Government Insurance.

In June 1918, seventy marines fell in battle in an attack somewhere on the Marne. Fifty-seven of them carried the maximum of $10,000 insurance; one was insured for $8,000, and twelve for $5,000. The Government obligation was $500,000; but it was not the case of an obligation deferred for years until an act of Congress would recognize the claim, as with the old pension system.

Up to the end of 1918 the United States Government had paid out to the veterans of the Revolution, the war of 1812, Indian wars, the Mexican war, the Civil war and the war with Spain, the vast sum of $5,215,528,780 pensions. In the light of these figures it will perhaps develop that the war insurance legislation of October, 1917, under the provisions of which 4,000,000 policies, totaling $36,000,000,000 in insurance has been written, will prove to be a good stroke of business on the part of Uncle Sam.
