, September 21, at the home of Mrs. S. W. Smith. Please notice change in time.
 Rev. Josiah Still, who figured in an auto accident ten days ago, is improving nicely and will soon be about again.
 Fred Carter has improved his home surroundings by adding a substantial concrete walk to the front of his residence.

The War Department warns dentists not to extract teeth for registrants so as to render them eligible to physical disqualification.

Saturday is the opening day of the Encampment and Fair. Many tents will have occupied their homes-for-a-week by that time. Motion pictures will be shown in the auditorium in the evening.

Miss Bernice Swartz, of Tusseyville, is caring for her little niece, Frances Swartz, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Knarr, during the mother's stay at the Bellefonte hospital where she underwent an operation.

The International tractor is finding favor with farmers about Centre Hall, Samuel Durst having purchased one of these modern powers. The tractor referred to is an 8-16 four cylinder and was sold by the local agent, D. W. Bradford.

Miss Ruth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Smith, this week takes charge of the Boalsburg High school. Last year she was assistant to the principal and the good work she performed earned her the promotion to the principalship.

The biggest string of cars seen on Sunday was a dozen Chevrolets that went by way of Old Fort and Tusseyville. The drivers appeared travel-worn and no doubt were taking the cars to a dealer after having traveled several hundred miles.

Two five weeks old calves were purchased by butcher J. E. Dauberman from Harry C. Reish, at Old Fort, this week, for the remarkable figure of $54.70. Do you wonder why your choice cut of steak costs you so much at the butcher's?

Almost two hundred books have been sent to the various soldier camps by Mrs. John H. Weber, of Centre Hall. In one or more instances, soldiers have written to Mrs. Weber expressing their appreciation of her thoughtfulness and generosity.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Auman, of Johnstown, are guests of Mr. Auman's sister, Mrs. W. H. Blauser, at Potters Mills. Mr. Auman for fifteen years or more was employed in the Cambria Steel Works, but is now in the collecting business.

James Sweetwood, who spent the summer months with the Redpath Chautauqua Association on their tour through the New England states and part of Canada, returned to his home on Friday and on Tuesday departed for Bloomsburg where he will enter the Normal as a freshman. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Ida Sweetwood, who begins her senior year in the same school.

Messrs. Boyd Jordan and Bruce Horner, both of Tusseyville, on Monday morning went to Williamsport to enlist in the Navy. Through the local postmaster assurance was secured from the recruiting officer that while they would not be accepted at once, they would be put on the waiting list, providing they successfully passed the examination. The young men, although only eighteen years old, were very much displaced to find themselves two of five in a class of eight to be rejected.

The Philadelphia Press, in its Saturday issue, printed a picture of a former Centre Hall youth together with an illustration of the West Collinswood (New Jersey) Presbyterian manse and $30,000 church, which was dedicated on Sunday. The youth referred to was Rev. I. Sturges Shultz, who is the pastor of the West Collinswood church. The congregation was organized but three years ago, by Rev. J. N. McDowell, then pastor. Rev. Shultz, a brother of Rev. James A. Shultz, pastor of the Centre Hall United Evangelical church.

Miss Lillian Emery is of the opinion that a "tin Lizz" is far from being as obedient to the demands to cease cutting capers as the average boy in a mixed school of the rural type. This truth she discovered on Monday evening after having finished a day's teaching at Earlstown. At Old Fort, A. M. Riegel, the stock buyer, offered Miss Emery the use of his Ford roadster, instead of walking the mile to her home. Now Miss Emery had often ridden in a Ford and had as often watched a certain young man operate the clutch and brake pedals, and from this experience gained the confidence to tackle a "Henry" alone. All went well in the mile's travel until the diamond was reached and an on-coming car caused her to make a turn. The arc described was bigger than was intended, with the result that the Ford was soon caving on the Lutheran church lawn. The pretty school teacher attempted to direct the critter in a straight course, but its mind was set in circles, arcs and parabolas, and after cutting a set of dikes, butted its nose into the front porch of the residence of Banker D. K. Keller. The Ford wasn't hurt, and Miss Emery much less. She is now more convinced than ever that "a straight line is the shortest distance between two points."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The Condo shops, at Penn Hall, have been leased by F. M. Ackerman, a painter of large experience, who is prepared to repaint vehicles of all kinds and will give special attention to repainting automobiles. Prompt attention will be given to all work.

An Italian of Lewistown stabbed a Russian between the ribs with a stiletto, on the streets of Lewistown on Saturday evening, when the latter attempted to flirt with the former's girl, Ray Collier, of Yeagertown. While suffering a bad wound, the Russian will recover.

