Charles Hollocher, the brilliant shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, has been the outstanding star both in the field and at bat of the Cubs' infield to date.

DONLIN RAPS FRIENDLY STUFF BY BIG PLAYERS.

Sometimes a fellow can see a lot more from the outside looking in than from the inside looking out. Mike Donlin sees an influence creeping into baseball that is hurting the game. He says: "What I don't like about baseball today—and I'm on the level when I say it—is that there are too many dollars and too many automobiles in the game. "They don't sharpen their spikes on the bench any more and there are too many handshakes. "Nix on that handshakes stuff! It's all right when you've been away from home for a long time had you meet the lad. That's the time to throw out the mitt—but the people in the stands don't want to see the players hanging over each others' shoulders during batting practice and acting like buddies."

BASEBALL STORIES

Walter Holke is putting up a great game at first base. The fans are coming back strong in New Orleans since the Pels have been winning.

The Akron club has shipped Pitcher Jack Harper to the London club of the Mint League.

"If Carl Mays would pitch the kind of ball he did last year," mourns one backer of the Yankees.

One thing is certain, the Red Sox must have extra good pitching if they are going to stay in the race.

George Kelly has steadily developed into a corking hitter—and now the fans are cheering, not jeering, him.

Critics who spill their weekly dross on the major league races already are using their headline, "White Sox Are Out of It."

Grand Rapids is showing greater interest in the Central league this season than it ever did in the old Central or Western league.

Leo Witterstaetter is back in the International league, the Syracuse club having dug him up and signed him to play the outfield.

"Dudley is by far the most promising youngster in the Southern league—that goes without reservations," writes a Chattanooga critic.

The Memphis club has signed another of those Cleveland sandlot phenoms. His name is Clarence Nemitz and he is a southpaw pitcher.

Dixie Carroll of Memphis is a fiend for stealing bases this year and threatens to hang up a new record for pilfers in the Southern league.

Harold Janvria, ever known as a light hitter, is doing some notable work with the stick for the St. Louis Cardinals. They all hit this year.

One thing the Washington team crows over and that is the inability of opposing pitchers to keep it from crossing the plate at least once in a game.

Arthur Irwin says he has the most promising lot of youngsters in baseball on his Rochester team, but that the most of them are a year or two away.

Pitcher Mike Cantwell, sold by the Phillies to the Buffalo Internationals, preferred independent ball and jumped on transit to a shop team in Pennsylvania.

Coach Lee Fohl makes note of the failure of the Browns to run bases as they should. Runners steal bases on pitchers, not on catchers, says the observant Fohl.

Chief Bender, bound to have that Eastern league pennant, has added to his pitching staff in the person of a flogger named James and nicknamed Jesse, of course.

Jimmy Swetonic, carried as utility man by the Pittsburgh Pirates while Walter Barbare was laid up, was given his unconditional release when Barbare got back in uniform.

Aaron Ward got his chance with the Yankees and made good. Then Bob Meusel got in to show them what he can do. Now Frank O'Doul is due to take a turn at it. And then it will be Fawcett's turn.

Getting four hits in a game is nothing special for George Siler. The records show he has made that many in a game at least 20 times in his major league career, to say nothing of turning in five a few times.

Manager Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals was steered toward a young catcher named Simpson playing independent ball in New York who is said to be a star, but he found that the Cincinnati club had tied him up.

ASTONISHING SPEED OF JAPANESE TENNIS STAR

Shmitzu, known among tennis fans in England as the "wonderful Jap," whose marvelous speed on the tournament courts is winning wide notoriety. It is expected he will play at Wimbledon in the international tournament.

UMPIRES DO NOT USE NEEDFUL DISCRETION

Plastering Fines for Kicking Is Not Well Done.

Some Arbiters Stand for Murder From One Team and Won't Permit Players From Another to Make Slightest Complaint.

The umpires are plastering fines on players for kicking. This is all very well if it is done impartially, but there are times when some of the arbiters seem to stand for murder from one team while another cannot even say "Excuse me" without being chased in a body to the showers and have something subtracted from the next bit of stipend, writes W. O. McGeehan in New York Tribune.

Of course, as a lot of magnates declare, we must have discipline in the great national pastime and, the umpire is the representative of law and order and all that sort of thing. But sometimes some of the umpiring is more or less rotten and calculated to draw as loud a squawl from the player as it does from the innocent bystander. Mr. R. Bipling has said something about the American inclination to flout the law he makes or something like this, and this national trait very naturally creeps into the national pastime, or else it wouldn't be a national pastime. It would be an international one like tennis, where a umpire never yet has been forced to duck a pop bottle even in St. Louis.

