

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mercury registered one degree above zero Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Horner, of Lewis-town, announce the birth of a daughter, January 13th.

Cleveland D. Mitterling went to Philadelphia, on Monday, expecting to return this week.

Miss Emma McCoy expects to leave this (Thursday) morning for Harrisburg, Philadelphia and Ardmore.

Franklin Heckman, who is teaching school at Unionville, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in Centre Hall.

Tuesday's high temperature resulted in a real January thaw. This was followed by colder and snow flurries on Wednesday.

John A. Slack expects to hold public sale of farm stock, etc., sometime next month, the date having not yet been definitely decided.

Orvis Weaver moved his family to Yeagertown, on Tuesday. Mr. Weaver is employed in the Standard Steel Works at Burnham.

Dr. William Rader, the lecturer to appear in Centre Hall to-morrow (Friday) night, fills an engagement at Millheim this (Thursday) evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Runkle, of near Centre Hall, are on a visit to the home of Mrs. Runkle's sister, Mrs. R. D. Runkle, in Shamokin.

Morris Ripka, son of George H. Ripka, of Milroy, died of disease in France, Oct. 25, the parent having received official notice to this effect from the War Department on January 6.

Thirty-second annual meeting of the Centre County School Directors' Association will be held in the court house, Bellefonte, Friday, January 24th. There will be a morning and an afternoon session.

Pine Grove Mills is suffering a recurrence of the influenza epidemic, no less than seventy-five cases being reported by the board of health. Churches and schools are closed and the ban has been placed on public gatherings of all kinds.

William Durst, expert mechanic, is home from Burnham for a short stay at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Harper. While here "Bill" is giving his attention to auto repairing, at which he plays second fiddle to none.

A further extension of time within which 1918 motor vehicle license plates may be used was granted on Monday by State Highway Commissioner J. D. O'Neil, who notified the various police authorities through out the State to recognize 1918 tags until February 1.

There were approximately 185,000 deaths in the state of Pennsylvania in 1918, making the highest mortality rate in the history of the Commonwealth. This startling fact stands out prominently in the brief review of the year's work of the State Department of Health made public today by Dr. P. Franklin Royer, Acting Commissioner.

The Milroy items to the Daily Sentinel of Lewisport, say: George Condo, who has been at Camp Merritt since his arrival from France, has received his discharge and arrived home Saturday evening. Also, Gilbert Henry died of disease in France, his mother, Mrs. Sarah Henry, receiving official notice on Friday from the War Department.

Over 140,000 miles, or more than six times the circuit of the world, is the travel record made in the past eighteen years by William F. Foust, mail carrier on Rural Delivery No. 1, Milton, since 1900. Foust has tendered his resignation and will engage in business with his father. He believes he is one of the oldest carriers in the state in the rural delivery service.

The annual meeting of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Centre County was held in the grand jury room, Bellefonte, on Monday. F. M. Fisher, secretary of the company, reported that over a million dollars of insurance was written in the past year, bringing the total risks in force to a figure in excess of four million dollars. The company is doing a fine business and is showing a steady growth from year to year.

With the re-opening of the Pennsylvania State College on a peace basis, students' rooms are again taking on their old home-like appearance. The tabac on armchairs, window seats and sofa pillows during the military regime has been taken off and furniture which has been stored in basements is being carted to the rooms of members of the Army Training Corps, who gave up barracks life when they were discharged before the Christmas vacation.

Lot More Deer for This State.

E. W. Kelley, of DuBois, one of the state game commissioners, will leave for Wapitango county, North Carolina, where he will obtain approximately 100 deer for the various game preserves throughout the state. One carload will go to the Bedford county preserve near Bedford, another to the Lykens preserve, Dauphin county. Seventy-five deer will also be obtained from the forest of Michigan and Wyoming for Bedford and Dauphin counties.

