IS BOLSHEVISM WANING?

Bolshevism in Europe seems to have passed the peak of its popularity or possibly a better expression would be its strength. The conditions in Hungary where the soviets failed to get the extreme hold upon the government and people like they had in Russia is indicative of an awakening on the part of the latter. A European correspondent takes the following optimistic view of the Bolshevist situation:

"The imminent collapse of the Red government of Hungary may be taken as a happy augury of the future of the Bolshevist government of Russia. Such a government is bound to collapse because it arrogates all authority to itself without having had the necessary experience in the management of the state. This is illustrated by a statement recently issued by Lenin, the leader of the Russian Bolshevists. In this statement the Red leader par excellence almost bemoaned the necessity for having been forced to call in the hated 'bourgeoisie' to get business going and to manage financial questions, since these same 'bourgeoisie' were the only ones who could do it. From Munich in Germany, which has been under Red rule, there comes a report also that the troops of the duly elected Ebert government have entered the city and that the Red Rule there has collapsed. Perhaps there are the signs that we have long been waiting for: namely, of the beginning of the end of Bolshevism in Europe and the world."

More Boys Home.

William Bailey was mustered out at Camp Dix, New Jersey, on Thursday, and arrived in Centre Hall on Saturday afternoon. Originally a member of the Boal troop, he saw service on the Mexican border and while at Camp Hancock, Georgia, waiting to go overseas, he was physically disqualified and discharged, only to be taken back into the army and sent to Camp Greenleaf last summer. He reached England three days before the signing of the armistice, and was sent to France, being transferred from one branch of the service to another, guarding German prisoners at one time and caring for wounded at the hospital camp at another.

John Garis was discharged from Camp Dix, on Monday, and reached his home Centre Hall Tuesday afternoon. He was a member of the 100th Field Artillery and fought on three different fronts in France and Belgium. Although he escaped injury he was rendered senseless on several occasions through the concussion of bursting shells.

Helmets and Medals Awarded District for Good Work in Last Loan.

Mrs. Robert Beach, head of the county woman's organization in the Victory loan campaign, recently closed, met the local committee at the home of Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, in this place, on Tuesday afternoon, and awarded German helmets to both Centre Hall and Potter township committees, as well as individual medals struck from captured German cannons. These awards were made in recognition of the good work done in this district during the campaign.

Through an error on the part of those making up the quotas for the various districts, Potter township was called upon to raise $27,500. Mrs. Beach stated that the true quota for Potter was but $20,500. Since the township subscribed $26,500, it has therefore gone handsomely over the top.

SAME COMMITTEE FOR S. A. DRIVE.

The same woman's committee has been appointed in Centre Hall and Potter township to solicit funds for the Salvation Army, which is making a nationwide drive for $13,000,000. The campaign opened on Monday and lasts this week only. When the solicitor asks you for your contribution give it freely, for the returned soldiers, to a man, have only praise for the Salvation Army lassies. They did their whole duty; they rendered real service to the soldier boy who needed it most.
