

A Feeling of Security

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything. It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle.

When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

65TH CONGRESS IN RETROSPECT

Unprecedented Smashing of the Traditions

ENORMOUS TREASURE SPENT

Practically A Fourth Of All The Laws Of The Three Sessions Were Approved During Last Nine Days Of The Period.

Washington.—The Sixty-fifth or War Congress accomplishments are officially reviewed in the final number of the Monthly Compendium of the House of Representatives.

Unfinished business of the Congress, which necessarily must be considered in the legislative program of the new Congress, soon to convene, also is contained in the publication which was edited by W. Ray Loomis, an official of the House.

"Constituting as it does a statistical retrospect of the accomplishments of the Sixty-fifth Congress," says Mr. Loomis in a foreword of the Compendium, "the final issue of the Monthly Compendium throws the searchlight on the transactions of three sessions of unparalleled events.

When the Congress met in April, 1917, the country was at peace. In the interim a war had been declared, a war had been won and a war had been ended.

So this issue carries legislative history of a character that perhaps never again will be duplicated, both as to the amount of money authorized to be expended and as to the extent of the revolutionizing of the social and business lives of the people of the nation."

The Sixty-fifth Congress is shown to have appropriated approximately $57,000,000,000; passed 349 public laws; 48 public resolutions; 48 private laws, and conducted 22 congressional investigations.

A total of 22,594 bills and resolutions were introduced, of which 16,684 originated in the House and the remainder in the Senate. President Wilson vetoed five measures.

President Wilson's part in congressional matters is set out by a list of notable dates, including his approval of history-making laws and his numerous addresses.

It is shown that for the first time laws were signed in a foreign country; that for the first time a revenue bill, was signed on a railroad train; that for the first time a president had addressed the Senate in favor of women suffrage, had signed a bill to "move the sun forward and then backward" and had gone on the floor of the House to shake hands with members of foreign war missions.

Another unprecedented feature of the Congress pointed out by the Compendium was that practically one-fourth of all the laws of the three sessions were approved during the last nine days of the Congress.

The President signed 116 bills and resolutions from February 24 to March 4. Fifteen representatives, 10 senators and 20 ex-members died during the Congress.

Two former presiding officers of the Senate, Theodore Roosevelt and Charles W. Fairbanks, also are included in the death roll.

A list of authors of bills receiving action beyond mere introduction shows a predominance of names of chairmen of committees. Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, chairman of the Military Committee, with 58 measures, led the list, with Senator Myers, of Montana, chairman of the Public Lands Committee, second, with 35 bills.

Representative Padgett, of Tennessee, heading the Naval Committee, led in the House, with 26 measures, and Representative Dent, of Alabama, chairman of the Military Committee, was second, with 35 bills.
