METHODIST HOME IS TO BE ENLARGED.

Annex To Be Built This Summer as Haven for the Aged of the Church.

Last week the board of managers of the Methodist Home for the Aged, of the Central Pennsylvania conference, met at the Home on Washington avenue at Tyrone, and decided to build an addition to the rear of the Blair mansion, now the Home for the Aged.

The F. D. Beyer & company, of Tyrone, will have charge of the construction work, no definite contract being given. The total cost of the annex will approximately amount to $60,000.

The annex will be built to the rear of the present building and will be 40x72 feet, four stories high, with concrete basement. The building will be of brick and concrete and will be absolutely fire proof in every respect.

In the near future another annex will be erected at the west end of the Home. When the present work is finished at least forty-five persons will be accommodated and when the west end annex is built seventy-five guests will be entertained at the Home. Work on the improvements will be started immediately.

Arrested in Bellefonte for Theft of Car.

Harold Acherman, aged seventeen, of Columbus, O., was arrested at Bellefonte on Saturday on a charge of having stolen an automobile from the Riverside drive garage at New York, where he had been working recently. Acherman is said to have taken a Cadillac seven-passenger car out of the garage on Thursday and after changing the license plates and substituting other New York state tags for them, drove to Bellefonte. The car was first noticed parked on the lawn between the jail and the court house and the suspicions of Sheriff Dukeman were aroused by the appearance of the car and the youthful driver. The sheriff determined to watch the car and soon afterwards Acherman appeared and drove to a restaurant on Linn street where he left the car and started toward the railroad. The sheriff gave chase and soon had him in hand. When searched he had but one penny in his pockets.

Death often reveals to the public the unknown famous family connections of famous people, or shows that their birthplace was some obscure little village that the public never once thought of as having been the childhood home of a celebrity. Mrs. Carl Tulowitzki, a native of Russia, died last week at DuBois, where she had resided for thirty-two years. She was the mother of film-dom's greatest "vamp", Theda Bara. The latter was born in a village in Tioga county. Until his death was announced few people knew that Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, and who spent the greater part of his life sailing the seas, was born at Cresson, away up in the Allegheny mountains where no body of water bigger than a frog pond could be found.—Phillipsburg Journal.

THE DEATH RECORD.

JAMISON.—Thomas Benjamin Jamison, for fifty years a resident of Spring Mills, passed away on Saturday morning at 7:05 o'clock, after an all winter's illness due to his advanced age. He was a son of Adam and Elizabeth Jamison and was born in Georges Valley seventy-nine years and eighteen days ago. He was engaged as a carpenter and farmer during his earlier life and later as an insurance agent and Justice of the Peace of Gregg township, which office he held for the past eighteen years, and at the time of his death. Mr. Jamison was a good citizen and took a lively interest in the affairs of his own precinct as well as those of State and Nation. Religiously, he adhered to the Lutheran faith, while politically he was a staunch Democrat.

His wife, who survives, was Miss Jennie Miller, of Pine Grove Mills. There remain four daughters and one son, namely, Mrs. Joseph Peters, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Fred Martin, of Martinsburg; Mrs. R. E. Hoffman, of Philadelphia; Mrs. R. A. Miller, of Tyrone; Edward Jamison, of near Centre Hall. Also one brother, William Jamison, of Williamsport.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock, and burial made at Spring Mills, Rev. R. R. Jones officiating.

ZIEGLER.—Daniel Ziegler, an aged resident of Millheim, dropped over dead in the yard at his home on Monday morning. He complained of a troublesome throat early in the day and his daughter gave him a tablet to relieve the condition. He then said he intended to cut some wood at home, and departed. An hour or so later his wife had occasion to leave the house and was horrified to find her husband lying on the ground, dead.

Mr. Ziegler was aged about seventy-eight years. He was a harness maker by occupation and for a number of years was employed at Centre Hall by D. A. Boozer. He was still active at the time of his death. He was a member the Lutheran church. The funeral will be held to-day (Thursday) and burial made at Millheim, Rev. J. J. Weaver officiating.

Surviving him are his wife, one daughter, Miss Mabel Ziegler, and the following sisters and brother: Mrs. B. H. Arney, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. Geary Van Pelt, of Ithaca, New York, and James Ziegler.

MILLER.—Report of the death of Dr. E. L. Miller at his home in Mt. Dora, Florida, has reached Centre Hall, the home of his boyhood days. Death occurred on Friday and burial was made at Mt. Dora on Sunday afternoon. He was aged about sixty-five years.

Dr. Miller spent the greater part of his life in Johnstown where he practiced his profession. Five years ago he removed to Florida with his family and became successful as a grower of citrus fruit.

His wife, who was formerly Miss Joanna Atherton, survives with two children: Mrs. Frank Marvel, of New York City, and Clarence Miller, at home.

