THE OFNTRE REPORTER. THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1919.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

William Garis left monday morning for Luxor, where he found employment for the winter.

Mrs. F. O. Funk, on Monday went to Pittsburg, where she will remain among friends for a short time.

Miss Katharine Bradford, who is in nurse training at the Bellefonte hospital, spent a short time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bradford, on Saturday.

Rev. Victor H. Jones, of Catawissa, arrived at the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Jones, for a few days, from which place he will go to his new pastorate in Altoona.

Miss Rena Wagner, of Spring Mills' who teaches the Murray school in Gregg township, was a guest of her sister, Miss Esther Wagner, at the Thomas Delaney home, at Old Fort, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharer, of Centre Hall, attended the State Grange, at Pittsburgh, last week. Mr. Sharer is master of Progress Grange and as such had voting privilege in sessions at Pitts-

The State Grange in session in Pittsburgh last week passed a resolution encouraging the members of the organization to purchase Red Cross seals to aid in the battle against tuberculosis.

J. Frank Smith and son, Swengle, of Bellefonte, drove to Centre Hall on Sunday to visit Mrs. Bella Kerstetter, at the home of E. W. Crawford, who is suffering from a fall. The lady is an aunt of the former.

William J. Smith, the local dairyman, purchased a registered Jersey cow from M. W. Wert, of near Rebersburg. She is a very fine animal, and will be ured to build up a Jersey herd, baving been bred to a registered Jersey bull.

The student body of Penn State College will cast a vote on its opinion of the League of Nations pact on Tuesday, January 13, when other colleges throughout the country will take a like action. The vote will be taken through the "Penn State Collegian" the student weekly newspaper, opinions will be voiced for or against the pact and with or without reservations.

The Holland supper given by the members of the local W. C. T. U., on Saturday night, was a decided success financially and otherwise although it was an exceptionally bad night from a standpoint of weather. The gross receipts were over $150.00, which it is thought, will net a profit of at least $100. This fund will go to the milliondollar Jubilee Fund being raised by the organizations throughout the United States to make the world dry.

A meeting of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, held in Jaffa Temple, Altoona, was attended by Messrs. C. M. Smith, J. Cloyd Brooks, of Centre Hall, and L. F Mayes, county-treasurer elect. Mr. Brooks was one of a class of seventytwo to take the Mystic Shrine degree, the other gentlemen being members of the order for some years. Over one thou sand Nobles attended the banquet. The chief business of the sessions was the election of officers.

To those who stood by the W. C. T. U movement, when its forces were a real factor locally against booze, it was more than a little satisfaction to see the general support of the citizens given the Holjand supper, in Grange Arcadia Saturday night. There is, indeed, today a strong anti-booze sentiment in Centre Half and surrounding country, and this spirit has been largely cultivated and developed by a little band of women, first berated and now praised for their community work.

Tom Thumb Wedding.

The "Tom Thumb" wedding, the big society event of the season, will be held in Grange Hall on Friday evening of this week, and will be well worth attending. The bride and groom, clergyman, attendants, relatives and friends, even the rejected suitor, will form part of the cast of seventy characters. The entertainment will prove entertaining and is managed by May Burnworth, director. Admission 35 and 50 cents. Tickets will be on sale at Emery's store.

Annual Election.

The annual election of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Centre County will be held in the Grand Jury room, Court House, Bellefonte, on Monday, January 12, 1920, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., for the election of twelve directors for the ensu-

NOT HURT BY WARM CLIMATE

Writer Denies That Life in the Tropics is Enervating to Whites Dwelling There.

The opinion is widespread in northern climes that a continuously warm elimate, unbroken by sharp periodic changes, is enervating and detrimental to the white man. This opinion is substantlated by a considerable variety of evidence. Exception, however, is taken by Vaughan MacCaughey, writing in Science.

Hawaii is sub-tropical. The significant fact is that the "white" population lives "American style."

The hours of labor for business men, professional men and laborers are just s long as in northern regions. The holidays and vacation periods are no more numerous. The lunch period is one hour at noon, and there is no

A white laboring class does not exst in Hawali. This is due, however, not to elimatic conditions, but to the conomic competition of cheap oriental labor. It must be acknowledged that the hange from a northern to sub-tropcal climate does not always agree with he white women. Some suffer from poor health and more or less profound functional derangement. However, the problem is an open one as to whether this is directly due to climatic maladaptation.

FRENCHMAN'S WORK OF ART

Beauvais Cathedral Clock a Remarkable Example of Ingenuity in Its Construction.

