GOV. COX AND THE FARMERS.

In 1918, when the whole nation was alive to the necessity of stimulating agricultural production, Governor Cox went to work to aid the Ohio farmers.

He called a meeting of tractor manufacturers and stated that he wanted them to allot at least fifteen hundred farm tractors for sale in Ohio. He then went to the Superintendent of the State Banking Department and obtained letters to every banker in the State, urging financial assistance to farmers in the matter of buying tractors. He deposited two million dollars of the State Industrial Commission funds in country banks, with a hint that they lend at least some or it to farmers buying tractors.

Governor Cox then went to the Federal Reserve Bank and secured a ruling that notes given by farmers purchasing tractors be discounted on the same basis as agricultural implement paper. By these various means the farmers of Ohio were enabled to purchase in 1918 1,932 farm tractors, thus practically doubling the number in the State. This was said to be the most aggressive campaign ever waged by any governor.

Eating Their Own Words.

Eminent Republicans are now dieting on their own words. Mr. Taft is doing rather worse; he is man enough to stick by what he said, but he is partisan enough to support Senator Harding in spite of what he has said on the peace treaty. Henry Cabot Lodge has eaten his own words uttered at Union College, pointing out the way of preventing war, and Governor Coolidge, obliged thereto by the Republican National Convention, is now eating the words in which he welcomed the President back to the United States in February, 1919: "We welcome him as the representative of a great people; as a great statesman; as one to whom we can assure our support in the working out of our future destiny." At that time the preliminary draft of the covenant of the League had been completed, but Henry Cabot Lodge had not arrayed his party against it, and Governor Coolidge had no dream of being a candidate for Vice President on a platform hostile to the world's peace.

THE DEATH RECORD.

SANKEY.—Mrs. Emma Sankey, of Wichita, Kansas, died of cancer of the stomach, at her home in Wichita, on Monday morning, October 4. Funeral services were held on Wednesday. Mrs. Sankey was the widow of Judge Robert Sankey, a former native of Penna Valley. She was an aunt of Marcellus and Miss Edith Sankey, of Potters Mills; Miss Jennie Stahl and J. S. Stahl, of Centre Hall; Mrs. R. T. Bayard, of Tyrone, and Mrs. W. C. Dunlap, of Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Bayard was with her aunt when she passed away.

Community Day at Spring Mills.

Extensive plans are already nearing completion for the celebration of the annual Fall Community Day at the Vocational School at Spring Mills. The program begins with the opening of the exhibits to the public at 1:30 on Friday afternoon, October 15th. Many of the large rooms of the Vocational School will be filled with exhibits of the work of the students, with fruits and vegetables and other products of the farm, with display of labor saving machinery for the home; while outdoors a large number of pure-bred animals will be shown. Cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded the various winners by special judges who are coming from State College. At 1:30 athletic games and contests will be started. One of the features of the afternoon is the relay race in which four schools of the county will take part: Howard, Port Matilda, Centre Hall, and Spring Mills. Supper will be served for a reasonable charge from 5:30 to 7:00. At 7:30 a meeting will be held in the Grange Hall, at which distinguished speakers will present matters of deep interest to the people of this county. The day promises to be one of great value to all who attend. Detailed announcement will be made next week.

Literary Program in Grange Hall.

The first meeting of the Literary Society of the Centre Hall High school will be held in Grange Acadia, Friday, Oct. 15th, at 8 o'clock. The subject for debate is, "Resolved: That our forefathers enjoyed life more than we do;" and the title of the play is "Married to a Safragette." Other good numbers. Everybody welcome.

A free-will offering will be taken. The proceeds are to be used to secure a piano for the high school.

Did Your Potatoes Blight?

During the past summer the Centre County Farm Bureau has conducted potato spraying demonstrations for the control of late blight on eleven farms throughout the county. On each farm a check plot of four rows are left unsprayed. On Monday, Oct. 11th, at 1:36 p. m., we will hold a demonstration, meeting at Lloyd White's farm, located three miles east of Pleasant Gap, on the road from Pleasant Gap to Zion. At this time we shall dig both the unsprayed and sprayed plots, thus checking up on the efficiency of spraying. A similar meeting will be held at Milo Campbell's farm, located four miles east of Penna Furnace, on the Baileyville road. Late blight and the consequent rot can be controlled by efficient and timely spraying. If you are interested in improving the potato crop for yourself and for Centre County you cannot afford to miss these demonstration meetings.—County Agent.

Court News.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. the supervisors of Worth township, a verdict was returned on Thursday morning of not guilty, but the defendants pay two-thirds of the costs and the plaintiff one third.

Commonwealth vs. Ray Crispin, indicted for robbery. Prosecutor, Steve Shuttick. The Commonwealth alleging that the defendant on the 15th day of July assaulted with intent to rob the prosecutor. The defendant's testimony tending to show that he had no revolver and could not be at the place indicated at the time mentioned. Verdict not guilty.

The grand jury made its final presentation on Tuesday forenoon, replying that they had passed on fourteen bills of indictment, twelve of which were found true bills and two ignored, and that they had visited and inspected the county buildings and found the jail in bad condition, and recommended that new linoleum be furnished the Sheriff's office, a new floor in the corridor, and that outside cellar door was in bad condition, and that the roof needed repairs, and that the Commonwealth advised the stable for sale and build a new fire-proof garage.

At the conclusion of the Crispin case, the case of C. Edward Cowdick vs. John P. Eckel, being an action in trespass. This being an action in damages growing out of the accident on the State highway east of Lemont, a complete account of which was given in this paper at the time of the occurrence thereof. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $25.00 for damages to his car and $78.00 hospital bill for the injured child.

Seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over ten years of age, according to a census just completed, are illiterate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country, higher than that of Spain and higher than that of any of the new republics of Europe whose independence is being guaranteed by the Allies.

Stray Cannon Has all Reedsville Folks Puzzled.

Laurie Weller, representative of a life insurance company, of Reedsville, will find a white elephant awaiting his return from the annual vacation which he is spending in Centre county, in the shape of a three-inch cannon of the vintage of 1893, weighing 768 pounds, and with its carriage 1900 pounds, according to a dispatch issued from Reedsville. The tag shows it was shipped by the ordnance officer, Narragansett Bay, Fort Adams, R. I., to Laurie Weller, president of the Monument Association, Reedsville, Pa., but not a soul ever heard of the association or is familiar with its personnel.

Staid citizens of the town gravely point out that it is a violation of the law to carry concealed and deadly weapons of this nature, and that to lead it between towns would require a license and be a matter of time and expense. Some of the more practical suggest that it might be for a monument in Church Hill Cemetery, but no one is willing to accuse Weller of being a dead one. Others suggest that it is intended to stand guard in his chicken yard, but it is pointed out that lead pipe to the amount of 360 pounds lay along the streets for weeks without a piece being stolen.

One of the members of the League of Women Voters said it might be placed in the public square, but a hurried examination of the blue print of the town plat showed that recreation centre is missing. One of the Republican politicians suggests that the wooden plug that closes the muzzle be bored out to ascertain whether it is loaded with grape juice for the campaign. It's a puzzle to everybody.
