This paper has enlisted with the government in the cause of America for the period of the war

The Fourth Loan is the Fighting Loan.

As the campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan approaches the American Army in France moves on toward Berlin. Under our own leaders the great American Army has won a notable victory.

The Fourth Loan must be a great success. The Fourth Liberty Loan is a fighting loan.

When our soldiers on the battle front are braving death, each one offering to make the supreme sacrifice for his country and the great cause, we who remain safely at home surely should give them every support, should make every sacrifice to strengthen them. If we cannot fight ourselves we can make our dollars fight.

It is a great cause for which America is engaged in this war; it is a great struggle in which the very hope of the world is bound up that is being waged in Europe and on the high seas. It is an honor to have a part in it and all Americans, all their lives, will be proud of the part they had in it or ashamed of their failure to do their part.

The Fourth Loan is a fighting loan. Every subscriber to the Loan strikes a blow for Liberty, for victory.

Hush little thrift stamp,
Don't you cry;
You'll be a war bond
By and by.

Every spendthrift adds to the war's length.

Every time a German submarine sinks a ship, so much product of labor and material is wasted. Every time you buy anything not needed, so much product of labor and material is wasted.

Do not expect our men to die for you if you are not worth living for. Show our Army and Navy that you are worthy of protection. Save to the utmost of your ability and buy W. S. S. with your savings.

Down around Lansdown it is a dangerous matter to go to church on Sunday, driving a Liz. E. Wager-Smith, who turns the ends of his mustache upwards, tried it on Sunday and it made an awful mess. Tomatoes, paint, etc., found their way to the car; the gasoline ran out and water into the gas tank. And with all this the man had two sons in the service. It is just a lesson that you can't parade on your sons' patriotism.

Penn State Campus to be Huge Army Reservation.

A great military reservation was established at the Pennsylvania State College when the institution re-opened on Wednesday. Many old educational ideas will be shelved for the duration of the war, dormitories and fraternity houses will become barracks, and the free-and-easy conduct of the students will be changed into strict military discipline.

All this will come about because the War Department has established at Penn State a branch of the students' army training corps. It will mean that in Centre county one of the largest bodies of soldiers gathered in any part of the State will spend the coming winter, preparing for early service in the nation's fighting forces.

In addition to the 2000 students who will join the S. A. T. C., there will be more than 1000 soldiers at the College for special instruction in airplane and motor truck mechanics.

THE DEATH RECORD.

MURRAY.—Hon. Abner Murray, a prominent citizen of Centre county, passed away at his home in Boalsburg on Saturday afternoon as a result of hardening of the arteries. Last May he attained his eightieth birthday and despite his great age possessed remarkable vitality and attended to the duties of the office of Justice of the Peace of Harris township, which he held for many years.

The 1918 Christmas.

The great merchants of the United States, the National Government and the National Chamber of Commerce have united to make the forthcoming Christmas unique.

It has already been announced that the Government insists that no presents—barring toys for children—be given, except useful ones. In an order just issued by the Council of National Defense this request is emphasized very strongly.

The large merchants all over the country have agreed to co-operate with the Government in printing advertisements which will urge people to do their shopping early and at the same time urge them to eliminate all buying of useless presents.

It is proposed that no Christmas gifts shall be mailed or expressed after December 5th. A number of States have already adopted that rule. The Council of National Defense expressly says that toys for children are not to be interfered with.

All the merchants have agreed not to increase their working hours nor their force of working people during the Christmas season, which means that the public, in order to do their shopping with any degree of comfort, must begin very early.

At Garman's Opera House.

One of the strongest pleas for the innocent child born out of wedlock and sympathy for the unfortunate mother is incorporated in the four act drama "The Unmarried Mother", which plays at Garman's opera house matinee and night, Saturday, September 28.

This play which has caused country wide agitation both for and against its stage presentation was written by Florence Edna May.

During the engagement of this powerful play, the matinee will be given for ladies only and while ladies and gentlemen are admitted evenings at no performance will those under sixteen years of age be admitted.

Prices: Night, 25, 35, 50, 75, $1.00. Matinee, 25 and 50c.
