FRANCE HELPS SOLDIERS.

France is preparing to do a great work in aiding her soldiers and sailors disabl- two children, Mrs. W. E. Boob, of Fied ed in the present war to secure and es- ler, and Allen W. Wetzel, of Scotland, tablish homes. By a recent law loans S. D. sion paid by the state for injuries receivwar, to widows in receipt of a pension or annuity paid by the state or by the at Woodward. French marine provident fund becaus of the death of their husbands through injuries or sickness due to the war; and to dependents similarly eligible.

Individual loans secured by mortgages tory are authorized for the purposes of aciring, managing, transforming and reconstructing small rural properties, without regard to the area, of which the value, and including expenses and insurance costs, does not exced 100,000 francs ($1,930.) Repayment of the loan may extend over a period of twenty-five years unless the age of the borrowers a the date the last installment become due shall be above sixty years .. Loans made in accordance with this law bear interest at one per cent. per annum. At the time the loan is made the bor-Tower must contract with the national insurances fund for the payment of the annuities, which may remain unpaid in the borrower. This insurance is effect ed by a single premium'which, with the costs of the negotiation of the loan, added to the sum borrowed.

For each child born to the borrower after the loan is made the state will annually place to the credit of the borrower one-half of one per cent, of the original loan, to be credited on the required annual payment.

The Food Situation.

The signing of the armistice between the Germans and the Allies will not add a pound of food to the world's supply but it will add millions of the halfstarved people of the reconquered countries to eat at the " Common Table " of the Allies,

For this reason conservation of food i now and even more vital duty than has been in the past. It will be prob ably many months before all food control in this country can be done away with, and in the mean time the people of a starving world look to the United States for aid.

They must not look in vain. All waste must be eliminated from our home tables if we are to perform this great duty to humanity. Therefore the necessity of saving every possible bit of food is still with us, as never before.

Before the armistice was signed, ou Government had undertaken to send to Europe 17,500,000 tons of foods-stuffs, a quantity which greatly exceeds that of last year. Now there must be another great addition, for it is estimated that fully 5,000,000 additional tons will be required for the starving people of Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, and the total may possibly rise to 25,000,000

These are staggering figures, but it represents a duty which the people of the United States must perform and no one should think that we can return to pre-war food conditions for at least two years. Changes may be made in the food regulations but there cannot possibly be any change for a long time in the policy of the utmost conservation in
