

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Huckleberries are now ripe and the crop is said to be a good one.

Bruce D. Rowe, of Philadelphia, is home on a two weeks' vacation.

Miss Anna Garis has returned from a week's visit with her sister, at Burnham.

Four weeks from Saturday the 47th annual Encampment and Fair opens.

Mrs. J. H. Knarr and son Bruce visited at State College for a few days last week.

Prof. and Mrs. N. L. Bartges and daughter attended a family reunion in Nippenose Valley, on Saturday.

Misses Rhoda Cromley and Jessie Sankey, of Millburg, were guests of their friend, Miss Lola Ulrich, for a few days last week.

Letters testamentary on the estate of Samuel Durst, late of Centre Hall boro, deceased, are published in this issue by D. K. Keller, the executor.

Al Bradford, of near Milroy, witnessed the Centre Hall-Burnham ball game at Centre Hall on Saturday afternoon, his son holding down second base for the visitors.

The Milroy correspondent to the Lewistown Sentinel says: W. O. Rearick is sporting a new Studebaker touring car, purchased from P. M. Headings, of Lewistown.

Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Glenn, and four children, of Carlisle, motored here the latter part of last week for a short stay at the home of Mrs. Glenn's mother, Mrs. Mary Goodhart.

Emerson Ennist, of Potters Mills, was seized with an acute attack of appendicitis early last week, and was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where he underwent a successful operation on Wednesday.

William A. Sandoe, of Ingram, came to Centre Hall last Friday for a brief vacation. He is one of the trusted employees on the Pennsylvania System, at Pittsburgh, and has held the position for some years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bitner, daughter, Esther, and son Samuel, of Tusseyville, made a trip to Union county, on Sunday, in Charles Stoner's car, and visited Mr. Bitner's sister, Mrs. John Neyhard, at Cowan.

Bellefonte is to have a new band as soon as the organization can be effected according to plans now arranged. The new organization will be composed of Italian musicians residing in that vicinity and will likely be a worthy band.

Dr. Robert Gearhart has removed from Stroudsburg to Boalsburg and will be at his office on Main street after noons and evenings until September, when he will be there permanently. If not at office phone J. H. Ross, Linden Hall.

It's not a bit too early to prepare your display for the exhibition building on Grange Park, for the coming Encampment and Fair. The exhibits of farm, garden, orchard and vineyard have always been a credit to the fair and this year's should be as good, if not better than ever.

L. W. Doyle, of Montgomery, was recently a guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Amanda Kerr, in Centre Hall. He is the father of Mrs. George Norton, who with her husband have been stopping at the Centre Hall hotel for several weeks. Mr. Doyle, some forty years ago, was a resident of Centre Hall.

Harry W. Potter started for the Pacific coast last Wednesday, after a two weeks' stay in Centre Hall. He is located at Edmonds, Washington, where he holds a good position with a large lumber corporation. He is a genial young man and has many friends in Centre Hall who wish him success in the land of the setting sun.

Just now Bellefonte is a long way from Centre Hall. The detour chases you around the end of old Nittany. The road to Linden Hall, either by the Brush Valley road or Earliestown route show neglect by the Potter township authorities. By the use of the road drag the both of these roads could be materially improved and this at a comparatively light expense.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Lambert are at the home of the former's parents in Centre Hall, having arrived here by auto on Sunday evening. The marriage of the couple will be a surprise to the friends of Mr. Lambert in Centre Hall, the event having taken place a few months ago in Nashville, Tennessee, the home of the bride, who was formerly Miss Myrtle Tillman. The groom is engaged in window and sign lettering work, and travels throughout the middle west and south. They have not yet taken up housekeeping.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Zerby and son, Master Norman Zerby, of Hampstead, Illinois, are among relatives and friends in Centre county, and while in Centre Hall were guests of the former's uncle, Daniel Daup. Mr. Zerby, who is a brother of Attorney W. D. Zerby, of Bellefonte, went west to farm, beginning by renting. He is now the owner of over four hundred acres of choice farm land in Kane county, near the Wisconsin state line, and last spring retired from active farm life to more fully enjoy their earnings while he and his good wife are yet in full vigor.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

B. D. Brisbin returned home on Saturday after a few weeks' visit with his daughters in New England.

LOST.—An Eastern Star pin, somewhere in Centre Hall, Finder please return to Mrs. William McClenahan.

