Tax Collector C. D. Bartholomew found the female voters of Centre Hall anxious to pay their tax, which would indicate that they purpose making use of the new power bestowed upon them. Of a total of 212 women in the borough, of voting age, 202 have already paid their tax.

Byron Garis, who has been working at his trade, stone-masonry, in Cambria county, for some weeks past, was forced to come home on Saturday owing to illness. His physical appearance was sufficient for his friends to realize that there was something wrong, as he was reduced in weight to the extent of twenty pounds or more.

Mrs. Clara Nelson, of Mt. Union, was a recent visitor at the home of Mrs. Lettie Goodhart, east of Centre Hall. Fifty years ago Mrs. Nelson, then Clara Wilson, was a frequent visitor at the home of Francis Alexander, and was one of the attendants at the marriage of Mary Alexander and John P. Ross, and was one of those who accompanied the bridal party to the Ross home at Farmers Mills. Mrs. Nelson spoke of a number of friends she met on this visit, a few of whom are still living and readers of the Reporter. Although Mrs. Nelson is seventy years of age, she is bright and active and when taken to see Penns Cave, thoroughly enjoyed the wonders of that popular resort.

John F. Mullen, known to many of the Reporter readers, and who for some years past has been a faithful employee of the large dry goods firm of Boggs & Buhl, Pittsburgh, in renewing his subscription to the Reporter, recently, gives a bit of interesting history in his letter. He says: "I did not get to Centre county for my vacation this summer, but spent it with my son in Monroe, Michigan. This is a wonderful fine town, and it is here where the great massacre of Americans by the Indians took place in 1812 and 1813. During the war at that time 'our boys' were promised protection by the British in case they surrendered. But the duplicity of the British was shown when they turned over the Americans to the Indians who slaughtered between seven and eight hundred. The river here ran with blood for miles."

With prices on every form of commodity showing a decided downward trend, salesmen who a few months ago could not supply the trade with all the goods that were wanted, are finding it a difficult matter to interest the merchant at all at this particular time. It is such a condition which caused Ralph E. Dinges to sever his connection with the Hooven Mercantile Company a few days ago. Mr. Dinges went into their employ in the spring and proved himself a capable salesman, his first attempt "on the road" proving a decided success from a financial standpoint to his employers. However, with the present changed conditions and the further uncertainty of the coming winter, Mr. Dinges decided to discontinue his line of work until commercial activities become more stabilized. During the coming winter he will be employed by Bradford & Co., at Centre Hall.

WM. J. BRYAN SAYS FILIPINO WON THE HONORS

(In a signed, copyrighted article written from the Democratic convention hall at San Francisco for the International News Service, William J. Bryan paid the following remarkable tribute to Jose P. Melencio, the young Filipino who is in charge of the Philippine Independence Publicity campaign in the United States.)

By WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

The greatest personal victory yet won in this Democratic convention was scored by a young Filipino by the name of Jose P. Melencio. He has charge of the Philippine Publicity Bureau at Washington.

He is only twenty-six years old and received his education in the public schools of the Philippines—under American teachers, as he proudly boasted—and at Georgetown, D. C. He is a remarkably promising young man.

Speaking with grace, using the best language and without a trace of embarrassment, he presented the claim of the Filipinos to independence. The audience was astonished at the strength of his argument, the skill with which he marshaled his facts and the high tone of his speech. He captivated everyone and committeemen and visitors paid him the compliment of rising and cheering when he concluded his plea.

When one of the committee asked him some questions he returned to the platform and answered them with as much logic and precision as if he had taken weeks to prepare his answer. It was a remarkable triumph.

As one who began twenty-two years ago to fight for the promise of independence I was proud of this illustration of what the Filipino is capable of.

AMERICANS ABROAD IN RED CROSS WORK

United States Citizens Far Away Enthusiastic Members of the "Fourteenth" Division.

Among the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the American Red Cross are those citizens of the United States who live outside the continental boundaries of their country—sons and daughters of the Stars and Stripes residing at the far corners of the earth.

These people compose the Insular and Foreign Division of the parent organization, generally known as the "Fourteenth" Division, which has jurisdiction of all territory outside the country proper; that is, Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Guam, and even the island of Yap, which came under our flag as a result of the world war. For the year 1920 this division reported 30,808 paid up members.

The main object of this division is to give our citizens everywhere the opportunity to participate in the work of the organization which stands for the best national ideals. Americans in far places intensely loyal and patriotic, treasure their membership in the Red Cross as the outward expression of their citizenship. It is another tie to the homeland and to each other. There are chapters of this division in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Canal zone, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, England, France, Guam, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Japan, Manchuria, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Porto Rico, Siberia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela and Virgin Islands.

During the war these scattered members of the Red Cross contributed millions in money, and millions of dollars' worth of necessary articles for the men in service, and sent many doctors and nurses to France. At the same time they carried on an excellent Home Service in their respective communities for the families of those who had gone to war, and in some regions gave large sums of money and immeasurable personal service to the relief of disaster and disease victims.

The division is now establishing service clubs in foreign ports for the benefit of sailors in the American Merchant Marine, making plans to aid Americans in trouble in foreign lands and completing arrangements for giving immediate adequate relief in case of disaster.

It is the Fourteenth Division's part in the great Peace Time program of the American Red Cross.

They have been Christians for 200 years and have a culture and refinement that will compare very favorably with that of other nations.

There are only 6,084 Japanese in the Philippines. There are about 100,000 Japanese in California alone, or 15 times as many as in the entire Philippine archipelago.

English is taught exclusively in the Philippine public schools. Two million natives now speak English fluently, and there are 700,000 English speaking children in the public schools. It is destined to be the national language.
