The Williamsport Sun makes this remark: It will take something more than G. O. P. ingenuity, politics and money to make an average senator a president in a few months between June and November.

Candidate Cox don't look too wet when you know that Senator Sheppard, long a leader of the Anti-Saloon League, has declared he will give his support and vote in November.

Chairman Hays' explanation that the law and order plank was dropped from the Republican platform because it was "meaningless and useless" is all right as far as it goes, but if that test should be applied to the other planks also there would not be many of them left. Like Candidate Harding's speech of acceptance the G. O. P. platform is rich in words, just words, and nothing more. If any are dropped out for any reason they never will be missed.

Scouts Camp At State College.

Over two hundred boy scouts have attended the usual summer scout camps held on the campus of the Pennsylvania State College during the past three weeks. Health talks, nature studies, hikes and games occupied most of their time. Troops from Philipsburg, Tunkhannock, Huntingdon and Petersburg were there for a week at a time.

Ask for State Police Protection.

Many requests for State Police protection at State fairs, Grange picnics, and other large outdoor gatherings are being received by Major Lynn G. Adams, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Police Force. He is meeting all demands for the services of his troopers in every part of the State.

In addition to the safeguards thrown about picnics and fairs, the police are carefully patrolling the country-side districts during the absence of the farmers from their homes. Under the new system, recently inaugurated by Major Adams, the dwellers in rural sections are given double police security.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Merchant C. M. Smith has traded in his Overland car for a new Dodge.

If money talks and time is money, of course we have to pay overtime for an encore.

H. W. Buck and family, of Portsmouth, Ohio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Geary during this week.

Mrs. Mayer and daughter, Rhoda, of Milliflinton, motored to Centre Hall and spent Tuesday at the F. P. Geary home.

Mrs. Emma Breen disposed of her household goods at public sale, in Centre Hall, yesterday (Wednesday) and today expects to leave for Tamaqua, Schuylkill county, where she will live with her daughter Mrs. "Jack" Barnes. Mrs. Barnes and baby son, "Jack" Barnes, Jr., will also leave today for Tamaqua, which will be the new home for all.

Mr. Barnes having recently been transferred from Dover, New Jersey, to the city mentioned, by the Atlas Powder Company, with whom he is employed as a chemist.

FOR SALE.—Buick automobile and three-speed Indian motorcycle for sale; both in good shape.—C. A. Horner, Pleasant Gap, Pa.

RECEPTION FOR LUTHERAN PASTOR AND WIFE.

Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Drumm Return From Motor Trip to Find Church Filled With Parishioners.—Nice Donation Made by Members.

Nearly three hundred people—members and children of the Penns Valley Lutheran Church—gathered in the Lutheran church at Centre Hall on Tuesday evening for the purpose of tendering the new pastor, Rev. M. C. Drumm, and his wife, a reception and donation, and thus manifest a spirit of good will and fellowship.

Of course, it was planned to keep the whole matter a surprise to the pastor and his wife, and to make it so E. M. Huyett, with his family, took Rev. and Mrs. Drumm on a pleasure trip, going by automobile to the eastern part of the county and returning just in time to reach the church when all had gathered there. All five appointments on the charge—Centre Hall, Tusseyville, Spring Mills, Georges Valley, and Farmers Mills—were well represented, and when all were comfortably seated in the auditorium, T. M. Gramley, president of the joint council, "broke the news" to the pastor in his characteristic happy and pleasing manner, and Rev. Drumm responded, admitting that it was a surprise, and then facetiously remarking that while he knew it to be custom to tender receptions of the kind, in view of his being here already six weeks, he was beginning to think that there was none coming. Rev. Drumm then spoke feelingly of the relations between pastor and people, and expressed the desire to be not only pastor of the Lutheran people, but a citizen of the town, and as such take an active part in all things tending towards its uplift and betterment.

The church choir sang several selections and Miss Miriam Huyett pleased everyone with a beautiful soprano solo. Several members from various points on the charge spoke informally and then all repaired to the Sunday-school room to receive refreshments. Sandwiches, pickles, ice cream, cake and coffee were served, and a pleasant hour was spent in social intercourse.

The study of the church was used for gathering in donations and finally resembled a small sized grocery store, with its varied assortment of groceries, flour, breakfast foods, etc., so that old H. C. L. should hold no terror for the pastor and his good wife for some time to come. A dozen hens will attempt to keep the table supplied with fresh eggs.