J. Q. Miles, father of Mrs. G. O. Benter, is seriously ill at his home at Martha Furnace. He is hopelessly paralyzed.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Farnor, of Philadelphia, are visitors at the old homestead at Colyer, having made the trip by automobile.

The road through Centre Hall received an application of oil over half its width, on Tuesday, and the remainder was applied Wednesday.

The comment from the grandstand on the Centre Hall-Burnham game was that the local battery was responsible for the favorable score at the close of the fourth inning.

A. L. Duck, of Spring Mills, was a caller at this office on Saturday. He reported a much harder rain in his vicinity, on Friday night, than occurred here.

Considering the scarcity of help, farmers got along remarkably well during haying and harvest. The crops were taken care of with less complaint than during the three seasons previous.

A regular quarterly meeting of the Centre County Pomona Grange will be held at Unionville, on Thursday, August 19th. There will be the usual two sessions, morning and afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Strohm, of Scranton, are spending their vacation period with the former's mother in Centre Hall. Mr. Strohm is with the International Correspondence School, as textbook writer.

Greatest of Air Dare Devils Falls to His Death.

Lieut. Omer Locklar, America's noted dare devil air pilot, one of whose most sensational stunts was the leaping from one airplane onto another while high in the air, he having thrilled many thousands by his bold feats, is dead at Los Angeles, Calif.

Locklar's plane crashed from a height of 2,000 feet to the earth late Monday night while he was flying for the movies. At least two thousand people, including many movie stars, saw the tragedy.

Lt. Milton Elliot, Locklar's inseparable pal and pilot on all of his hair-raising stunts, was also killed. The plane of this daring pair fell in a straight nose dive like a flaming meteor from a dark sky. The two aviators had been giving a pyrotechnic exhibition 2,000 feet above the earth, and had been engaged in shooting rockets and lights high into the air.

The moving picture cameras recorded all the details of the spectacular drop for as the flaming machine sped earthward the cameras continued to grind. Both bodies were badly crushed and burned beyond recognition.

Too Much Practice.

Lady—What are you crying for, my little man?
Bobby—My father has been beaten me.

Lady—Well, don't cry. All fathers have to beat their boys sometimes.
Bobby—But my fa-father isn't like other fa-fathers. He's in a brass band, and be-beats the big drum.—London Tit-Bits.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO AID SISTERS IN FAR EAST

Realizing that "Civilization rises no higher than the level of its womanhood," women of the New World Movement of Northern Baptists have pledged $180,000 for improvements, extensions in equipment, and additional operating expenses for eight colleges and schools in India, China and Japan. This sum will provide for more doctors and teachers to be sent to the Far East during the coming year.

The largest item of this sum is $50,000 for Gilling College, at Nanking, China. The smallest is for Union Christian College for Women at Madras, India. One of the great objectives of the $100,000,000 campaign of the New World Movement, which begins April 25 and ends May 2, will be to provide greater educational opportunities for women, as in the Far East few have been permitted to attend schools.

VACATION SCHOOLS HELP CHURCH AMERICANIZATION

During late spring bilzards instructors were being trained to meet problems of the hundreds of daily vacation Bible schools conducted by the New World Movement of Northern Baptists. Combining Americanization, industrial training and Bible study, the Northern Baptists in recent years have found this feature of growing importance. Special stress is to be laid on religious education in the $100,000,000 campaign of the New World Movement. Baptists in Chicago last summer maintained 38 such schools, while in New York there were 18, numbering 3,000 students and including no less than 20 nationalities.

