

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. F. O. Bairfoot has fully recovered from a lengthy illness.

Pvt. Roy Dutrow, now at Camp Lee, expects to be home this week.

After having been housed up ten days with the "flu," Charles Stump is about again.

About a dozen Christmas boxes were mailed to soldiers in France through the Red Cross at Centre Hall.

A mild form of the "flu" has stricken a large number of young and old in Centre Hall the past week.

William Stump was seriously ill with influenza for a few days this week but now shows signs of improvement.

For sale—open-grate library stove, kitchen range and parlor stove. All in good condition.—Mrs. H. J. Lambert.

Milton Kline, of Tusseyville, disposed of a nice flock of turkeys, last week, realizing 30 cents a pound, live weight.

The county treasurer has issued nearly 3300 hunters' license to Centre county hunters this year—a small army in itself.

Mrs. Jasper Wagner and several children, who had been ill during the past ten days, have almost completely recovered.

A brief letter from Pvt. William Bailey states that he arrived in England just a few days prior to the signing of the armistice.

Samuel Hoy moved to Centre Hall, from near Bellefonte, last week, and occupies the Mrs. Rebecca Murray home, which he purchased.

The Reporter will be pleased to publish the contributions made to the United War Work fund from Potter township if the list is presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. L. Bartholomew and daughter, of Altoona, enjoyed Thanksgiving Day among relatives in and about Centre Hall.

Cleveland Mitterling will ship a carload of cows to the eastern market next week. A week's illness interfered with his shipping cows last week.

On account of the illness of her mother, Miss Olive Way was unable to return to Centre Hall on Monday to open her school. Mrs. Way was suffering from acute indigestion.

S. S. Kremer, of Lewistown, was the guest of his father in Centre Hall on Thanksgiving Day. His daughter, Miss Rebecca Kremer, spent the day with Miss Anna Weaver, near Spring Mills.

D. J. Nieman, the Millheim merchant, has reduced prices on his entire stock of men's and women's clothing, shoes and furnishings, which will prove a great advantage to Christmas shoppers. adv.

Mrs. Rebecca Murray left Centre Hall a few days ago, and after visiting relatives in the lower part of the valley for a short time, will depart for Chicago, Ill., to live with her son, Paul E., and family.

William F. Keller, mail carrier on Route No. 1 from the local post office, was unable to perform his duties since Monday morning, on account of sickness. His brother, Christ D. Keller, was drafted into the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Garis are somewhat alarmed owing to not having heard for five weeks from one of their two sons—John W.—on Western front. He belongs to the heavy artillery. We all know "Sharkey" is o. k.

Harry Ostrander, the lecturer, will talk on Turkey and Palestine to-night (Thursday), in the Grange hall, as the first number of the Centre Hall Lecture Course. If you own a season ticket you can gain admittance; otherwise not. You can buy a season ticket at the door.

Work on the buildings at the government airplane landing station, at Bellefonte, is progressing very satisfactorily. All the lumber is on the ground and there is every assurance that the buildings will be completed in time for the first mail-carrying flight on December 15th.

The Reporter has a picture post card from Charles S. Burris, of Dewart, showing the ruins of the railroad wreck, near Dewart, which cost seven men their lives, November 23rd. He writes that thousands of people were there to see the wreck Saturday and Sunday, and that it was the worst wreck on that line for many years.

Among the munition workers at Milton is John H. Weber, of Centre Hall, who was at his home over Sunday. He reports the Milton works moving on just as before the close of the active fighting on the western front, and that plants of various characters in that city are continuously advertising for men. At present the plant he is engaged with is working on gas shells.

Lester Cummings was among the first soldiers at Camp Lee to be mustered out of the service and reached his home at Aaronsburg last week. Corporal Cummings—for such he was in army life—was in Centre Hall on Friday and paid this office a call. He expressed regret because after months of hard drilling for the fray, he was denied the chance of getting into the "big show."

A letter received this week by Cleveland Mitterling from his brother Henry, in France, says that he has fully recovered from the effects of the gassing received at the hands of the Huns and that he has been able to leave the hospital. He is located near Paris and recently made a visit to that large city. Compared with our own American cities Paris is old-fashioned and antiquated, he thinks.

SOIL FERTILITY PROPHECY

Editor Collingwood of the Rural New Yorker says: "Gasoline leaves no organic matter behind it. We have come to the time, and we are rapidly going further into it when there will be practically no stable manure for people to buy and put on their ground. And then people will suddenly wake and realize that all these years they have been giving to stable manure a value it did not carry, and that, with fertilizers properly handled and with cover crops, they will be able, to get the same results with less labor, with more profit and with far greater satisfaction."

WHY FOOD PRICES ARE INCREASING

"During the last fifty or seventy-five years (principally since 1840), while the large cities in this country and Europe have been growing, the established agricultural areas that produced food were supplemented by the opening up of new lands in the middle West, Canada, Brazil, Argentina, South and Central Africa, Australia and Siberia.

"Food products, chiefly grains and meats, were produced on virgin, unfertilized lands. Emigrant labor was employed and subsequently there was cheap railroad and steamship transportation, so until recently the people in cities have been fed on food produced and sold at a price which did not take into consideration the cost of production and the value of plant food contained in crops which must be returned to the soil to maintain productivity."—Report of the Food Problem Committee, the Merchants' Association of New York.

Pay enough for Clothes

YOU may expect your clothes to cost more this fall than they did a year ago; but so does everything else.

The main thing to consider isn't "How much do they cost?" but "How much do I get for the money?" That has always been the main thing in buying clothes anyway.

You can judge for yourself what happens when the cost of production rises. Some makers do all they can to keep the price down, with the result that the quality gets pretty bad.

Hart Schaffner & Marx make all-wool clothes; you know you're getting the value you pay for in such clothes.