Miss Cora Homan Rushed to Hospital

Miss Cora Homan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Homan, east of Centre Hall, was rushed to the Bellefonte hospital Wednesday morning where she will submit to an operation for appendicitis. She had been complaining for several days of pain in her side.

LINDEN HALL.

John, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Krumrine, met with a painful accident on Monday. While playing in the yard he fell against a sharp stone, cutting a deep gash above the eye. Dr. Gerhart was quickly summoned and sewed up the wound.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hall and daughter Virginia spent the week-end with friends in Huntingdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wieland returned Thursday from a trip to Harrisburg and Lebanon. They were accompanied home by their daughters Edwina and Mildred, who have been in Philadelphia for some time.

Mrs. Ruth Gerhart and young son accompanied Mrs. Lewis Swartz to her home in Braddock and will visit there for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Yocum and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, of Pine Grove Mills, spent Sunday with Mrs. Williams' sister, Mrs. J. W. Keller.

Harry Potter and sister, Miss Mary Delinda, were guests in town on Sunday.

SPRING MILLS.

Rufus Finkle, of Philadelphia spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Finkle.

The members of the Lutheran congregation went to Centre Hall to a reception for their pastor, Rev. M. C. Drumm, Tuesday evening.

Wm. H. Allison and family are visitors at the Wm. Allison home.

C. G. and Wilbur Decker and Randal Meyer have gone to Philadelphia to bring home cars purchased by Decker Bros.

Thomas Decker and wife, autoed to Williamsport on Saturday.

Mrs. Sarah Corman, sons, John and Guy, Mrs. Austin Long, Mrs. Gross Shook, autoed to Cressona and spent a few days with Rev. Roy Corman and wife.

Miss Renna Wagner is serving as substitute for her father as mail carrier.

A bad penny turns up, only to be turned down.

The rabbit multiplies very rapidly, but it takes a snake to be an adder.

In politics the proof of the pudding is in the distribution of the plums.

At any rate the sins of omission cost us less effort than the sins of commission.

Some people are so busy helping others that they have no time to mind their own business.

FARM FACTS

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

SPRAYS.—Watch for potato aphids. If it is abundant spray at once, using one pint of Black Leaf 40 in 100 gallons of Bordeaux mixture. Hit the foliage from beneath, directing the spray upward so as to drench the tips of the shoots.

Spray now for the second brood codling moth. Use lime-sulphur 1-40 and lead arsenate (dry), three pounds to 100 gallons of mixture.

ORCHARD.—It is about time to stop cultivation of the orchard with the exception of peaches and to sow a clover crop. Rye, crimson clover, vetch buckwheat or oats are the most commonly used.

GARDEN.—This is the best time to write down in a safe place the names of varieties, strains and the seedmen you have had success with this summer. Then next winter you can order wisely.

DAIRY.—At the present time there are 932 cows in 103 herds on Advanced Registry semi-official test in Pennsylvania. Since January first there have been 350 Holstein cows on official short-time test. If you wish to test during the winter of 1920-21, you should notify the Dairy Department at State College as soon as possible.

PASTURE will soon be dry and short. A dairy cow may continue to produce a fair yield of milk, but at the expense of her flesh. In order to start cows in the fall milking season in good condition it is advisable to supplement poor pasture with some grain and roughage.

FRUIT PACKAGES.—Apple and peach packing containers should be on hand now, and if not, should be secured at once. The size, name of the variety and packer is required by law to appear on each closed package.

WOOL.—It is advisable to hold all wool in safe storage until market conditions are better.

LIME.—Send in orders now for your supply of lime and ask for early shipping date. There is a shortage of box cars and those who order late are likely to be disappointed when lime is needed in August and September.

FERTILIZERS for Autumn seeding should be ordered now. Prices are lower and freight is less on carload orders than on small amounts. Co-operate with your neighbor and order a carload.

PINE GROVE MILLS.

Most of the wheat in the barn, but there is still some to cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albright report a chubby little boy, No. 3, at their home.

Hon. J. W. Kepler, of Johnstown, spent Sunday with his family in the Glades.

George Grazier has again gone west, his second venture in ten years.

Prof. G. R. Dunlap, who figured in an auto accident several weeks ago, is improving but is still on crutches.

Mrs. Robert Reed, who has been under the knife in the Bellefonte hospital, is slowly recovering.

John D. Danley and wife, of Medina, O., are here for their annual visit at the parental home.

