Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

HESSIAN FLY injury may be avoided by planting wheat a week or ten days later than the average for this section.

ORCHARD.—It is well to have the land ready where cultivated orchards are to be seeded to a rye cover crops, so that seeding can be done early in September.

GARDEN.—Keep celery and cabbage on the move. A manure mulch or slight application of nitrate of soda will do the work.

CLOVER SEED.—If you have a good second growth of clover and plenty of hay on hand, allow it to ripen; cut and thresh for seed. It is valuable.

POULTRY.—All young stock should be so culled that only the best pullets are retained. All cockerels not to be used as breeders should be disposed of as broilers provided they weigh one and one-half pounds. Locate mate birds now for the next breeding season.

THE DAIRY SIRE should have plenty of exercise, fresh air and sunshine. The best arrangement for him is an open shed with a strongly fenced yard connected.

CLEAN MILK.—To produce a high grade of clean milk, the cows must be kept clean especially about the udder, flanks and other rear parts. The milk should be drawn into a covered pail having a small opening. The pail must be thoroughly washed and sterilized after each milking.

Plans Shaping Up for Farmers' Institutes.

Plans for the Farmers' Institutes in the state for the 1920-21 are rapidly being completed by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. According to the present plans, institutes will be conducted in 66 counties of the state during the coming winter and in each county the arrangements will be in charge of the county institute chairman, the members of the committee and the county farm agent.

The state department is now engaged in booking speakers for the coming sessions and in each instance, the department will furnish the speakers qualified to discuss the subjects selected by the county institute officials. Only one day institutes will be held in each community this year and the morning sessions will be eliminated, the poor attendance at the morning sessions last year making it advisable to hold only afternoon and evening sessions this year.

How to Lower Your Meat Bills

Hints From the Department of Justice

A MESSAGE FROM THE STATE FAIR PRICE COMMISSION TO THE HOUSEWIVES OF THIS STATE.

The women of this state could materially reduce the cost of their food by purchasing the less expensive cuts of meat. These cuts are cheap only in the sense that the price is lower. They are nutritious and, when properly prepared, are highly palatable. Some of the less expensive meat contains higher nutritive value than the most costly portions. But the cheaper cuts are sadly neglected because of lack of information as to their merit and their preparation. As a consequence, the demand for meats at retail is highly uneven. This makes merchandising more expensive and adds to the cost of living. The Fair Price Commission purposes to disseminate information about the cheaper cuts which, turned to account by consumers, will help to reduce meat bills.

FAIR PRICE COMMISSION.

BUY FORE-QUARTER BEEF AND SAVE MONEY.

The fair price commission declares that if consumers will buy more fore-quarter beef—whence come less expensive cuts—they will save money. Here is something which the United States department of agriculture recently said on the subject:

"Because of its reputation as the choicest cut, the people ask for porterhouse steak, whereas if they would try a chuck steak, the chances are it would prove to be satisfactory and it would cost much less. The reputation of porterhouse steak with the consequent large demand for it, coupled with the fact that this cut forms only a very small per cent of the carcass, causes it to sell at a higher price than any other cut.

"If people in general could realize the value of meat from the fore-quarter as compared with that from the hind-quarter and would use more of it prices of meat as a whole would be greatly reduced and would be more stable.

"An abnormal demand for any commodity forces up the price and this condition applies to porterhouse steak or other choice cuts. People should use more fore-quarter meats and reduce prices of living. Any of the fore-quarter meat is good for making meat loaves or Liberty steak, while in some markets, steaks are cut from the rib and sell as short cut steaks."

The department of agriculture shows plainly how expensive it is to discriminate against the fore-quarter beef:

"The average consumer seldom realizes the difference in the selling price of beef taken from the hind-quarters and that cut from the fore-quarters, and if he is aware of it he very likely does not understand the reason therefor. The wholesale prices on hind and fore-quarters of beef are based on a differential of so much over carcass price for hind-quarters and so much under carcass price for fore-quarters. It is seldom that fore-quarters ever sell as high or that hind-quarters sell as low as carcass prices. The average differential is usually 2 cents over on hinds and 2 cents under on fores. At present, the differentials are greater, both over and under.

"The differential is changed according to the market.

This is just the time of year for persons with porterhouse habits to get acquainted with beef from the fore-quarter. Such meat is used largely for roasts and stews. On this account it requires more heat for cooking. In cold weather, when it is necessary to heat the house for personal comfort, there is a double reason for using fore-quarter beef.

Neck Meat of Beef Loaf.

- 2 lb neck meat of beef, ground.
- ½ lb lean pork, ground.
- 1 egg.
- 1 green pepper, chopped fine.
- 2 cupfuls bread crumbs.
- Liquid to moisten.
- 3 slices of bacon.

Mix the beef, pork, egg, pepper, bread crumbs and seasonings with sufficient milk or water to form into loaf. Arrange strips of bacon on top. Bake in loaf or in casserole in a moderate oven for two hours. Cover if necessary to prevent the top from becoming too hard and dry.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.
