

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Paragraphs of News Taken from the Files of the Reporter of 1885.

January 20, 1886.
A new coal yard is being opened at the Centre Hall station.

The Boalsburg hotel property, belonging to the estate of Samuel Stover, was sold to Stewart Brothers for $2000.

John Musser, of Aaronsburg, has purchased the farm of Mr. H. Harter, deceased, near Aaronsburg, 105 acres, at $90 per acre.

Spring Mills will have a grand musical concert on Saturday evening, 30th, under the direction of Profs. Philip and Lowell M. Meyer.

Samuel Long, owner of the cave below Centre Hall, will occupy the hotel built last summer on the spot, and open for business in the spring.

Mrs. Jerry Miller, of this place, met with rather a serious accident on Monday morning. Mrs. Miller, while in the act of descending a pair of stairs with a baby on her arm, tripped on a stair rod, falling to the bottom. Both were considerably cut and bruised.

January 27—Rev. J. Horner Kerr, of Armstrong county, has accepted a call from the Centre Hall Presbyterian charge. Rev. Kerr has expressed his desire to live in this place and if a house can be secured he will do so.

William Kerr, of near Centre Hill, who had sustained a fracture of the hip, a short time ago, died on Sunday last, from the injuries received. His age was too great to bear up under the shock.

MILLHEIM.

(From The Journal)

'Squire E. H. Musser, of Woodward, and his brother, M. A. Musser, of Scotland, S. D., who with his wife are at present visiting in this section, circulated among friends in Millheim on Tuesday.

S. L. Weiser and son, Emerson, of Marion, O., are visiting relatives and friends in Millheim, guests of the former's aged mother, Mrs. Catherine Weiser.

John H. Breen, one of Millheim's oldest residents, is ill at his home on North street.

Mrs. T. F. Meyer and son, Paul, last week motored to Pittsburgh, arriving home Saturday afternoon.

The use of cut-outs is prohibited by ordinance in Millheim and on all public roads by the state law, but the nuisance is very much indulged in here by some autoists. The high constable has been instructed to arrest all violators in the future.

D. J. Nieman, accompanied by his two daughters, Misses Leah and Miriam Nieman, on Tuesday afternoon motored to Jersey Shore, from where both the young ladies will leave this (Thursday) for Pittsburg and enter the Pennsylvania College for Women in that city for a four-year course.

In response to the request from the postoffice department for R. S. Stover, the local postmaster, to get a suitable landing place for mail planes in the act of distress as published in the Journal last week, it can now be stated that A. J. Gephart has kindly agreed to allow the use of one of his large fields west of North street.

The Confer & Bierly cow sale at Rebersburg last Thursday was well attended and the carload was soon disposed of at the average price of $136.50.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shires and child, of Cleveland, O., accompanied by Mr. Shires' mother, Mrs. Ella Shires, who was their guest for several months, arrived in Millheim last Thursday for a two weeks visit.

Mrs. H. T. Frank and daughter, Miss Laura, left Saturday for Harrisburg and Washington, where they expect to spend a week before going to Sweet Briar college, Virginia, where Miss Laura enters as a student.

Ford Cuts Prices on Cars.

Henry Ford last week announced that prices on all models of his automobiles have been reduced on an average of $142 a car, bringing them virtually to their pre-war price. The price reductions range from approximately 14 per cent on trucks to 31 per cent on small automobiles. The Ford company has 146,000 unfilled orders.

There will be no reduction in wages at any of the Ford plants, it was announced. "Now is the time to call a halt on war methods, war prices, war profiteering and war greed," said Mr. Ford.

"For the best interests of all it is time that a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to normal. Inflated prices always retard progress."

The announcement said the price reductions were made despite unfilled orders for 146,000 vehicles.

Will also pay $100 per month to man and wife competent to care for garden; man also to look after furnace. Have all electrical conveniences. Two minutes to street car, which is 25 minutes to center of city. Inquire at office of The Centre Reporter, Centre Hall, Pa. 37tf

Cider Vinegar Sale Made Easy Under Penna. Law.

Country cider vinegar, made by the farmers of Pennsylvania, may be sold to the wholesale and retail trade in this state without inspection or permit of any kind. Provided the vinegar has been made from apple juice and contains no added water, drugs or acids, it complies in every way with the pure food laws of the state.

Director James Foust of the Bureau of Foods, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, this week declared that agents from the larger vinegar distilling plants, many of them located outside the state, have been making strenuous efforts to keep the farmers from making and disposing of their own cider vinegar.

These agents have been going up and down the state telling the trade, particularly the small retail dealer, that he runs a risk of violating the food laws of the state by selling cider vinegar made on the farm.

A recent act of the legislature provides for the interest of the farmers in this particular case. The act provides that there shall be no standards as to solids and acidity for cider vinegar made from apple juice. The act requires, however, that the cask or container of such vinegar shall be marked with the name and address of the person making the vinegar. This may be done on any farm, with a set of stencils or a card containing the information may be attached to the barrel.

Pennsylvania imports great amounts of cider vinegar from New York and Virginia each year. The farmers of Pennsylvania have an excellent opportunity to convert their apples into cider vinegar, realize a good profit and run no risk of running afoul of the prohibition laws. If every excess apple in the state was made into vinegar, the amount would still be insufficient to meet the demand and at the current price of 30 to 35 cents a gallon, cider vinegar returns an excellent investment to the farmer.

HEALTH SCHOOL

Pennsylvania State Department of Health.

ANSWERS TO LAST HEALTH LESSON.

Question 1—What are the early signs of Scarlet Fever.

Answer—Headache, fever, rapid pulse, sore throat, rash.

Question 2—How is the disease spread?

Answer—By coughing, laughing, or talking in the face of the susceptible and by objects handled by patients.

Question 3—How may the spread be prevented?

Answer—By early recognition and quarantine.

The subject of the next lesson is "Vaccination". This discovery of Jenner has made small pox, once universally dreaded, a rare disease. In line with Pennsylvania's policy of prevention all school children of the State are required to present a certificate of successful vaccination before they enter school.

Biliousness

WHEN you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting? This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. There is nothing better.

The PHILCO RETAINER and a Two-Year

Automobile Battery Guarantee

The Philco Retainer as it looks to the acid

The Philco Retainer as it actually is

THE Two Year Guarantee on the Philadelphia Diamond Grid Battery with the Philco Retainer is a contract with the car owner which could not be entered into lightly. The Philco Slotted Rubber Retainer, judged by its results, is the greatest advance in battery construction since the Diamond Grid.

The Retainer holds the active material on the plates and at the same time permits the free circulation of acid and current, because of its slotted construction.

It is the active material which produces the current. As long as it stays in place the battery is workable. The Philco Retainer keeps this active material in place long after it would have dropped out in any other battery.