The clock of Beauvais (France) cathedral is said to be composed of 92,000 separate pieces. One sees on the 52 dial plates the hour, the day, the week and the month; the rising and setting of the sun, phases of the moon, the tides, the time in the principal capitals of the world, together with a series of terrestrial and astronomical evolutions. The framework is carved oak, eight meters by five meters, or 26 feet by 161/4 feet. When the clock strikes all the edifice seems in movement. The designer wished to depict the Last Judgment. This wonderful work recalls the clock of Strassburg and is of modern construction. It is the work of M. Verite, who was in the engineering department of the Nord railway, and who died in 1887. The cock crows, angels sound a trumpet at the four cardinal points, imitation of flames appears from the openings of little steeples right and left. A soul, that of the impenitent thief, appears before the supreme Judge. It is condemned. "a l' senfer," and a demon armed with a pitchfork seizes it and cests it into the abyss. Next comes the soul of the just. The angels advance and conduct it to the realms of day, sacred strains being heard.

Spread Love of Good Music. The greatest factors that exist at the present time in the spreading of music and the inducement of a love for it, are the music-reproducing machines of all kinds. What these have done to promote general musical knowledge cannot be overestimated. Why, you meet people who, a few years ago, would not have known the name of one great musical composition, who now are familiar not only with the composers, but with their foremest interpreters and the ways in which these interpretations have been conceived. These people know every pote of works they hadn't even heard a few years ago.

It is not enough for a composition to be great to help the world, apparently; it must be known to be great. With a man it is a different matter. Do your work well, and you will be judged by it. There are always those who can judge if one's work is good; let them judge.-Exchange, Change of Ownership.

A poorly clad stranger had been gazing for such a long time with interest at a mansion, with its spaclous, stately carriage drive and wellkept grounds, that a policeman at the corner grew suspicious and walked up to him. "Nice house," said the officer genially. "Yes," was the reply. "It's a very nice house, and it cost money, too." "It did that!" said the officer. "I built that house," said the stranger. The officer looked at the seedy individual and smiled. "What did yer do it with," he said-"a spade and hoe?" "No," replied the man sadly. "with money left me by my uncle. It is not exactly as I would have designed it, nor had I seen it before-" "You never saw it before," said the officer, "and it ain't just as you'd like it, but you built it with money left you by your uncle; that's a good joke." "It's all true," said the seedy stranger; "the owner was my lawyer!"

England and America. The language and traditions common to England and America are like other family bonds; they draw kindred together at the greater crises of life, but they also occasion at times a little friction and fault finding. The groundwork of the two societies is so similar that each nation, feeling almost at home with the other, may instinctively resent what hinders it from feeling at home altogether. Differences will tend to seem anomalies that have slipped in by mistake and through somebody's his own standards, not feeling as in the presence of foreigners, that he and put himself in another man's

The Price of Pork Chops and Bacon

NEWSCHOOL STATE OF THE LOCAL STA

Here are reasons why the fine, fresh pork tenderloins and pork chops, or savory ham, or crinkly bacon, which you enjoy for breakfast, cost much more per pound than the market quotation on live hogs which you read in the newspaper:

An average hog weighs 220 pounds.

Of this, only 70 per cent (154 pounds) is meat and lard.

So, when we pay 15$ a pound for live hogs, we are really paying more than 21¢ a pound for the meat which we will get from these animals, even after taking into account the value of the by-products.

But people show a preference for only one-third of the whole-the pork chops, fancy bacon, and choice cuts from juicy hams.

This means that when we are selling Premium bacon at 431/2 per pound wholesale and Premium hams at 30%, there are other parts for which we get as low as 6¢ or 8¢ per pound. The net result is an average profit to us of less than 1% a pound.

The choice cuts are higher because of a demand for them.

Another thing: Only 35 pounds of the entire hog-or about 1/6th-is usually marketed at once. The rest must be pickled, cured, or smoked. This takes months, and adds to the costs which must be met.

Try One Brunswick Then Decide

The best way to know for yourself the superiority of the Brunswick Tire is to buy one and compare it.

That is, if the very name of Brunswick isn't sufficient proof to you, as it is to most men, that here is an extraordinary tire. Thousands of men who have known the name of Brunswick for years, realize that a Brunswick Tire has to be the bestfor a mediocre product could never bear this historic name.

Long before the Overland Trail became famous, the House of Brunswick was established. It was one of the chief users of rubber for fifty years before automobiles came into use.

No concern with such a history could afford to offer anything but the best. For reputations are built slowly, but can be quickly destroyed.

This is a practical guarantee that Brunswick Tires offer more than the usual, yet at no added cost. Get your first one now. You'll not be satisfied until you
