DOGS HELPED TO WIN WAR

Part Played by Pets of the American Soldiers Should by No Means Be Overlooked.

A bewildering mass of printed matter is accumulating which bears upon the relative and intrinsic usefulness of various agencies which contributed to the welfare and comfort of the American army in France. There is also much discussion of the part which French women and children played in mitigating the loneliness and hardships of service far from home. But little has been said of the service rendered by French dogs.

Some authorities claim that on the average there was a pet dog to every company of soldiers averaging 250 men, at the outset. This would make 4,000 dogs for 1,000,000 men, or 8,000 dogs for the entire American army in France when the armistice was signed.

It is quite possible that these thousands of pets contributed more to the winning of the war than all of the dogs used for scouting and watching, and even those that served in the Red Cross to find wounded and exhausted soldiers and carry first-aid comfort to them where they lay, in obscure places not easily discovered by human sense. For the pets helped mightily in keeping up the morale of men tired and battered by the hard work of the campaign. They were "on the job" all the time. They were a moral tonic and they taught, as fine dogs always do, the kind of devotion and loyalty which is the very soul of a good army.

If 8,000 dogs, or only 5,000, were kept as pets by American soldiers in France it is certain that they provided millions of hours of pleasure for weary men and soothed a multitude of homesick hearts. They typified the affection which does not grow cold, the faith which never wavers, and such steadfastness was good for fighting men to think about, in an alien land, close to battle and the chance of death.

Get New Legs. A young soldier walked with military stride into the office of the disability reviewing board at Camp Dix yesterday and presented himself to the officer at the desk. "What's your trouble?" asked the lieutenant as the soldier handed over his certificate of disability rating by the camp examining board. "No legs, sir," answered the soldier. "What's that?" asked the officer, who had seen the man walk into the room, his soldierly bearing attracting the admiration of the officer's eye. "Both legs gone, but they've fixed me up almost as good as new with artificial ones," answered the soldier, who is Sergt. Samuel F. Hall of near Somerville, Mass., and the first soldier minus both legs who had been brought up to Camp Dix for discharge. He demonstrated he had learned to walk with the use of his new legs with perfect ease and was therefore given an immediate discharge. Except for the loss of his legs, which were below the knee, Hall was in perfect physical condition. Under the terms of his war risk insurance Hall's injury constitutes a total disability and he will draw $100 a month for the rest of his life.—New York Sun.

"I Never Knew You Could Keep Rate Out of a Butcher Shop." What Ralph Watkins says: "Figured rats around store had enough to feed on; wouldn't touch anything suspicious. Heard about RAT-SNAP, gave it a trial. Results were wonderful. Cleaned out all rats out in ten days. Dogs about store night and day never touch RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by C. M. Smith, Centre Hall; W. C. Meyer, Spring Mills, Pa.

Many of our people seem to be of the opinion that since the war is over there is no real necessity to invest their savings, earnings and income in government securities. This is a mistaken idea.

Prior to the war it took over one billion dollars to finance the several departments of our National Government. In addition hereto we had a billion dollar debt. Now we have a debt of over twenty-six billion dollars. It takes more than it did prior to the war to finance the Government; the interest on our war debt is also over one billion dollars annually; we must also prepare to pay off the principal of the bonds and other debts of our Nation as they mature. Our government needs our money. It is up to us to loan it to our government when we know that the interest received therefrom, when invested in Treasury Savings Certificates, is four per cent. compound quarterly. The principal invested in these securities is not subject to state tax nor is the income subject to income tax. Where can you get a better or safer investment than that offered by our government in the form of Treasury Savings Certificates?

Let us resolve to purchase during the remaining days of October Treasury Saving Certificates at $34.20 each (maturity value $100.00), or the limit of $1000.00 maturity value paying therefore $342.00. All certificates are registered in the name of the owner. They are redeemable upon ten days notice. They mature January 1st, 1924.

Respectfully submitted, W. HARRISON WALKER, Chairman Group 3 War Savings Division Third Federal Reserve District, Bellefonte, Pa., October 20th, 1919.

Why has no other instrument been subjected to the TONE TEST?

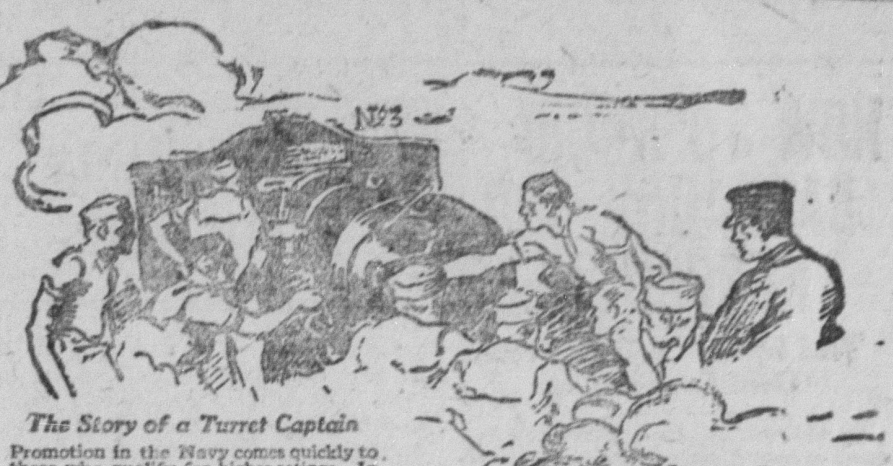

There are many devices for the reproduction of sound—more than ninety makes, it is said. Many are widely advertised. Why has but one been subjected to the Tone Test? The reason is clear. There is but one which can meet the Tone Test, and that is THE

New Edison "The Phonograph with a Soul!"

The Tone Test is the supreme and searching test of an instrument's quality. In a Tone Test, the artist stands beside the instrument in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of his voice. Occasionally the singer ceases while the instrument continues alone. Can you tell when the break occurs?—That is the question. Can you distinguish the living voice from the RE-CREATED voice? More than two million people have sought to do so. Not one has succeeded. More than 1500 public Tone Tests have been conducted. Always the New Edison has emerged successfully.

Come and satisfy yourself about the New Edison. We will gladly demonstrate it.

The Story of a Turret Captain. Promotion in the Navy comes quickly to those who qualify for higher ratings. In March 1919, A. F. Wilson enlisted in the Navy as an Apprentice Seaman, 3rd class. In April 1917 he was rated Chief Turret Captain. His pay today is $105.76 per month.

A man's life—among men!

Reel them off—"Rio", Gibraltar, Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admiringly on your big ship—your ship! Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for some port worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and about that will make you a welcome man in any company. Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men. Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play. These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas—sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.

And when you come home, you'll face life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect. The Navy builds straight men—no mollycoddles.

Enlist for two years. Excellent opportunities for advancement. Four weeks holidays with pay each year. Show leave to see inland sights at ports visited. Men always learning. Good food and first uniform outfit free. Pay begins the day you enlist. Get full information from your nearest recruiting station. If you do not know where the nearest recruiting station is, ask your Postmaster. He knows.