Upon returning from North Carolina a hundred deer will be obtained from the Westover preserve in Clearfield county, for the various state preserves. Later, Mr. Kelley hopes to secure several deer from the park of Mr. DuBois, near DuBois, which will be released in the woods immediately adjoining the park.

Letter from John Garis.
(To Ed. E. Bailey, Centre Hall.)
Belgium,
Dec. 16, 1918.

Friend Ted:
I am well and happy, feeling fine and I hope you folks are all the same. Well, I expect to spend Christmas here in a little village called Proven, only three miles from the French border. I am still in Belgium and only thirty-six miles from the docks that they call Dunkirk. You have read of that place; it was shelled from the sea by Germany and bombed by air. I will say this is an awful climate. You know, I haven't seen the sun shine in seven weeks, and mud over your shoe tops. It is called Flanders mud. I guess you know that mud caused over 75,000 English troops to die here. It is like quick sand and, say, there isn't a place ten yards square that hasn't got a few shell holes in it, and I was all over the city of Ypres trying to find a dugout but failed. I slept under that big tower made of glass, that they never found out yet how they made the glass. The inventor died with the secret.

Well, Ted, I have lots of interesting things to tell you as I have friends here that speak fine English and they give me all the details, and I am good at asking questions, and you know it. Well, I guess I will ask you to give all my regards and I thank you very much for the paper.

I am as always, your friend in Belgium.

A poem written by Pri. John Garis, 109th Field Artillery:
A SOLDIER'S DREAM.
(From real life.)

I dreamed the war was over;
We were leaving the city of Fismes.
We were down at the floats
Getting on to the boats,
Holly gee! How glad it did seem.
The river Vesle just looked like the Hudson;
It was then I arose from my trance,
For the H. E.'s were exploding, and old Jerry was unloading,
It was then I knew I was in France.

May Enlarge I. O. O. F. Orphanage.

The I. O. O. F. Orphan's home at Sunbury may be enlarged to accommodate the large number of children who have been made orphans through the influenza epidemic. At a meeting of the directors of the institution it was reported that the school is swamped with applications.

Ben Franklin's Trifigrams.

Save and have.
Every little makes a nickle.
Little strokes fell great oaks.
A rolling stone gather no moss.
God helps those who help themselves.
Look before or you will find yourself behind.
The way to wealth is as short as the way to market.
He that waits upon fortune is never sure of a dinner.
Money can beget money and its offspring can beget more.
It is foolish to lay out money in a purchase of repentance.
Learning is to the studios as riches to the careful.
Waste neither time nor money, but make the best use of both.
Remember that money is of the prolific, generating nature.
All things are cheap to the saving, dear to the wasteful.
If you would be wealthy, think of saving as well as getting.
Beware of small expenses: A small leak will sink a great ship.
A penny saved is a twopenny clear.
A pin a day is a great year.
Gain may be temporary and uncertain but expense is constant and certain.
Buy what thou hast no need of and before long thou shalt sell the necessities.
It is easier to suppress the first desire than to satisfy all that follow it.
He that murders a pound destroys all that it might have produced even scores of pounds.
Benjamin Franklin whose 213th birthday is to have a unique celebration on January 17th, 1919, besides his portrait on the new W. S. S., his birthday will be marked in the schools, libraries, theatres, churches and other places of public gathering for special messages of thrift and intelligent saving.

Don't Neglect Your Eyes

Symptoms often arising from defective vision in persons of all ages are headaches, dizziness, itching, burning and twitching of the eyelids, nausea, or sickness, nervousness. Many who suffer from these try for a cure by the use of headache powders, liver pills, etc. In case of defective vision they only upset the stomach and cause no permanent relief whatever.
Come to my office and have your eyes thoroughly examined and determine the cause of your complaints.
Prices very reasonable. Seven years with one of the leading oculists and manufacturing opticians of Philadelphia.

Box Social at Spring Mills.
A box social will be held in the Spring Mills Vocational School on Friday evening of this week. The proceeds will be used to purchase a Victrola for the school.