Mrs. Harry Bibbighouse, of Millinburg, is spending her vacation at Centre Hall, and will remain here over the Grange Encampment and Fair. Mrs. Bibbighouse will be kindly recalled by many residents in Centre Hall, she having accompanied her husband, a salesman, now deceased, on many trips through Penns Valley.

The Lewistown Sentinel, in its Monday issue, published a "slacker list" of those who failed to heed the government's request to refrain from Sunday pleasure riding and thus save gas. Where possible the names were given and in all instances the licence numbers were printed. The list included several State College parties.

On receiving detailed information of the wounding of her husband, Lieut. William E. Park, while serving on the western front in France, a brief account of which appears elsewhere in this issue, Mrs. Park became so impressed with the need of aid to the men battling for the good of all the world, that she wrote her father, Capt. G. M. Boal, from her New Milford home, that she contemplated making application to become a nurse.

Rev. J. W. Long, pastor of the State College Methodist church, and Rev. W. H. Williams, pastor of the Penns Valley Methodist church, made a tour of the county last week in publicity work for the Sunday School Institute of the Methodist church, which will be held in the Eighth Avenue Church at Altoona on the 19th and 20th of this month. They are chairmen of the Centre county group, composed of twenty-eight Sunday schools.

PINE GROVE MILLS.

Silo filling is in order.
 Farmer J. H. Bailey is walking on crutches owing to an injury of the knee. While hauling in oats he received a thrust from a fork.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Harpster and son Elwood went to Tyrone Friday to see the boys off to Camp Greenleaf, Georgia.

From present indications there will be a large attendance from this section at the Grange Encampment and Fair at Centre Hall, next week.

William Jacobs, a Civil war veteran who was a prisoner in Andersonville for over a year, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday at his home in the Glades, on Monday, receiving congratulations.

The next big event will be the Chautauqua, to be held in this town from October 1st to 3rd, when everybody should be ready to spend three days of a successful season. The program this year will be one of the best a community could desire.

The Red Cross festival was a big success, the treasury being enriched to the extent of $200.00. Dr. R. M. Krebs was master of ceremonies and Rev. W. P. Ard, and Rev. L. V. Barber made stirring addresses. The Citizens band furnished the music.

The venerable John Mattern, one of the substantial citizens of Spruce Creek valley, last week sold his home and departed for Washington, D. C., where he expects to remain with his son who is engaged in educational work in that city.

A farewell supper party was given Miss Mildred Campbell, Friday evening, at the parental home at Fairbrook. The young lady had been decoyed from home in the early evening and on her return found the house filled with the younger set who assembled to greet her before her departure for the Indiana Normal. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Campbell and is a splendid young lady.

Chairman Walker at Grange Park.

Arrangements have been completed where W. S. S. headquarters will be maintained at Grangers picnic, beginning Saturday, September 14th. Your chairman will be present every day. The picnic association will pay all premiums, prizes, etc., in W. S. S. Stamps will also be sold during the entire week. Every person visiting the picnic is cordially invited to the W. S. S. headquarters; meet your friends there.

Centre county has eighty-eight limit holders of W. S. S. There may be additional names that I do not have, but when the list reaches one hundred, the publication of those I do not have will be made. All limit holders visiting the picnic grounds should call at headquarters and register. I also desire the personal registration of every district chairman, postmaster and authorized agent.

Let me appeal to the good people of Centre county to enlist their very best effort and lend their influence in selling W. S. S. Purchase for yourself and family these government securities. Let us all do our best. Let us go "over the top". Make the week September 16th a banner week in W. S. S. campaign for Centre county.

Very truly yours,
 W. HARRISON WALKER,
 Chairman War Savings Committee, for Centre County.

Mason's Jubilee Singers.

It's not too soon to begin thinking of the coming season of entertainment and profit as derived from the Centre Hall Lecture Course. The first number appears Saturday evening, November 16th, and comes here under the title of Mason's Jubilee Singers. It promises to be a concert of a different character from the usual "Jubilee" numbers and well worth the cost of whole season ticket. Engage your seats now of Rev. J. A. Shultz. Remember that there will be no single admission tickets, sold on the night of the concert.

FARMERS: FERTILIZE YOUR WHEAT

This Fall, And Do It Liberally.

Don't think the price is too high. The price at present on fertilizer is not as high in proportion as before the war.

It takes Less Wheat to Buy a Ton of Fertilizer Today than it did Before the War.

A FACT! Before the war it took more bushels of wheat to buy a ton of fertilizer than it takes today to buy a ton of the same quality of fertilizer.

I have a liberal stock on hand. Order early before the supply is exhausted.

Phone your order and the goods will be held until you want to use it.
