UNIVERSAL TRAINING.

There is a growing sentiment in the United States for some system of military training in the future years. This does not mean military service. It merely means the training and disciplining of the youth of the country in self-control, care of the health and personal cleanliness with the aim of making them fit and ready for any crisis. Much will depend upon the outcome of the peace conference as to the policy of armament and preparedness in the coming years. It will have nothing to do, however, with any plan that looks to the building of a strong national manhood. That is the chief benefit of military training. Where Germany went wrong in her plan of training of youth was to force each man to serve in a military camp and under military authority for a period of years. He was trained for war. America would give to her youth only that part of military training that would keep their bodies strong and their minds clear and develop them into strong men, ready for the individual struggle of life and prepared for any crisis which might swing before the nation. The present congress is not likely to consider the subject of military training beyond the point of discussion. The question will go over to the next congress through which it will be guided by Representative Kahn, of California, as the next chairman of the house military committee. Mr. Kahn favors a course of training for the youth of eighteen years when the individual is forming habits and building a physique which will largely determine the sway of his life. We have seen the results of military training in this country in the beneficial changes that have been wrought in several millions of young men during the last eighteen months. This alone should be sufficient argument for the adoption of a permanent plan of training for the making of men, not soldiers.

Vocational School Has Important Future.

An important future is forecast for the rural vocational school, with its courses in agriculture and home making, by Lindley H. Dennis, director of the agricultural educational division of the State Department of Public Instruction, in his report to Superintendent Schaefer. War has interfered with the expansion which was just commencing, but the interest has been maintained and very satisfactory progress is stated by Professor Dennis to have been attained in the face of shortage of teachers and other conditions.
In the year ending July 1 there were 23 rural community vocational schools in operation, with agriculture, homemaking and academic departments, in addition to 19 agricultural departments and 10 home making schools in high schools. These were in 33 counties. Special attention was given to crop raising, live stock instruction and the registration was 852 boys and 1035 girls.
The agriculture pupils cultivated 550 acres and raised 5225 hens, 50 ducks, 40 cows, 256 pigs, 13 calves and 59 sheep, the total products yielding $85,695, of which $67,721.25 was from crops, $8985 from live stock and $8989 from poultry. Farmers' night school have been started, special courses launched for training agriculture teachers and home making schools standardized.

More of Our Boys Home.

Private Norman Emerick, seaman, is home from the state of Washington, where he has been since September. The naval camp in which he and Warren Homan were stationed is located near Puget Sound. Norman was among the first twenty per cent of men to be mustered out of the service. He is disenrolled, being subject to call any time within four years. The homeward transcontinental trip consumed four days and five nights' travel, and he arrived in Centre Hall on Monday. He has gained considerable weight while a student in Uncle Sam's big school, and enjoyed the life in all its phases.

William Garis has again set foot on American soil. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Garis, in this place, received a letter from their son on Tuesday, apprising them of his safe return from France. William belonged to the coast defense organization. He thinks he will soon be mustered out of the service.

H. Ellis Hennigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hennigh, received an honorable discharge from the army and came home from Camp Dix, New Jersey, on Sunday. The young man and his wife expect to take over the Hennigh farm, in Georges Valley, in the spring.

Frank A. McKinney, son of W. F. McKinney, of Pottery Mills, arrived home on Saturday from Camp Sherman, Ohio. He enlisted at Altoona and was taken to Newark, Delaware, where he was given a course in Motor Mechanics. While there his brother, Perry McKinney, died with influenza, and he was unable to get home at that time. His regiment received orders to go to Camp Forrest, in Georgia. While at that Camp he was transferred to a Forestry Engineers Regiment, under Captain John W. Seltzer, who at one time was Forester at Coburn. This regiment was ready to go over, when the war ended, and was then sent to Camp Sherman and mustered out. He will go to work in a short time at his former job as sheet iron worker in the P. R. R. shops in Juniata.

Dr. Rader, Friday Night.

The third number of the Centre Hall Lecture Course is Dr. Rader, who will deliver his grand lecture in the Grange hall, to-morrow (Friday) night.
For ten years Dr. Rader was pastor of the third Congregational church of San Francisco. During the trying times of reconstruction following the destruction of the city he spoke to the people in the Colonial theatre in the burnt district and was then called to the great Calvary Presbyterian church. It was during this period that Peter Clark McFarland, in a notable article in Collier's called him one of the ten great orators of the country.

Shot Five Times in Head, Lives To Tell of Fight.

