In Iceland Every Mary Has A Lamb

An Iceland Mary and Her Lamb; Also "Little Brother."

Did you ever hear "Mary Had a Little Lamb" in the Iceland tongue? Probably not! So, if it be of interest to you, try this:

Hinn Maria erfi Hild lamb
A lagna hvítu seki andlor
Hvert Maria skoppaði út eina inn
A eftir lammið for.

Also you may tell the children that Iceland holds the world's record for Marys and pet lambs. Mary is a favorite name there, and about every child has a long haired, affable lamb. These pets are more intelligent than our "Wall Street Lambs."

This particular Mary is a sub-job of an old Iceland family, now residing in the United States. Some thousands of Icelanders have, in recent years, come to America, settling in North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Washington. They are generally farmers.

The Interchurch World Movement is making a survey of these people in its program to assist the alien to become a citizen in deed as well as word.

Forest Fires in Centre County.

Forest fires destroyed last year, according to a report issued today by Gifford Pinchot, Commissioner of the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry. The estimated damage to the burned area amounted to $4000, and George H. Wirt, chief forest fire warden, received reports of 36 fires in that territory. Commissioner Pinchot will wage a determined fight against fires in the forests of Centre county this spring. During the dangerous period, the full strength of the State's forest firefighting forces will be thrown into the woods to protect the timberland. Experiments will be made with wireless telephones to determine their value in summoning help to check fires. Pennsylvania's new forester said:

"The first big job of the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry is to control forest fires. What fires actually burn is a small matter compared to what they prevent from growing. Because they keep between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 acres in Pennsylvania from producing lumber, our people have to import from other states nearly all they use at a yearly cost of freight alone of more than $25,000,000."

4 Boys Held on Serious Charge.

Paris Craze for English Nurses.

The Bois de Boulogne (writes a special correspondent of Manchester Guardian) is a lovely scene. Besides United States soldiers riding and French soldiers walking, and members of the Polish legion with their square, floppy caps, one sees there numbers of children—French children, of course, but more than half of them had English nurses, and were speaking English to them. It is very noticeable, this fashion for English-trained nurses. The children's clothes are modeled much more on the lines of English children's clothes—bright-colored cloth coats and little beaver hats.

Fear Radium Shortage.

A shortage of radium was recently forecast by Dr. Blanchard B. Moore of the United States bureau of mines. "It is difficult to estimate the amount of radium in existence at present," said Doctor Moore. ### New Bell Telephone Co. Rates.

new and additional plant, as well as the providing of new plant to reconnect into the system the 35,000 who change their location. This phase of the telephone business is here stressed not so much because of the financial effect upon the Company, as to indicate the paramount interest of the public in the quality and scope of their service. Any change of the present policy of the Company in this respect would change the attitude of the public from that of general acquiescence to that of open and active protestation.

To attract new capital unimpaired credit is essential.

As the rate of return of public service companies is limited by regulation, such companies can appeal for money only to the relatively small classes of conservative investors, such as savings, educational and charitable institutions, and individuals whose income is derived wholly or chiefly from invested capital.

Increasing the rates for telephone service, and thus adding to the burdens now being borne by the public by reason of the high costs of the necessities of life, affords neither pleasure nor gratification to the officers of this Company. They are constrained to take this course by their plain duty to their patrons, their employees, and the holders of their securities and stock.

Yours very truly,
(sd.) L. H. KINNARD, President,
The Bell Telephone Co. of Penna.
