

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

It is after the election now, and "we beat".
J. Will Conley, of Bellefonte, visited his mother, Mrs. Kate Conley, on Sunday.

The warm weather during almost all of October helped out on the coal supply.

W. S. Krise, of Johnstown, visited his father, Prof. W. A. Krise, beginning of the week.

W. F. Colyer is finishing the rebuilding of his silo which was torn down by the storm last spring.

Miss May V. Rhone, of Harrisburg, is visiting her sister, Miss Florence S. Rhone, in this place.

E. S. Ripka and family expect to motor to Franklin county to-day (Thursday) for a visit among relatives.

Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk and daughter Sarah spent Sunday with the former's uncle, Jacob Meyer, at Boalsburg.

Miss Isabel Rowe spent several days last week at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Levi Stump, near Millheim.

Cleveland Cooney, of McKees Rock, is spending a short time at the Mrs. Rebecca Murray home, where Mrs. Cooney has been since her marriage.

R. D. Musser, of Spring Mills, favored this office with a call last Friday. He reported the doctors in his section busy treating influenza cases.

Keep in mind the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call. Between now and Christmas every man and woman in the country is expected to become a member.

Shannon Booser, who was confined to the house for a week on account of the flu, has fully recovered and is out again. Clymer McClenahan is another convalescent.

J. M. Clinton, Y. M. C. A. overseas secretary, will address a mass meeting in Bellefonte in the Court house, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at which every body is urged to be present.

Once more—do your bit in the United War Work campaign, which opens next Monday, and give to aid the seven grand organizations in making life for the boys on the other side seem a little like it does at home.

No, dear reader, we didn't make a mistake in sending you only four pages of the Reporter this week. We must save fifteen per cent. in paper, your and our government says, and this is the best way we see to do it, at the present time.

Local hunters didn't find Bre'r Rabbit in his usual roosting places on the first day of the season and consequently there were no big successes. The best luck was met with by H. J. Lambert and son Earl who shot ten bunnies, with the aid of a good dog.

One day last week the families of J. Elmer Royer, A. W. Alexander and Harry E. Eye, motored in their cars to the camp of the Yankee Run In-Coming Club, five miles below Woodward, where they met the family of Rev. B. F. Bieber and enjoyed the day in picnic style.

Centre Hall took on a funeral appearance Saturday evening, due to the closing of all the business places in the town at six o'clock, by order of the Board of Health. It was the first experience of the kind in the history of the town, and, judging by the comment, no citizen wants to see it again in his lifetime.

Deserters from the military and naval service and men absent without leave have been comparatively few, considering the magnitude of the new American Army and Navy. The government is determined that there will be no "easing up" of punishment accorded to the few men who have voluntarily placed themselves on the "missing" list.

Mrs. J. G. King sent the ambulance robe and knee robes she has been so industriously knitting from yarn contributed by many friends to Pittsburgh, to a home for convalescent soldiers which has been fitted up with seventy beds and all comforts—baths, kitchen, libraries, etc. She kindly extends thanks to all contributors who thus made it possible to give warmth and pleasure to our brave soldier boys.

Dr. L. M. Weaver, daughter, Gertrude Flora, and son, George, of Philadelphia, were guests of the former's cousin, Mrs. Flora O. Bairfoot, the latter part of last week. The trip was made in an automobile. Dr. Weaver having brought to Selingsgrove two of his daughters—Misses Charlotte and Marion—who are students there. Miss Gertrude, who when a little girl spent much of her time at the home of Mrs. Bairfoot, is now a graduate dentist, having graduated from one of the prominent institutions in Philadelphia.

"Bob" Campbell, the capable manager and proprietor of the Penns Cave House and famous subterranean cavern, seems to be the champion hog grower in this locality. He is meeting with great success in raising the hardy Duroc hogs, red in color. While trespassing on "Bob's" premises on the first day of the rabbit season, the writer was attracted by the sound of a "satisfied grunt" which comes from a well-fed porker, and then there counted no less than seventy-five fine specimens of hogs in an outside pen and we don't know how many others there were on the inside of the big shed. The curl in their tails took on the shape of the dollar mark and "Bob" will see some big figures added after it upon disposing of the bunch.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

For Sale.—Ford truck, 1 1/4 ton capacity.—William McClenahan, Centre Hall.