As a result of a bloody, drunken riot at Yeagertown, Saturday evening, about eleven o'clock, three of the participants are patients in the Lewistown hospital and three men are prisoners in the county jail. Louis Pareta was shot five times in his head. He caught one bullet in his upper teeth and it rebounded lodging in his upper lip. One shot struck his second right finger and the other shots lodged in his head where the hospital surgeons probed for them. Sam Maroni and Gavino Tio were stabbed in their backs and sides and were removed to the local hospital. Maroni's condition is regarded as being very serious from a wound several inches in length and quite deep in his back.
That Pareta, shot five times, escaped death, may be attributed to the fact that a small .22 calibre bullet was used in the gun which was fired at him.
The fight occurred near the new restaurant, Yeagertown. A nearby barn is riddled with bullet holes and covered with blood from the victims.

Farmers to Erect $100,000 Condensary.

The farmers of five counties—Union, Snyder, Montour, Lycoming and Northumberland—banded together in the Dairymen's League, are determined to erect a condensary plant, to cost approximately $100,000. At a meeting held at Lewisburg, last week, more than $25,000 was subscribed, and the canvassers are meeting with good success in their efforts to raise the necessary funds.
The idea of erecting a condensary plant is all because the farmers believe they are not now receiving sufficient money for their milk. The plant will be put up in Lewisburg or Milton, it is believed.
The ex-Kaiser is losing his mind, reads a dispatch from Amsterdam, Holland. How slow that information has been in being made known to the public.

THE DEATH RECORD.

RUPP.—Edward Jacob Rupp, a respected citizen of Harris township, passed away Sunday evening at ten o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. James W. Swabb, near Linden Hall. For the past three years he had been suffering with hardening of the arteries, the natural result of which was apoplexy, which was the cause of his death.
Deceased was a son of William and Elizabeth Weikel Rupp and was born at Laurelton, Union county. He reached the age of sixty-two years, three months and six days. When a lad of tender years he came with his parents to Centre county. He was a miller by trade and was employed at various places. Ill health forced him to retire from his work while employed in Altoona, three years ago. His marriage to Miss Anna Reifsnyder, of Millheim, took place thirty-six years ago, and thirteen years later she passed away. There were no children born to their union. Mr. Rupp was a life-long member of the Reformed church. He was also a member of Boalsburg lodge, I. O. O. F.
The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, at his late home, and burial was made at Boalsburg, Rev. S. C. Stover officiating.
The following brothers and sisters survive, namely, Mrs. Peter Weber, of Huntingdon; Alonzo Rupp, of Altoona; Izora, of Oak Hall Station; and Mrs. James W. Swabb, of Linden Hall.

SHELTON.—Mrs. Emma Jane Shelton, wife of William S. Shelton, died at her home in Millheim on Saturday morning, after an illness of only four days with influenza. Deceased was Miss Emma Jane Hughes and was born at Pittston fifty years ago, going with Mr. Shelton to Millheim fourteen years ago. Two children—Mary Hughes and Anna Elizabeth—both at home, and the husband, survive. There are also two sisters—Mrs. M. H. Squires, of De Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. A. E. Beardsley, of Chicago, Illinois. HOLLOWAY.—Saturday morning, Dec. 28, W. P. Holloway died at his residence in Orangeville, Illinois, having been confined to his bed nearly two years, the cause being a broken limb. The cause of his death was paralysis. The funeral was held Monday, December 30th, at one p. m. at his home.
William P. Holloway, son of Jacob and Mary Holloway, was born at Aaronsburg, October 2, 1839, aged 79 years, one month and twenty-six days. He grew to young manhood in Penns Valley and was united in marriage to Chesty A. Musser, of Millheim, November 1, 1861. To this union were born six children, five of whom survive: Elizabeth Miller and Lottie Moyer, of Orangeville; Barton C., of Poplar Grove; Charles W., of Freeport; Carrie Mays; on the home farm.
He enlisted in the Civil war August 19, 1862, in Co. D, 148 Reg. of Pennsylvania. Volunteers and was honorably discharged at the close of the war. He was in the three days' engagement at the battle of Gettysburg. In one battle in which he was engaged, he was so intent on winning the victory, he failed to notice when his comrades were ordered to retreat. Seeing he was fighting alone he took the prisoners he had captured and amidst heavy fire brought them back to his regiment. When he returned from the army he took his family to Illinois in the year of 1868. He began farming near Orangeville and followed that occupation until he retired and moved to Orangeville in 1893.
He leaves to mourn his departure his companion, the immediate family, one sister Sarah Wyle, of Akron, Ohio, two brothers, Frank, of Cedarville, and James, of Aaronsburg.