FULLMER.—Levi H. Fullmer, born June 23, 1837, departed this life at Rebersburg, April 22, aged eighty-two years, ten months, twenty-nine days. He is survived by his wife and one son, John, of Lewistown. He is the last of a family of four. At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in the three months service and later for three years. Of the family three boys served in the war—Isaiah and William both died in service. He was a highly respected citizen, and member of the U. Evangelical church. Funeral services were held at the home on Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Shank, his pastor. Burial in Union cemetery.

POTTERS MILLS.

Miss Dorothy Hanna has been confined to her bed the last week suffering with rheumatism.

Kathryn Sinkabine, of Penn Hall, was a caller in this town on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. George McCormick, Mrs. Frank Palmer and Miss Caroline McClaskey spent Saturday afternoon at Centre Hall.

Louis Foust spent Sunday with his children at this place.

Clayton Wagner was home from Port Matilda to spend Sunday with his family.

Mrs. Thomas Henney, of Latrobe, is spending sometime with her mother, Mrs. Anna Hartman.

John McCormick and wife and Mrs. Seibert, of State College, and Mrs. Margaret Hutchison, of Bellefonte, spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. Carson.

Miss Martha Yearick, of near this place, was operated on in the Bellefonte hospital last Thursday for appendicitis and is recovering nicely.

Ellis Hepnigh and wife and Mrs. Alice Bible, of Georges Valley, spent Saturday evening at Joseph Carson's home.

John William Blausser returned from Philadelphia last week. He had been to the Jefferson hospital and had his tonsils removed.

Charles Ramer and family, of Milroy, and Steward Jordan and family, of Tusseyville, called at the Blain Palmer home on Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Wilkinson and little boys are at the John Wilkinson home.

WHAT THE THRIFT-SAVINGS MOVEMENT MEANS

Opportunity to Save and Invest Small Sums in Profitable and Safe Government Securities.

Have you ever stopped to think what the Thrift-Savings Movement really means, or is it still confused in your mind with war days and with drives of war-days? Briefly defined, the Thrift-Savings Movement of the United States Government is an opportunity given the people to commence to want to save, to commence to save, and to make it possible and easy for them to save.

The government is looking ahead and it has looked behind, too. In looking behind, it has taken note of the fact that very few people, comparatively speaking, have managed their affairs so that poverty in old age would not be their lot. The main reason for this is that so few people, still speaking in a comparative sense, have learned that Thrift is the good management of the business of living. Have you realized that fifty-four people out of every hundred are not self-supporting at sixty-five years of age? They have failed to save in their producing days. Or in the language of the street, they did not save "while the saving was good." In looking ahead, the government sees that more and more people will be "down-and-outers" if they do not save for themselves; it wants its people to become prosperous, financially comfortable and happy.

It is to help people save, to make it possible for them to save safely and to make it possible for the "little fellow" especially to get ahead, that the government is conducting the Thrift-Savings Campaign and making 25-cent Thrift Stamps, $5.00 Savings Stamps, $100 Registered Treasury Certificates and $1000 Registered Treasury Certificates available to the public at post-offices and banks.

The government wants its people to save for themselves and to save systematically because it is the proper thing to do. Any thinking man or woman can readily see that the happy person and the happy home are those which are comfortably prosperous and which are not forever in the dark shadow thrown by the wolf scratching at the door.

WHICH IS SAFER: OLD SHOE OR U. S. VAULT?

The Shoe On the Other Foot. It is better to be safe than sorry where your savings are concerned. The money which costs you long hours of labor with brain or hand to save, which cost self-denial and will power, should be safeguarded in every way. The difference between safeguarding savings and failure to do so is amply illustrated by what happened to the savings of George Dumblinsky, of Greensburg, Pa., and Mrs. M. L. Struen, of Butte, Montana. Each had a savings of $3000.

George Dumblinsky hid his savings in a pair of old shoes which he left lying about his boarding house, believing no one would steal anything so apparently worthless as the discarded footwear. But Andy Olvek, a fellow-boarder, decided to return to Austria and he wanted to show his fellow-townsmen the kind of shoes that are worn in America, so he picked up George Dumblinsky's discarded boots and took them with him. When he neared Rotterdam, a fellow-passenger on the steamer told him that he would have to pay $25 duty on the old shoes, so he threw them overboard, and Dumblinsky's $3000 with them. That was Dumblinsky's life savings, and it was gone forever.

Mrs. Struen invested her $3000 savings in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps. Recently her store was robbed and everything of value taken. But the loss of the Liberty Bonds and Savings Stamps did not worry her, for they were registered in her name, and could not be disposed of by the robbers. She will get her money in full, for the registration by the government has protected her, and she will secure duplicate securities if hers are not recovered, but George Dumblinsky will never recover his $3000 from the ocean.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?
