many other pests. The facilities for travel have brought Asia and our Pacific const together, while the possession of the Philippines has multiplied the occasions for intercourse with the far east. Thus, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, the diseases of Asia threaten the lives and health of the American population, and the situation has been aggravated by the conditions of war. With the unvarying persistence of bubonic plague in Asia, it seems timely to lay further stress on these points. The obstacles in the way of successfully grappling with the plague problem in Asia are almost insurmountable. The natives object to wholesale inoculation and rat destruction; hence the only effective mode of procedure is most difficult to carry out. Religious scruples against the slaughter of animials, even vermin, are prevalent throughout India. Consequently it may be taken for granted that plague will continue to persist in

The only serious effort ever made to end war has been given the endorsement of thirty-two nations. It is generally conceded that the League of Nations has little chance of success without the participation of the United States. That participation must be with the approval of the Senate. It is within the bounds of possibility that the hostility of a few Republicans, inspired by partisanism to one man, the President, is going to defeat the plan to end war?

possibility of general free distribution was eliminated, as it would have required possibly ten times the amount of funds collected in the United States to have supported with project. Since the Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and Red Cross have not assumed in any way responsibility for canteen work, these organizations could operate when and where they pleased and maintain at all times their reputation for work well done. With this and the fact that these organizations gave much for free distribution, which the 'Y' from necessity could not do, an unfair comparison was nade.

"There can be no doubt that the 'Y' has done a great work in the A.E. F. and that time will eliminate much of the fault-finding which at one time was prevalent. The great majority of the 'Y' personnel have been generous, sympathetic and self-sacrificiug. It is evident that much fearless, untiring work was done among the frontline troops. It is to be regretted that this splendid service has been overshadowed in part by criticism for which the personnel in general are in no way responsible."

Asia and as it is extremely rife In the two great ports of that continent, Hong Kong and Bombay, it is not an impossibility that it will be conveyed thence to American ports on the Pacific coast," While there is no doubt that our health authorities are awake to the danger, it is well to know that the danger exists in Asia.

History Repeats Itself.

A charming little incident has taken place in Doctor Johnson's house, Gough square. A party of soldiers visited the Mecca and they got a colored member of the party to read aloud from the famous dictionary. He did so in excellent style. An inquiry revealed the fact that he was a native of Jamaica. All lovers of Johnson will remember it was Francis Barber of Jamaica who was the doctor's faithful servant, to whom he left a handsome bequest. And Barber once went to sea. The coincidence of a Jamaican sailor reading aloud the dictionary in the old house was certainly curious .- London Daily Chronicle.

"Golden Bell," Famous Irish Relic. Curio collectors had an opportunity of obtaining a famous Irish relic at auction recently, at London, England. This is the "golden bell" which, according to tradition, descended from heaven and was used for obtaining information-when all other means failed. On one occasion a pair of saddlebags with $1,700 was stolen, and as all inquiries were useless the priest stated he would swear all his flock on the bell on Sunday.

On the Saturday night a man came and said: "Father, there is no occasion for the golden bell-here is the money, every bit of it, all safe and sound.

Pony Twenty Years in Mine. A mine plt pony called Fulmen (aft-

Fulmen was taken down the South Kirby colliery in April, 1899, and only once has he since been brought to the surface.

This remarkable pony has never had a day's illness, and never met with an accident. The animal's eyesight remains good.

Literary Rocks.

Theodore Dreiser is a novelist of repute, but his novels are apt to be very long-700 or 800 pages in fact. "There are sermons in stones," Mr. Dreiser said at a Greenwich village tea, whereupon a young lady sculptof interrupted him:

"'Yes, that is very true,' she said, but you ought to remember that the precious stones are all small, and that adv they require a lot of cutting.""