It may be that I am entertained by a healthy squawk. And if I am an outlaw for this there are a lot of others with me. Umpiring requires a lot of discretion. That's why umpires are scarce.

year. O'Neill went to the Braves from the Giants in the Nehf trade, after training for three seasons under McGraw, and being farmed out to Rochester for seasoning. He seasoned so fast Arthur Irwin made him first string catcher and later captain of the Rochester club last year. O'Neill is said to be phenomenally fast and his brain-work asset was developed when he was assistant sporting editor of a St. Louis newspaper during the winter season and between practice in the ball yards of the International league.

Jockey Ensor's Pet.

Little Buddy Ensor talked horse between races at Jamaica track recently and spoke of a particular pet of his. "I've liked a lot of the animals I have ridden," said Buddy, "but none like Corn Tassel. There's a horse I love. How he could and would run for me! We were cronies. In the mornings, when the exercise boys would be walking him around the stable, I'd hide in a stall and then give a funny little whistle. "Corn Tassel knew that whistle. He'd jump as though the barrier had gone up and he wouldn't stop tearing until he located me. He knew I always carried sugar lumps for him. He was just like a big pet dog."

NOTES OF SPORT

S. Y. Hord, 21, of Terre Haute, Ind., has been elected captain of the Yale varsity eight for next year.

Elbridge Adams, 21, has been named captain of the Williams college golf team for next season.

All of the other countries are busy telling what a fine lot of athletes they will have at the Olympic games.

It is said that of the 50 prominent preparatory school athletes entering Yale next fall, 13 of them are major sports captains.

By defeating Johnny Bashman, the British champion, Ted (Kid) Lewis has won the right to call himself welterweight champion of Europe.

John Henry, former National, who coached the Cornell university baseball team this season, will not be re-engaged. It has been announced.

The way our golf and tennis players have been performing on the other side makes us think that the Britishers will be beaten at their own games.

Canadian bettors are not in evidence this year. The fact that their money is worth about 80 cents on the dollar decides them to tangle some other game.

The KITCHEN CABINET

For each soul has one inner room Where all alone it seeks the grace To struggle with the sharpest woe, Its hardest destiny to face; To lift the duty that it fears, To love, to trust, through every doom. And not the nearest, dearest heart Goes with it to that inner room. —Anonymous.

FOODS FOR HOT WEATHER.

When preparing the breakfast coffee on a hot morning, add enough to make two or three extra cupsful, which may be served for dinner at night, iced, or for a cool drink at noon. There are so many kinds of cool drinks, from iced tea, coffee and cocoa, to all the fruit juices which one may put up at home, or purchase in the market. To make iced coffee, take the beverage of the usual strength served when hot, add ice and sugar and cream as desired for each glass. A chicken sandwich with a dish of head lettuce with a French dressing, or a more elaborate Thousand Isle dressing, makes a meal with a glass of chilled milk or iced tea, which is sufficiently satisfying for the most exacting appetite.

Lemon Sirup.—Grate the rind of one lemon, add the juice of six, with four cupsful of sugar and two cupsful of water. Boil all together for ten minutes; cool and put into a bottle in the ice chest. When serving, pour a little of the sirup into a glass, add chilled ice and fill the glass with cold water. This is such an easy way to have lemonade always ready to serve.

Gelatin Pie.—Bake a flaky crust on the bottom of a pie plate and, when cool, stir in a pint of any flavored gelatin, beaten until foamy and thick. Cover with whipped cream and serve cut in the usual way. Let stand on ice to become firm and ice-cold before serving.

Velvet Sherbet.—Take the juice of three lemons, two cupsful of sugar, a quart of rich milk and the grated rind of one lemon. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then freeze as usual. This makes a most delicious frozen dish.

Tomato Salad.—Arrange one thick slice of tomato for each cover on heart leaves of lettuce. Over the tomato heap very finely minced celery, cucumber and onion which has been mixed with a French dressing to marinate. Top the salad with a small spoonful of mayonnaise and serve at once.

Labor is man's great function. He is nothing, he can be nothing, he can achieve nothing, he can fulfill nothing, without working.—O. Dewey.

