Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly the fish and left a half-pound one in bug!

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND PREVENT INJURY SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medi-cine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do. Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends. Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Save the Babies

NFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syraps sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Cas-toria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no quiates or parcotics of any kind

Terraces require considerable care and attention, especially during the first year, before the loose soil has had time to become settled thoroughly. All apparently weak places should be visited after every heavy rain, and any breaks should be repaired immediately with a shovel. It is best not to cultivate the terraces the first year, but to seed them to some kind of cover crop. It is advisable to run the crop rows parallel to the terraces, one row being planted on top of the terrace. The pillars, upon hatching, feed for several cultivation of the top row tends to days near the ground, hidden by overkeep the top of the terrace at the hanging grasses or grains and thus proper height. All terraces that are cultivated should be plowed at least once a year. and the soil should be thrown to the center. In this way the height of the terrace is kept up and the base may be broadened each year.

Steep land that washes badly between the terraces should not be cultivated. The terraces should first be well built and the entire field seeded mass to a stiff dough by adding lowgrade molasses or sirup, preferably molasses, and scatter the mixture broadcast in small pieces throughout the infested field.

In case the worms are not discovered until they have begun to travel in a mass, usually they can be destroyed by furrowing or ditching completely around the infested area.

Summary of Control Measures for the Army Worm.

1. Watch fields of growing grass and grain carefully, especially the meadows, during the spring and early summer months, to discover the army worms before they become full grown and spread over the entire farm. When the worms are discovered at work, do not lose a minute, but attack them vigorously by means of the measures outlined in foregoing paragraphs.

to grass and used for pasture or meadow.

When it is found necessary to cross a farm road in terracing a field, the building of the terraces should be continued across without regard to the road. Where the terraces are as much an 20 feet broad, no provision need be made for passing traffic across them, but they should be carefully maintained to prevent possible breaks. Where the terraces are not more than ten feet broad, considerable inconvenience to traffic and injury to the terraces generally results where no provision for crossing is made. Sometimes the water is carried under the roadway by a culvert, but the principal objections to this are that the capacity of the waterway is greatly reduced and the free flow of the water through the culvert is often obstructed by stalks or other trash washed from the field. A wooden bridge spanning the channel, so as not to reduce very much the cross-sectional area of the waterway, makes a more desirable and satisfactory crossing.

* FOR HOME GARDENERS

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Home gardeners will find that all of the most common insects and diseases attacking vegetables are catalogued in the United States Department of Agriculture's Farmers' Bulletin 856. which will be sent free on request of the department. This bulletin tells how to detect the presence of destructive insects and diseases and how to prevent and fight them.
