

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Here we are at the close of February and no ice harvest as yet.
W. S. Krise, of Johnstown, spent a few days in Centre Hall the past week.
Miss Myra Kimport is back to her millinery store after having spent a month or more in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Sarah Spangler, aged seventy-two years, is visiting her son, N. B. Spangler, Esq., in Bellefonte.

Rev. Joseph C. Kelley, of Altoona, will fill the local Presbyterian pulpit on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. D. S. Kurtz is spending a few weeks with her daughters, Misses Marie and Pearl Kurtz, at Northampton. The Misses Kurtz are engaged in teaching in the above named place.

At a meeting of the Centre Hall lodge of Odd Fellows, on Saturday evening, that order decided to foster the Community Picnic movement, and arrange in forming a committee for holding the picnic on July 4th.

Mrs. Howard W. Durst last season raised one of the largest squashes exhibited at the Grange Encampment, and on cutting the monster sent a piece to the Reporter. The quality proved just as good as its appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Harter, of near Nittany, were in Centre Hall on Saturday, and also at Madisonburg, where Mrs. Harter visited her cousin, John Gettig, who was here on a short visit from his home in Canada to the home of his father, Postmaster Samuel Gettig.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

S. J. Rowe is home from the South. A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Emehizer, at Tusseyville.
Mrs. J. W. Brown, of Milroy, spent a week at the home of her father, Prof. W. A. Krise.

Lieut. Harry Schreffler, with the 4th U. S. Cavalry at Brownsville, Texas, is at his home in Bellefonte on a short furlough.

Jim Lawler, alias Jim Lewis, alias J. Showalter, the notorious bandit who attempted to rob the Penns Valley bank in Centre Hall about fifteen years ago, and who with his party was taken after a fight with weapons at the old Foust place in the Seven Mountains, was electrocuted for murder, in Kentucky, on the 21st inst. He is said to have been the "lone bandit" who held up and robbed an express train in the Lewistown Narrows some years ago.

Fred Krise, recently honorably discharged from the service, spent a few days in Centre Hall at the home of his grandfather, Prof. W. A. Krise. The young man saw eighteen months' service in France, in recognition of which he wears three gold chevrons. He landed in Europe August, 1917, and in April 1918, went to the front. He belonged to the 51st Heavy Artillery and fired an 8-inch Howitzer gun. He was in the fight up to the finish and returned to the States Feb. 3rd, and after his discharge reached his home in Johnstown on the 16th inst. He's a fine looking young fellow with a real soldierly bearing.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

This is Farmers' Week at State College.

Messrs. B. D. Brisbin and Harry C. Shirk are attending court this week as jurors.

Mrs. F. P. Geary and Miss Elsie Boal, on Wednesday morning left for Philadelphia where they will enter the Wills Eye Hospital for treatment. They were accompanied by Dr. J. V. Foster.

Two little girls—Edith Moltz, aged ten years, and Doris Moltz, aged three years—left orphans through the death of their widowed mother, Mrs. Jennie Moltz, which occurred at Lock Haven a few days ago, have been taken into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Bartholomew, in this place. The girls' mother was a niece of Wm. H. Bartholomew. There also remain two boys—Elmer and Herbert, aged eight and six years.

"Topsy," the faithful old sorrel driving mare owned by William F. Colyer, was put to death this week by a bullet, because of her old age. "Topsy" was purchased by Mr. Colyer's father, the late William Colyer, about twenty-five years ago. She came from Youngstown, Ohio, where she had made good on the race track. She had a set of good legs and felt best when she was "hittin' the road" for all that was in her. She was driven last week by a member of the family, and on Sunday laid down in her stall and was unable to get up. She would have been thirty years old this summer.

INCOME TAX DUE.

Return Must Be Filed On Or Before March 15.—Bill Provides Heavy Penalties.

Work on the collection of $6,000,000,000 has been begun by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. This is the estimated yield of the new revenue bill. The income tax provisions of the act reach the pocket-book of every single person in the United States whose net income for 1918 was $1,000, or more, and every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more. Persons whose net income equalled or exceeded these amounts, according to their marital status, must file a return of income with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which they live on or before March 15.

Here is what will happen to them if they don't: for failure to file a return on time, a fine of not more than $1,000 and an additional assessment of 25 per cent of the amount of tax due.

For "willfully refusing" to make a return on time, a fine not exceeding $10,000, or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both.

For making a false or fraudulent return, a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, together with an additional assessment of 50 per cent of the amount of tax evaded.

For failure to pay the tax on time, a fine of not more than $1,000 and an additional assessment of 5 per cent of the amount of tax unpaid, plus 1 per cent interest for each full month during which it remains unpaid.

In addition to the $1,000 and $2,000 personal exemptions, taxpayers are allowed an exemption of $200 for each person dependent upon them for chief support if such person is under eighteen years of age and incapable of self-support. Under the 1917 act, this exemption was allowed only for each dependent "child". The head of a family—one who supports one or more persons closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption—is entitled to all exemptions allowed a married person.

The normal rate of tax under the new act is 6 per cent, of the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions, and 12 per cent of the net income in excess of $4,000. Incomes in excess of $5,000 are subject also to a surtax ranging from 1 per cent of the amount of the net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent of the net income above $1,000,000.

Payment of the tax may be made in full at the time of filing return or in four installments, on or before March 15, on or before June 15, on or before September 15, on or before December 15.

Revenue officers will visit every county in the United States to aid taxpayers in making out their returns. The date of their arrival and the location of their offices may be ascertained by inquiring at offices of collectors of internal revenue, postoffices and banks. Failure to see these officers, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay his tax within the time specified by law. In this case taxpayers must seek the Government, not the Government the taxpayer.