I tell you the future can hold no terrors For my mad soul while the stars revolve, If he will stand firm on the grave of his errors, And instead of regretting, resolve. —E. W. Wilcox.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

Of course there is nothing nicer in a corn dish than corn cooked on the cob and eaten from it with a bit of butter and a dash of salt; but for variety corn may be served in many substantial dishes, furnishing a main dish for the meal.

Squaw Dish.—Sometime when you cannot think of what to eat, cut the corn from half a dozen ears, put into a frying pan two tablespoonfuls of bacon fat and when hot turn in the corn. Stir and cook, adding salt and pepper, adding more bacon fat if needed. Canned corn is very good served in this manner.

Raspberry and Currant Soup.—Bring to the boiling point two cupsful each of raspberry and currant juice, sweeten to taste, thicken with three teaspoonfuls of arrow root, smoothed in a little cold water. Add one tablespoonful of lemon juice and serve cold.

Any fruit such as cherry, strawberry, pineapple or rhubarb may be prepared for a cooling fruit soup.

Ginger Punch.—Take a half-pound of Canton ginger, chop, add three tablespoonfuls of sirup. Cook together and cool one quart of water and one cupful of sugar 15 minutes with the ginger added; cool, strain, add one-half cupful each of orange juice and lemon juice and one quart of ginger ale. Chill and serve.

Lemon Soup.—Add the juice and grated peel of a lemon to four cupsful of water. Bring to the boiling point and thicken with three teaspoonfuls of arrow root mixed in a little cold water. Cook until smooth, cool and serve with cracked ice and bits of candied ginger in each glass.

Date Crumbles.—Take two eggs well beaten, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one cupful each of chopped dates and walnut meats. Mix all together and spread on two greased pie tins. Bake in a slow oven three-quarters of an hour. Crumble and serve in tall glasses topped with whipped cream, or mix with whipped cream and serve.

Maple Parfait.—Beat four eggs slightly and pour on slowly one cupful of hot maple sirup. Cook until the mixture thickens then remove from the heat at once. Cool and add one pint of cream beaten until stiff. Put in a mold, and pack in ice and salt. Let stand three to four hours.

Mint Sangare.—Crush three sprays of mint with a lump of sugar. Put into a glass half full of cracked ice. Add four tablespoonfuls of grape juice and fill the glass to the brim with charged water. Shake thoroughly and strain into another glass. Serve garnished with a sprig of mint.

ODD WEDDING ARRANGEMENTS.

A young professor of physical culture married a beautiful and athletic pupil of his in the suburbs of Paris. The couple appeared before the mayor in tennis costume, and after the ceremony the wedding party sat down to breakfast on the banks of the Seine. Hardly was the coffee finished than, on a given signal, the whole party retired and reappeared in bathing costume. Later the couple started on a bicycle tour for a honeymoon.

QUICK SOUPS.

There are many occasions when a quick soup is a great convenience. A stock pot is helpful but not necessary and for a small family not practical. A good soup stock can be made of beef extract and vegetables of which the following is good:

Slice a large onion into a deep granite dish, add a slice of turnip cut fine, a large carrot sliced, three stalks of celery, including the tops, three dozen peppercorns, six cloves, a stick of cinnamon, three bay-leaves, the same of parsley, sage, thyme and summer savory. Fill the pan with cold water, bring to the boiling point and simmer slowly until the vegetables are well cooked—about one and one-half hours. Strain through a coarse muslin and measure the liquor. For each quart add one teaspoonful of beef extract. Dissolve the extract in a little of the soup stock and add to the rest. Boil up once and serve. From this stock aspic jelly may be prepared by using gelatin.

For corn soup add one cupful of cooked corn that has been pressed through a sieve to six cupsful of the stock.

Carrot soup may be prepared in the same way, using one cupful of minced carrots put through a sieve after cooking. Beans, peas, cabbage, onion or any vegetable may be used in the same proportion.

Split Pea Soup.—Soak one cupful of split peas over night and boil until tender, then drain. Add a sliced carrot, a sliced onion, and half a turnip. Brown the vegetables in a little butter, cover with beef stock, boil up, rub through a sieve and re-heat. A ham bone or a little piece of salt pork may be cooked with the soup.

Peach Soup.—Peel, stone and cut fine a quart of peaches. Break three or four of the stones, pound the kernels fine and add to the peaches, with sugar to taste. Cover with orange juice and one teaspoonful of almond extract; let stand one hour, then put on ice and serve very cold in sherbet cups, with cracked ice.
