Ohio Governor Wins Fight for the Presidency

FIGHT NARROWS TO TWO

Delegates Voted Down Motion To Adjourn And Forced Continuance Of Balloting Until Well Into The Morning.

Auditorium, San Francisco.-Gov. James M. Cox, of Ohio, was nominated for President by the Democratic National Convention on the forty-fourth ballot.

The victory for Governor Cox came at 1.40 o'clock A. M., after the convention had been in session since 9.30 o'clock Monday morning, with the exception of three and a half hours, and had taken 22 ballots altogether.

Withdrawal from the race by Attorney-General Palmer after the thir. ty-eighth ballot, when ex-Secretary McAdoo was holding the lead, opened the way for the Cox victory. The organization behind the Ohio Governor got busy at once and he soon jumped into the lead, crossing the 500 mark on the forty-second ballot and getting a clear majority of thedelegates on the forty-third ballot.

The McAdoo people evidently saw what was coming, for they tried to force an adjournment just before the forty-second ballot, but the Cox people fought this proposition hard and voted it down. They renewed the motion after the forty-third ballot, but it was drowned out by a chorus of "Noes."

Cox Gains From The Start. On the forty-fourth roll call Cox gained two in Alabama and then picked up three more when the Arkansas delegation went solid for

Then he picked up another one in California and two more in Colorado. Connecticut threw Cox another and Delaware chipped in one. Three more fell into the Cox column from Florida, making the delegation solid. Illinois added four more to the Cox column. Indiana went solid for Cox, giving him 30.

Palmer Stepped Aside After 38th Ballot.

Auditorium, San Francisco .-- Attorney-General Palmer at 9:45 o'clock P. M., at the close of the thirty-eighth ballot, released his delegates and left the Democratic National Convention free to move out of its deadlock and nominate a Presidential candidate.

The changes on the thirty-ninth ballot, the first taken after this break came, were: Cox gained 85, McAdoo gained 34 14. Davis gained 21 14 and Palmer retained 74 of his 211. The totals were McAdoo, 440;

Cox, 468 1/2; Davis, 71 1/2. Carlin Announces Withdrawal.

The Convention reassembled at 8 P. M. after a recess. Two ballots were taken and on the second Palmer's vote had touched 211. It was apparent that it could be driven no higher. Former Representative C. C. Carlin, of Virginia, Mr. Palmer's manager, thereupon took the platform and announced the withdrawal of the Attorney-General from the Chairman Robinson, in presenting Mr. Carlin, told the convention significantly that he was presenting a man who had an announcement to make which he was confident the convention would want to hear.

There was a roar of "Hurrah for Palmer" as the lines broke and the convention went into a recess. The denouncement, coming at the end of thirty-eight hard-fought and fruitless ballots, gave the same effect as does an over-inflated automobile tire when it bursts with a bang and then sizzies down.

Word From M'Adoo Asked.

During the recess there was circulated about the floor copies of a telegram from Judge Moore, Cox's manager, to Daniel C. Roper, of New York, accredited with being one of the McAdoo managers, charging that "a crowd of Government employes and Treasury officials are for their own personal ends and in defiance of Mr. McAdoo's expressed wishes, improperly using his name to create a deadlock in this convention." Charging that several delegations were packed with Government employes, holding out for the nomination of Mr. McAdoo, Moore's telegram charged that "the action of the 1: Cox, 13. payroll brigade is creating a national scandal to the ruin of the Democratic | Davis, 16.

Party." "They know there is no chance to 3; Cox. 23. nominate him." the telegram continued, "but hope to bring about a situation where they can deal off the delegates to some candidate where their jobs will be protected."

Judge Moore expressed the opinion that Mr. McAdoo would not be a party to such a deal and urged that in his own and his party's interest he wire the convention forbidding the use of his name.

Like Country Fair.

While the caucusing was going on the floor of the convention hall took on the aspect of a country fair ground with a lot of electioneering going on. Here and there was a speaker on a chair making a stump speech for his favorite candidate with an admiring crowd about him. One speaker would try to draw the other fellows forward after the manner of a ballyhoo man on a midway. Some of the delegates called for order and a start of the balloting.

Some of the McAdoo leaders admitted that Cox might get a majority, but argued that would not help him. as they would not weaken and would insist on his getting the necessary two-thirds by his own efforts and without their help.

At 10.12 o'clock Chairman Robinson decided the convention ought to go back to work. It went into the thirty-ninth ballot with a new enthusiasm. It was like a fresh start toward home after a long and vexatious delay at the roadside.

The 39th Ballot. The shifts and changes of the ballot were important. Alabama, first crack out of the box, broke 16 to Davis, taking all of Palmer's and one of McAdoo's for it. Arizona threw her four for Cox back to McAdoo. Arkansas divided her two for Palmer equally between Cox and Mc-Adoo.

Georgia's 28 went solid for Mc-Adoo, as forecast, and the McAdoo demonstrators got a great noise out of it.

Illinois gave her Palmer two to McAdoo. Indiana took 18 from McAdoo and threw them to Cox. A vote for Colby appeared in Massachusetts and Cox got 33 there. That was enough to put the Cox parade in motion and it started off with a deafening roar. The band and organ opened up in the droning air concerning "Ohio." The red-coated Cox band marched out in single file spreading itself across the width of the first balcony and let out a crashing din. One of the Cox boosters brought in a full-blooded game-cock on a standard and paraded the unhappy bird about the hall.
