The following interesting editorial is from the Altoona Tribune, (Republican): "The National Republican, a weekly newspaper published in Washington, is supposed to be the mouthpiece of the Republican National committee. Many persons take it for granted that this publication is the authoritative interpreter of the desires, purposes, plans and ideas of the leaders of the Republican party."

"One of the marked characteristics of that journal is the intense nationalism. It takes pleasure in republishing the stuff and nonsense originating in the fertile brain of George Harvey and is, to all intents and purposes, as bitterly committed against the League of Nations as Harvey himself. It repudiates international sentiment and hugs the delusion that the Republican rank and file are devotees of the same narrow and contracted idea."

"The Tribune has no reason to modify its previously expressed opinion that a large majority of the people of this country are heartily favorable to the idea of trying the experiment embodied in the League of Nations. Many are feeling that modification and changes and amendments to the constitution as drafted will be necessary, but comparatively few are entrenched in the medieval superstition that each nation must stand for its own interests alone and may the devil take the hindmost."

A severe rain and wind-storm passed through our valley on Friday doing some damage to roofs and windows.

FOUR SERVICE MEN RETURN HOME.

George Alfred Crawford and D. Ross Bushman Home from Overseas; Herbert Garis from Camp Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. W. Crawford were made happy in the return of their son, George Alfred Crawford, a doughboy in the World War, who received his discharge at Camp Dix, New Jersey, Saturday evening and reached his home here on Sunday. His physical condition is not up to standard and the parents were surprised to learn of his being gassed, a fact which the soldier kept to himself until his return home. He received the "gassing" on November 6th, while at the front, and spent the greater part of the time since in various hospitals. His throat is seriously affected and his hearing likewise. He is under the care of the family physician.

Private Crawford left Camp Meade, Md., in July, and sailed on the Leviathan, reaching France on the 15th of that month. He was attached to the 314th Infantry, 79th Division, and received his baptism of fire in the battle of Mt. Faucon. He was also in the battle of the Argonne, and continued in the fight up to within five days of the eventful November 11th, when he was gassed.

D. Ross Bushman returned to his home in this place, on Thursday, having received his honorable discharge at Camp Dix, New Jersey, on April 9th. He left Brest, France, on the 3rd of March, on the ship "Great Northern" and experienced some rough weather which delayed the vessel's reaching the American shores. Ross had between six and seven months experience "over there," having landed in France in August, 1918. He was at one time attached to an engineer's outfit, and as such assisted in the erection of soldiers' barracks. Later he did hospital service among contagious cases, a line of work for which he volunteered his services. Facing the deadly disease germ was little, if any, worse than being exposed to the Hun fire. Mr. Bushman was pleased with southern France and its climate, but found no place so pleasing as the good old U. S. A.

Herbert Garis, one of the boys who was retained for domestic service at Camp Lee, returned home on Saturday with his honorable discharge papers. He left with a contingent of Centre county draftees in July, 1918, for Camp Lee, Virginia, and in his nine months' service he helped to unload between four and five thousand carloads of baled hay which were shipped in to feed the 10,000 and more head of horses at that camp. Herbert has taken on additional weight and is in prime health.

ELLIOT SMITH DISCHARGED.

On Wednesday morning Elliot Smith returned to his home in Centre Hall, from Camp Meade, honorably discharged from the service. The wound in his left arm, made by a Hun machine gun bullet, has healed nicely and full strength to the arm has been restored.

In Remembrance.

In loving remembrance of my dear son, John William Smith, who departed this life April 14, 1918:

One year ago our hearts with sorrow, Laid a peaceful soul to rest— Onward to the side of Jesus, With thy hands across thy breast. Oh, son, dear, how we miss you, And never shall your memory fade; Sweet thought shall ever linger Round the grave where thou art laid.

In Hands of Bolsheviki Troops.

Sergt. Glenn W. Leitzel, of Millinburg, is a prisoner of Bolsheviki troops in Russia according to information reaching the family in Millinburg last week.

The press dispatches stated that Leitzel was one of the five prisoners captured by Bolsheviki troops and that he was being taken with the rest of them to Moscow.

The prisoners were captured in the Bolshe Ozerki sector according to information reaching Archangel from Obozerky. The report also states that the Bolsheviki troops have resumed their bombardment of the British and American troops on the Divina and Avgar rivers.

Sergt. Leitzel was born in Millheim thirty-two years ago.

A Start in the Right Direction.

Secretary of Agriculture Rasmussen has directed that a notice be sent each assessor in the state calling their special attention to Section 16 of the "Dog Law of 1917" which provides as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the assessor, at the time of making the assessment, to notify the owner of such dog or dogs that he must obtain a license for the same as provided for in this act; but the neglect or failure so to notify such owner shall not relieve the owner from his duty to obtain such license."

To bring the dog owners into closer touch with the law officers of their county and to inform them of their respective duties is the purpose of this notice.

If the objects of this law are to be attained it is necessary to get at the source of the trouble. Where dogs are kept for their many acts of devotion and faithfulness no owner will object to complying with the law, but where dogs are allowed about the premises without proper care and restraint, such dogs become a menace to the community and the law requires their extermination. Persons harboring such dogs will be held responsible for the same.

A number of prosecutions of dog owners for violation of this law have been ordered. All reported violations will be investigated and prosecutions ordered where it is considered that the evidence will warrant a conviction before court and jury, as the law does not provide for the imposing of penalty by Aldermen and Justices of the Peace.

Recruiting of the 50,000 for Overseas Duty Make Williamsport Busy Place.

The army recruiting station at Williamsport has been a busy place since its reopening on the first of the month. A number of young men eager to go abroad to take the place of those that have been over there for the past two years have filed application for enlistment in the 50,000 overseas contingent that is to sail immediately after organizing. Unfortunately a number of these had to be rejected on account of the strict requirements men for overseas service must pass.

The recruiting officer in charge of the Williamsport station announces that young men in this community would do well to enlist in the immediate future if they wish to be among the 50,000 to go to France. Reports from large industrial centers show that men are flocking to the colors at a fast rate and indications give promise of the 50,000 men being obtained in a short time. A large number of applications are received from men who during the war served in camps on this side and now avail themselves of the opportunity to enlist and get overseas service, and view the battlefields of France.

Enlistment with the American Expeditionary Forces are for three years without any reserve service attached to it. Applicants for enlistment may select any branch they wish to serve with. Single men between 18 and 40 years will be accepted if they can pass the mental, moral and physical requirements. Men between 18 and 21 must present one of the following certificates to prove their age: Birth certificate, baptismal record, school certificate, registration card or a sworn affidavit from father, mother or legal guardian. Married men and those under 18 years of age will not be accepted.

Discharged soldiers who desire information regarding the $500 bonus will be gladly given same by calling or writing to the Williamsport recruiting station. It is also announced that discharged soldiers who while serving in France had gas masks and steel helmets issued to them, and who surrendered same upon separation from the service may get a reissue of same by forwarding to the Zone Supply Officer, U. S. Army, Philadelphia, Pa., a sworn affidavit to the effect that they served with the A. E. F. and during such service were issued gas masks and steel helmets and upon discharge from the service had same taken up by the government.

For further information call or write to the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Room 20, Post Office Building, Williamsport, Pa.