State training conferences are to be held in seven cities in the next few weeks, and subsequent meetings will continue until the schools open in July.

Buttermilk Replaces Brew; Lumber Men Now Gather in Huts Of Northern Baptist Denomination

Baptist "Bar"—Mission Hut, Powers, Ore.

"What'll it be, boys?" is still a popular query in this Baptist Mission Hut in the Oregon timber lands. And the husky lumberman quaffs his fresh buttermilk, or his hot chocolate with undiminished relish. The bar is still running full force and is one of the many features that the Westerner likes about the "hut." He can get anything there from Bibles to buttermilk—movies to missionary tracts—and above all, he gets what is rare in that lonely country—human companionship.

The establishment of more such Mission Huts is part of the Northern Baptist New World Movement program for which a $100,000,000 budget will be sought during the week of April 25 to May 2.

A PHILIPPINE TRAVELOGUE

THE ROMANTIC ISLANDS OF THE FAR EAST. PICTURES OF THEIR NATURAL BEAUTY AND HISTORIC SPOTS—BEING A MECCA FOR TOURISTS AND A POPULAR WINTER RESORT.

The Zigzag on the Way to Baguio, Summer Capital of the Philippines.

All aboard! Let's go! We're starting from Manila, the great picturesque, Americanized Oriental city, and will travel by automobile 200 miles to the north to Baguio, the summer capital of the Philippines. The trip can also be made by train.

We have ahead of us one of the most scenic, spectacular and thrilling automobile trips in the world. We will have excellent roads all the way. The Philippines are, in fact, a paradise for autoists, possessing 3,500 miles of fine macadamized roads.

The first part of the trip is through typical small towns and then across the central plain of Luzon and through several rich and fertile provinces, where tropical vegetation is seen at its best. Here one is impressed with the great agricultural wealth of the Philippines, which represents one of the East's greatest producing areas, with the advantage of immense natural resources for the development of further production. It is regrettably true that even in the United States there is far from any real understanding of the potentialities of the islands.