W. W. Keller, of the Pittsburgh mail service, and his wife, are spending their vacation among friends here.

P. S. Gray sold his farm of 200 acres, with new house and barn, to G. W. and Guy Rossman, for $7,500.00.

After a pleasant visit to old friends and neighbors at Medina and Cleveland, O., and Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith returned home Thursday.

Wm. E. Sasserman, a Pennsy employee on the Pittsburgh division, with his son Fred, are enjoying an outing along Stone Creek.

A severe hail storm passed over the western part of the county on Saturday afternoon, and flattened many corn fields.

Last week, Stuck & Kline purchased the Reed garage and took possession at once. James Kline sold his lumber interest to Elmer Long. Mr. Kline has a big lumber job on hand on old Tussey, near Neff's mills.

Married.—Last Thursday, Mandella, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith, of this place, was united in marriage to Vern Kroft, of Cleveland, O., by Rev. W. P. Ard, at Bellefonte. The groom is a successful business man in Cleveland where the couple will reside.

P. G. Mills was defeated by Stormstown in a baseball game on Saturday by a 10-4 score. The Maringo and Fairbrook teams played a game at Maringo the same afternoon, the former winning by a score of 10 to 6. The catcher, Elmer Barto, sustained a mashed nose when he left the ball pass through his mit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Erb, of New York state, spent Friday among relatives in town, after attending the funeral of the former's grandfather, "Squire John Mahon, at Charter Oak, aged seventy-two years. Deceased was a former Pine Grove Mills academy student and a veteran school teacher, having taught for fifty years, and served as justice of the peace for four terms. His wife and a number of children survive.

A slight frost at Hazelton Monday morning is said by weather sharps to indicate a mild winter.

Daughter of Aguinaldo in U. S. Capital.

When General Emilio Aguinaldo was leading the Filipino army against the American forces twenty years ago he probably little dreamed that some day a daughter of his would visit the city of Washington and would be given a great reception at the famous Congressional Club! And that the wives of 120 members of the American Congress and two wives of members of the President's cabinet would call upon her to pay their respects!

But all this actually happened when Miss Carmen Aguinaldo, his nineteen-year-old daughter, visited Washington recently. And those wives of the American statesmen expressed themselves as both charmed and surprised at the refined, tactful, college educated young miss who greeted them.

"Miss Aguinaldo was simply delightful," was the expression of one congressman's wife. "She was very modest, yet she acted so natural and thoroughly at home that she captivated everybody."

On another occasion while in Washington Miss Aguinaldo was given a rousing ovation by a Filipino-American audience when she recited "My Last Farewell," poem of Dr. Jose Rizal, the Filipino martyr.

Miss Aguinaldo is a student at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill. While in Washington she was the guest of Mrs. Jaime C. de Veyra, wife of one of the resident commissioners from the Philippines. The Capitol building and the Congressional library appealed particularly to the young Filipina, while the beautiful sights from the Washington monument thrilled her with delight. When asked how she liked America, she smiled and answered:

"It is a wonderful country. I didn't like winter at first, but since I have learned how to skate I am having fine times. All the Americans whom I have met have been very good to me. My friends in Urbana and my classmates in the university are just lovely, but I cannot help feeling homesick at times because I am missing my father. My coming here was indeed a great sacrifice for him, for we are very close. He is so good to me."

Miss Aguinaldo is intensely patriotic. She does not conceal her resentment when she hears or reads of a misrepresentation of the Philippines. "It is unfortunate," she once exclaimed in a voice full of sadness, "that my country and my people are hardly known, much less understood, by the people of America."

Politics is tabooed in any conversation with this Filipino maid. She evades the topic by replying that she is too young to express opinions on things political. "All I can say," she declares, "is that I share with my father in the desire for independence for my native land. There is no question about our being able to govern ourselves."

Filipinos declare Miss Aguinaldo has a "genuine Filipina temperament"—that is, she does not believe in the occidental custom of "dates" between young men and women. She does not see anything wrong in it, she says, but it is such a violent departure from the custom in the Philippines that she cannot adopt it.

"You might laugh at me," she said, "but I cannot go out with one single escort unchaperoned. I simply can't. I will go back to my country with the soul of a Filipina."

A newspaper in one of the large American cities that Miss Aguinaldo visited expressed the opinion that she would no doubt be greatly impressed by the sight of street cars and some of the fine residences she would see, but the truth is the young lady was raised in Manila, where she has seen an up-to-date street car system all her life.

Next Thursday a Community Picnic Day on Grange Park.