500 or more bushels well-matured corn for sale.—S. W. Smith, Centre Hall, Pa.

John-Ruble was home from Altoona on Saturday to put in a day's gunning after the cottontails.

Ice cream and oysters on sale, on Saturday evening, at the parlor of Wm. McClenahan, Centre Hall.

Supt. D. O. Eters has issued a statement that the Teachers' County Institute will not be held this year.

After a closed period of four weeks duration, the schools will reopen in Centre Hall Monday morning.

Mrs. Boyd E. Potter is in a serious condition, suffering from influenza. Her recovery is doubtful.

Samuel H. Horner, tenant on the Boddorf farm, near Colyer, was a caller at this office on Tuesday and boosted his subscription into the year 1920.

Mrs. Rebecca Murray will hold public sale of a complete line of household goods, at her residence in Centre Hall, on Saturday, November 23rd, 12:30 o'clock.

Meetings of the students of The Pennsylvania State College were held in many of the barracks at that institution on Sunday and so great was the response to the appeal for funds for the United War Work that $22,400 were subscribed. A good start had previously been made by the leaders of the movement themselves who had subscribed $1800 before they presented the matter to the students at all. Twelve speakers were at the College, among them several workers who have seen over seas service.

Pennsylvania's automobile license tags will not only have a color scheme which will be materially different from that of former years, but will be changed in style, so that such practices as painting old tags with the colors of the current year, which had been reported from time to time will be impotent to deceive. New tags are arriving at the state highway department by the thousands. They have the name of the state and the figure of the year with the soft metal Keystone for the manufacturer's number on the opposite side from those which have been in use in the last few years.

From Barberton, Ohio.

Editor Reporter:
Barberton has been having the "flu" along with the rest of the world. To date there have been 686 cases, 54 deaths. Churches have been equipped for hospitals; $5000.00 has been appropriated by the city for combating the disease that has taken mostly fathers, mothers and children. A family of six were in one hospital; the father has already died.

Speaking of Liberty Bonds, Barberton always goes "over the top" in her sales. In fact, we never back down in anything we undertake.

With best wishes for all I remain,
Respectfully,
Mrs. T. F. Brooks,
673 Wunderlick Ave.,
Barberton, Ohio.

"Conscientious Objectors".

Uncle Sam is finding useful non-military duties for "conscientious objectors". They are not being allowed to evade essential service simply because their "conscience" will not permit them to take part in civilization's fight for existence.

In the early future, detachments of "conscientious objectors" will in all likelihood find themselves in France, to engage in necessary agriculture and reconstruction work.

The War Department's policy, as outlined to the Pennsylvania Council of National Defense, gives those "objectors" an opportunity to prove their sincerity. If within draft age, they are sent to cantonments the same as other draftees, and then given hearings. Pending a determination of the various cases, they are segregated as a special detachment in each camp, under control of a military officer, subject to the same training as soldiers, except that no military duties are required. At Camp Sherman, for example, the "conscientious objectors" detachment has hauled fertilizers and fed hogs on large adjoining farms.

"Objectors" adjudged insincere by the Board of Inquiry are placed in the regular military service. If they refuse to give such service, they are given disciplinary treatment which amounts to prison sentence.

An effort is made to change the views of the sincere "objectors". Should they continue in their "objections" they are placed at service where their labor will most effectively assist the country's military effort.

Civilian wages are paid, but "objectors" receive only $31. a month, soldiers' pay, the balance being donated to the Red Cross.

In Westmoreland county where experiments were tried with spring wheat, some yields of 32 bushels to an acre and farmers report it the finest new thing tried in many years. The acreage will be largely increased next spring.

Centre County Has 1673 Men in the Service.

As near as they can be tabulated with any degree of accuracy Centre county has thus far sent 1673 men to the service of their country.

Following is the list according to the postoffice addresses of the men. It should be understood, for instance, that while Bellefonte has sent an unusual number of her sons all of the 365 credited to that postoffice are not residents of Bellefonte. Some of them should be credited to Spring, Benner and Walker townships. In fact every point having rural mail delivery serves a large outlying country so that boys inducted into the service from townships surrounding such postoffices naturally give their addresses as recorded here.