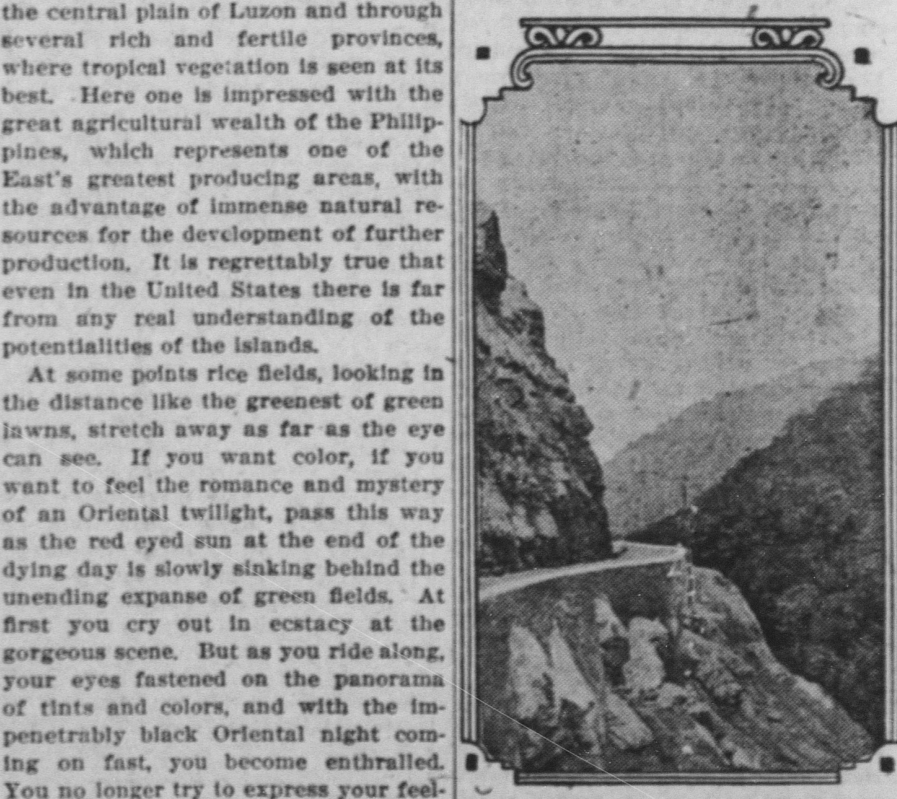

At some points rice fields, looking in the distance like the greenest of green lawns, stretch away as far as the eye can see. If you want color, if you want to feel the romance and mystery of an Oriental twilight, pass this way as the red eyed sun at the end of the dying day is slowly sinking behind the unending expanse of green fields. At first you cry out in ecstasy at the gorgeous scene. But as you ride along, your eyes fastened on the panorama of tints and colors, and with the impenetrably black Oriental night coming on fast, you become enthralled. You no longer try to express your feelings. You cannot. You realize that those now fast changing, colorful masterpieces in the heavens and on the landscape are pictures that no man can adequately describe nor human hands duplicate. So what's the use of trying!

True, these are but impressions, but the travelogue considers himself justified in mentioning them, for they are a part of the trip to Baguio and return. Indeed, the gorgeous sunsets in all parts of the Philippines leave an impression on the mind of the tourist that is everlasting.

We leave the palms and tropical foliage and enter the zone of rugged pine. We pass from the soft, incense laden air of the warm lowlands to the crisp, invigorating ozone of the temperate zone, all within a few hours' time.

For mile after mile the road now follows the tortuous course of a river, the road lying in the bottom or on the rocky sides of a granite canyon.

The Philippines are rich in hydro-electric possibilities. This power is the cheapest power on earth. And it is everlasting. Your travelogue is neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but he predicts that one day there will be innumerable Philippine government owned hydro-electric plants in this canyon we are now passing through. Think of the possibilities of such a project! Today the trip from Manila to Baguio is too expensive for the average Manila worker and his family, many of whom may live and die without beholding the wondrous beauties of their own island of Luzon. Think of what a blessing it would be to Filipino mothers and children to feel upon their fevered brows the cool, invigorating breezes of the mountain tops, now so near and yet so far! With the Philippine government owning its own electric railways and hydro-electric plants it would be possible to bring he is on the rim of the world. Some of the turns are so sharp it is impossible to see 20 feet ahead, and we seem to be perilously near the jumping off place. We wonder if it is safe to lean out and peer into the canyon far below, and when we do we are perfectly satisfied we are flirting with death. Yet the trip is a safe one, providing our driver has better nerves than our own.

"At times we seemed perilously near the jumping off place."

All too soon we reach the outskirts of Baguio, a city among the clouds, and are rather surprised at the modern city we find it to be. In ten years Baguio has grown from a village of huts to the now justly famed mountain resort of the Philippines, sometimes called the Philippine Simla. It is undoubtedly destined some day to become a large city.

Baguio ranges in elevation from 4,500 to 5,500 feet and is surrounded practically on all sides by high mountain ridges and "hogsbacks" towering into the skies at a height of almost 8,000 feet.

Aside from the scenery, which is noteworthy, the great blessing of Baguio is its temperate climate, which is indeed a godsend to those impoverished by the tropical temperatures of the lowlands. Not only is the mountain air rich in ozone, but it has been demonstrated to be extraordinarily free from germs of all kinds.

Each year during the hot season the school teachers of the entire archipelago are enabled by the government to spend a month at the teachers' camp in Baguio for recreation and conference on school work. American army officers and their families also go to Baguio for the hot months.

And now that your travelogue has you in Baguio, he believes he will leave you there, for there are many interesting side trips to take, and, besides, Baguio is the most delightful place for a vacation in the entire Orient.
