Last Thursday, the big day of the Milton fair, was wet throughout. Several auto loads of Centre Hall people enjoyed (?) the day.

Mrs. Philip Heim, of Spring Mills, and Clarence Heim, of Harrisburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colyer, in this place, Saturday.

Penn State trimmed her old football rival—Bucknell—at State College, on Saturday, by the score of 9 to 0. The game was played in a downpour of rain.

Tyrone is enforcing the speed law to the extent of making numerous arrests. According to the expression of one auto driver, the town is catching the outside fellows and letting the home guys go on speeding. Oh, well, Tyrone is no worse than the average town in that respect.

The new bus line, from State College to Lewistown, via Tusseyville and Pottery Mills, and operated by Major T. D. Boal, was opened last week and is running daily on schedule. The new line bids fair to become a popular means of travel through Penns Valley and over the Seven Mountains.

Aaron H. Harter, of Harrisburg, was in town for a short while on Saturday afternoon, having come here from New Berlin, where he attended the Lutheran Synod. Mr. Harter who for many years was engineer in the Harrisburg city electric light works, now holds a similar position on Capitol hill. He is looking fine and feels as good as he looks.

Raymond Westwood, of Munson, and Bernard Brown, of South Phillipsburg, are two over seas veterans who are receiving vocational training at Pennsylvania State College. Both young men were wounded, the former having lost an arm. Thus through liberal legislation, maimed soldiers will not only be able to provide for themselves but be of continued service to the nation.

Sometime in June, William Glenn, of near Lemont, found a fawn only a few days old in a clump of bushes on his farm. The little animal was almost famished and Mr. Glenn carried it home and he and Mrs. Glenn got it to drink milk and it was revived and became quite tame. Recently Mr. Glenn notified the game commission to the effect that he did not care to keep the young deer any longer and Harry Wingard, the Coburn game protector, was authorized to get the fawn and place it in the state reserve near Coburn. Mr. Wingard obeyed instructions, but the little deer is too tame to stay in the reserve and stays on Mr. Wingard's premises, where it is given all the milk it wants to drink and all the oats it wants to eat. Mr. Wingard states that the fawn very frequently follows members of his family into the house.

Read J. L. Decker's new advertisement in this issue. Mr. Decker sells the New Edison, the talking machine which has won renown by reason of the tone tests which have been conducted with it. Read in that ad. what the tone test means.

Many Farmers Working Too Many Acres.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture suggests that to obtain the maximum result from his soil, the farmer must use his brains in the business of farming as much as his muscles.

The successful farmer must love his work and then he will put his life and efforts into it. Success is assured under these conditions.

The wide-awake farmer constantly keeps in mind the quality of the crops he grows. Nothing but the best will satisfy him. He must advertise in order that the purchasing public may know where they may obtain the best. If the farmer produces better wheat, or apples, or eggs, or anything else, than the other fellow; and can get his produce before the customer as distinctly his produce he will have no difficulty, and success is assured.

Why has no other instrument been subjected to the TONE TEST?

There are many devices for the reproduction of sound—more than ninety makes, it is said. Many are widely advertised. Why has but one been subjected to the Tone Test? The reason is clear. There is but one which can meet the Tone Test, and that is THE

New Edison

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Tone Test is the supreme and searching test of an instrument's quality. In a Tone Test, the artist stands beside the instrument in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of his voice. Occasionally the singer ceases while the instrument continues alone. Can you tell when the break occurs? That is the question. Can you distinguish the living voice from the RE-CREATED voice? More than two million people have sought to do so. Not one has succeeded.

More than 1500 public Tone Tests have been conducted. Always the New Edison has emerged successfully.

Come and satisfy yourself about the New Edison. We will gladly demonstrate it.
