A CHANCE FOR A WORLD PEACE.

President Wilson's return to America bearing the world's greatest peace treaty together with the covenant of the League of Nations, had started the battle that will decide whether the United States will make possible the most ambitious and only practicable attempt to keep the world at peace.

Although the Senate has debated and wrangled over the League of Nations for months these affairs are now considered merely as skirmishes and attempted ambushes. Then the opponents of the League were learnedly discussing a matter of which they had no official knowledge and little information of an unofficial nature. That situation permitted flights of fancy, such as "he prediction that Uncle Sam would have to patrol the world and walk a beat in the Balkans or Kamchatka, or be governed by the black, brown, and yellow races. Now these Republican "nonpartisan" enemies of the League have the official treaty before them and must discuss its provisions, thus being curtailed in the use of much lurid "patriotism" and fireworks of "pure Americanism."

The President has reported to the Senate briefly, telling of the high ideals that actuated the framers of the treaty, reserving his heavy ammunition for the real battles to come. Confident of eventual success he has challenged his opponents to summon him for first-hand knowledge of the "inside" doings at Paris, and, with the reluctance born of chagrin, they will do so.

The "getting under" method of complete surrender is now working nicely. Many of those anti-Wilson choristers known to history as the "round robins" are perfectly well aware that they will vote for the ratification of the League covenant eventually, even without amendment or reservation. So, paving the way for their submission to the mandate of the nation at large, they are preparing mattresses in the shape of "reservations" to break their fall on the day the final vote is taken. If each and every reservation fails the alibi of the hopeless fight is at hand, and further consolation will be found in the probable announcement that "the business interests of the country demanded that peace should be formally declared."

Woodrow Wilson has proved his ability to arouse the people by tours of the country before this. He is the avowed crusader for the League of Nations, and when he couches his lance in rest for the combat, with his gift of idealism deftly melted with practicalities, many a partisan enemy in the Senate will roll in the dust of public condemnation.

NEW $100 AND $1000 T. S. C.

New Forms of Government Savings Certificates are Now Ready.

The $100 and $1000 Treasury Savings Certificates are new forms of Government Savings issued in connection with the $5 Savings Stamp and the 25 cent Thrift Stamp. The new denominations are offered for the convenience of investors, eliminating the former necessity of saving a number of stamps in small denominations.

HOW ISSUED.

The new certificates are issued only in registered form with the name of the owner written in at the time of purchase. The registration records will be kept at the Treasury Department, Washington, by means of registration stubs taken from the certificates and forwarded by the agent issuing the certificates. This registration feature automatically protects the purchaser against loss.

WHERE TO OBTAIN THEM.

The $100 Certificates may be obtained at all first and second class Post Offices, incorporated banks and trust companies. The $1000 certificates may be obtained at incorporated banks and trust companies.

THE COST.

The $100 (maturity value) Treasury Savings Certificates may be purchased this month (July) at $93.60, the price of 20 smaller Savings Stamps now selling for $4.18 each. The cost will increase 20 cents each month reaching $84.60 in December, 1919.

The $1000 (maturity value) Treasury Savings Certificates may be purchased this month (July) at $836, and the price will increase $2 each month so as to reach $846 in December, 1919. (Six Savings Stamps, 1919 series, can be converted into $100 and $1000 Certificates.)

MATURITY AND INTEREST.

All 1919 issues of Government Savings Stamps and Certificates mature in January 1924, with interest at 4 per cent, compounded quarterly.

Government Savings in 25c, $5, $100 or $1000 denominations are an ideal investment. Investment in even the smaller 25c Government Thrift Stamps will start you on a safe and sure Savings Plan. Exchange these for larger Savings Stamps at any authorized agency or Post Office and they bring you a good rate of interest with the privilege of redemption upon 30 days notice. Stamps and Certificates increase in value each month, and when redeemed, the full cash value, including interest, is paid you. By all means, if you can, hold them until maturity, and secure the full interest rate.