In Centre county we are asked to raise $41,000 for the upkeep of seven organizations who are working night and day for the welfare of our boys. Let us do it. Let us put the drive that opens next Monday through with a whoop.

Bits From Miss Bertha Laurie's Latest Letters Home.

"We have been moved up to a new place, so thrilling too, within hearing distance of the guns and scores of planes flying in beautiful formation toward the front. Of course here there are no lights on the streets and our windows are covered with black cloth. But oh! the satisfaction of feeding, cold, tired, hungry boys with all the hot chocolate and fresh bread and jam they can hold.

Next week we will get into a new place and will then be equipped to serve them hot soup too.

Our home is open all day and all night and we have forty cots filled and the floor covered with sleeping boys every night and a fine secretary who always has hot chocolate ready for them by 6 o'clock in the morning.

This is the word of a girl whom nearly everybody in Centre county knows or knows of, as to what the Y. M. C. A. is doing for—YOUR BOY, maybe over in France. Miss Laurie gave up a fine position in the First National bank in Bellefonte to go to the front and she is only one of thousands of others who have done the same and shall her sacrifice be made fruitless for want of funds with which to carry on the wonderful work. Get behind the United War Work campaign and show her and her noble comrades that Centre county deems no price too high to pay for the safeguarding of the physical and moral welfare of her sons.

"I am going tomorrow to buy a rubber poncho for we have to take folding cots with us and as we will have no mattresses the poncho will help to keep the cold out under the blankets. All we can take of our accumulations in ten months' service is what we can pack in the barracks bag and the pack we carry on our back, but that doesn't matter, they need us so badly up front. Oh, but we do need fine men and women workers over here. It just seems that I must compel people of the right sort to come over. It is the most enormous work and it is under-manned and not nearly enough women and there never was work so absolutely necessary. WON'T YOU PRAY THAT THE DRIVE IS SUCCESSFUL?"

"I know that the boys need us and our work without their topstap assist-tions of it. Why when the orders came for us to move it was pathetic. One big Swede hung about the hut all day striving to help us pack. He seemed unlike himself and the cause came out just before he left in the evening when he came up to me with tears in his eyes and said: "Mother, I've been out in the world for eighteen years and this is the first day I have ever been homesick!" Miss Laurie asks her friends over here to "pray that the drive is successful!" We are all friends in this common cause so let us pray and PAY too.

State Agricultural Notes.

Bedford county farmers have put in a greatly increased acreage of wheat and rye.

Berks county reports a wheat acreage increase and a renewed interest in hog breeding.

Corn and buckwheat suffered greatly by a killing frost on September 10.

Farmers in Butler county have made extensive preparations for greater wheat yields next season by giving unusual attention to the preparation of the seed bed.

Grasshoppers are responsible for the destruction of the pasture fields in many northern and interior counties.

Clearfield county farmers report more wheat acreage sown than for many years.

The largest crop of buckwheat in the history of Columbia county has been harvested and is in excellent condition.

Delaware county farmers have responded to the call for more wheat by materially increasing the acreage.

The grape harvest in Erie county will not exceed forty per cent. of a normal crop.

In some townships of Fayette county the farmers have increased their wheat acreage from twenty to twenty-five per cent.

The shortage of labor in some of the fruit growing districts of the State makes it necessary for the greater quantity of apples to be shipped in bulk.

The experiments with spring wheat in Lackawanna county have not been a decided success, but the farmers are going to try again.

McKean county reports the best oats ever harvested in this section.

It is estimated that the barley production of the State this season will amount to 392,000 bushels as compared with 346,000 bushels last year.

It is estimated that approximately twenty-one per cent. of the hay crop in Pennsylvania is baled.

The Pennsylvania pear crop is estimated at 481,000 bushels as compared with 448,000 bushels last year.

It is estimated that the amount of wheat needed each year for seeding in the State is 3,080,000 bushels.

The average production of cabbage this season is estimated at five tons to the acre, somewhat below the average.

An exceptionally good average production of onions was harvested this year with 200 bushels to the acreage against an average of 175 bushels.
