DEMOCRATIC ROAD LAWS.

It was Democratic legislation that brought to fulfillment the national demand for good roads. The success of that legislation in realizing the wishes of the country is exemplified by statistics covering the period from 1913, the beginning of President Wilson's first term, to September 1, 1919. In the six years there were constructed more than 15,000 miles of almost perfect highways. But for the assistance given the Federal Government, the several States would have been unable or unwilling to bear the whole cost of these improvements. But for Democratic laws no Federal aid would have been forthcoming. The Government is now matching with funds from the Federal Treasury every dollar that any of the States devotes to the building of its roads. In addition to the millions that have been voted for this purpose by Democratic Congress, it is proposed to appropriate $400,000,000 to continue the work after 1921. Senator Sheppard, a Democrat, is the author of this proposal.

The whole trend and tenor of Republican legislation in the past has been in favor of special private interests which wanted immunities and subsidies and privileges at the expense of the masses. There is no better illustration of the spirit and purposes of Democratic law-making than that manifested in this roads legislation, which brought benefits to every section and class of the country.

POSTMISTRESS AT WOODWARD A SUICIDE.

Miss Mabel Wolfe Ends Her Life By Hanging, at Her Home.

Miss Mabel Wolfe, for the past eight years postmistress at Woodward, ended her life early Monday morning at her home, by hanging. Her mother, Mrs. I. M. Wolfe, was away at the time, and a neighbor woman, who was working at the Wolfe home, found the body about six o'clock in the morning, hanging from the ceiling, a scarf having been used, one end about her neck and the other fastened to a hook in the ceiling of her bedroom. She had jumped off a chair.

Miss Wolfe was some thirty years old. The reason for her rash act is a mystery to those who knew her best. She was apparently in good health, was faithful in her position as postmistress and was held in high esteem by her acquaintances.

Besides her mother two sisters survive: Mrs. Harry Stover and Mrs. C. D. Motz, of Woodward. Burial was made at Woodward.

Prof. Krise Seriously Injured.

Prof. W. A. Krise, who for the past several years has been an invalid and whose locomotion has been by means of a roller chair, was most painfully injured on Sunday afternoon when he fell from his chair onto the concrete walk at his home, fracturing as well as dislocating his left hip. He had moved his chair from the inside onto the porch and was waving a good-bye to his granddaughter and great granddaughter, Mrs. Nina Auman and daughter Dorothy, who were in an auto on their way to Bellefonte to take a train for Ohio. Mr. Krise moved his chair so as to get a better view and in some manner fell from it, striking the concrete walk with the above noted result. A physician placed the hip in place, but owing to Prof. Krise's great age (81 years this week), the fracture was not reduced.

It is feared that the unfortunate occurrence may hasten the aged gentleman's end. While an invalid Prof. Krise was in comparatively good health and was enjoying life.

Hurt in Motorcycle Accident.

His right shoulder broken and having sustained serious lacerations and abrasions of the flesh on his arm and leg, Harry L. Burris, of Earlstown, is off duty now and for some little time to come. He was the victim of a motorcycle accident Sunday afternoon. A friend, Frank Rupert, of Altoona, the owner of the motor, was visiting at the Burris home and after dinner they went to Penns Cave. Returning, they reached the hill at the George Heckman home, east of Centre Hall, and took the descent at a very high rate of speed. Rupert was steering the motorcycle and Burris occupied the rear section. The driver claims the control of the gas feed failed to work and there was no way to check the speed on the hill. There was a spill and after rolling over and somersaulting for a time the young men came to a stop and wanted to know why the train didn't whistle at the crossing. Rupert was given a good shaking up, but could proceed with his machine. Harry was less fortunate, but he is getting along nicely.

Ralston-Brooks.

A very pretty wedding took place at high noon, Wednesday of this week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Brooks, west of Centre Hall, when their daughter, Miss Mamie Thressa Brooks, became the bride of Hugh M. Ralston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ralston. Rev. R. R. Jones, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony which was witnessed by a large number of relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride is a lovable young woman, possessing a grand personal charm. She is a graduate of the Centre Hall High school, class of 1919. The bridegroom is a young man of unblemished character, sterling worth and integrity. "A perfect match," is what their friends say, who wish them much happiness and prosperity.

At Garman's Opera House.

Frank Jones, America's foremost Yankee comedian will be seen again this season in "Si Perkins," a rural play abounding in comedy, with just enough plot to interest all, at Garman's theatre, Thursday Sept. 25. You will see the threshing machine in full operation on the stage, the dance of the deacons at the county fair and several other most elaborate scenes. Supporting Mr. Jones is a cast of well known performers, assisted by a big rube band. During the engagement there will be a street parade and a band concert at night in front of the theatre. Prices, 25c., 35c., 50c., 75c., $1.00.

COURT NEWS.

Verdict in Favor of D. W. Bradford in Tractor Case.

[Reported by Gettig & Bower]

The case of D. W. Bradford vs. John Snaveley was on trial all of Monday afternoon and closed Tuesday afternoon and brought to recover for an International Harvester Tractor with plow attachments, which the plaintiff claimed to have sold to the defendant about August 1st, 1918, for $1000.00, the writer gathers the same from the testimony, after some work had been done by the defendant for the plaintiff, with the use of the tractor. The plaintiff claiming an absolute sale to the defendant and that he had supplied all defective parts, while the defendant claims the sale to have been a conditional one and that the machine was defective and that he did not feel like paying for it owing to the conditional sale or purchase. The case was submitted to the jury who returned their verdict Tuesday just before noon in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for $1100.00 with interest from February 1st, 1919.

The following criminal cases were disposed of on Monday:

Commonwealth vs. Clarence Simpson. Charged with selling liquor without a license. Prosecutor Samuel Sankey. The defendant appeared in open court on Monday morning and waived the finding of a Grand Jury and threw himself upon the mercy of the Court, but was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $50.00 and six months in the county jail for having furnished a half pint of whiskey to a man of known intemperate habits, in the Borough of Philipsburg.

Commonwealth vs. Martin Miller. Charged with assault and battery. Prosecutor L. W. Spicher. The defendant waived the finding of the Court and was sentenced to pay the cost of prosecution and a fine of $25.00.