Everyone knows that Boston is a great center of copper mining, and that New York is the center of all other mining industries of the country, but few realize that either of these cities have opportunities to mine for anything except subways at home. It seems, however, that New York's extraordinary activities in the mining business must have received their first impetus not from Wall street, but from a varied experience gained in dealing with the rock of Manhattan.

More than 118 varieties of minerals and several kinds of gems have been found on the island, according to Electrical Experimenter. Aquamarines weighing 1 1/2 karats have been found at Broadway and One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street. The mining possibilities at Broadway and One Hundred and Seventy-sixth street are almost unlimited. Green tourmaline gems, magnetite and iron ore, chalcopyrite, malachite, pyrrhotite and a crystal form of nickel have been found there.

Other minerals to be had on the island are zincite, used in the manufacture of perikon detector, roehlingite, agate, amazon-stone, amber, amethyst, chrysoberyl, fire opal, garnet, peristerite, prehnite, rock crystal, rose quartz, smoky quartz, precious serpentine, tourmaline and willemite, silver, lead, zinc, copper, iron, tennantite, molybdenite—which is used in the molybdenite detector—graphite, asbestos, mica, beryl, torbenite and uraninite.

They Don't Have to See the Flag.
When one is as patriotic and respectful to the flag as a Great Lakes bluejacket is the colors can be heard even when not seen.

Facing the station on the sidewalk in front of her home in North Chicago a woman noticed several jacksies abruptly stop in their walk, come to attention and salute, standing thus for a couple of minutes. On several occasions she noticed this and finally her curiosity made her ask the reason thereof.

"Colors," replied a sailor.
"But where do you see the flag?" asked the lady.

"I can't see it," was the reply, "but I hear the sound of bugle and drums in 'To the Colors,' and I know this is the time of day."—Chicago News.

Good General Rule.

A New York magistrate, warning chauffeurs to avoid accident, told them not to confuse a small child in the roadway by loud blasts of the horn, but to slow down and give the child a chance to get out of the way. Fewer accidents would happen to pedestrians of any age were other methods of prevention used by motorists, save the single one of blowing a horn and leaving the rest to chance or providence.—Baltimore American.

Every Name is Wanted For the Official State Records.

Read the above questions carefully and answer them fully so that honor may be given where honor is due—to the State of Pennsylvania and its gallant defenders. The War History Commission, of the Pennsylvania Council of National Defense, is compiling an official record for historical purposes, of the men who, during the great war, entered the military and naval service of the United States or the Allies.
Names of men who voluntarily enlisted are, in particular, apt to be missing from the Honor Roll unless furnished by their families or friends. But all names, whether those of men who enlisted or who entered the service by draft selection are wanted.
Fill out a War Service Record for your soldier or sailor boy and mail it without delay.

PRINCE ALBERT
The national joy smoke

SAY, you'll have a streak of smokeluck that'll put pep-in-your-smokemotor, all right, if you'll ring-in with a jimmy pipe or cigarette papers and nail some Prince Albert for packing!

Just between ourselves, you never will wise-up to high-spot-smoke-joy until you can call a pipe by its first name, then, to hit the peak-of-pleasure you land square on that two-fisted-man-tobacco, Prince Albert!

Well, sir, you'll be so all-fired happy you'll want to get a photograph of yourself breezing up the pipe with your smokethrottle wide open! Talk about smoke-sport! Quality makes Prince Albert so appealing all along the smoke line. Men who never before could smoke a pipe and men who've smoked pipes for years all testify to the delight it hands out! P. A. can't bite or parch! Both are cut out by our exclusive patented process!

Right now while the going's good you get out your old jimmy pipe or the papers and land on some P. A. for what ails your particular smokeappetite!

You buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Tossy red bath, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors—and that clean, practical sound crystal glass humidor with sponge moisture cap that keeps the tobacco in each perfect condition.
