

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Paragraphs of News Taken from the Files of the Reporter of 1885.

March 13, 1886. Several carload of cattle were shipped from our station last week.

Eggs are getting cheaper very day; may soon be too cheap to eat.

Frank Bradford, assistant at the Centre Hall railroad station, took care of the Oak Hall station last week.

The Penn'a Railroad Company is making preparations for the erection of a new passenger depot at Bellefonte.

The new chandelier was hung in its place in the audience chamber of the Lutheran church this week by Mr. Hackenburgh, of Milton. It is a handsome affair.

Station agent Katherman says the receipts for our station for the last three weeks amount to over thirteen hundred dollars. Centre Hall is becoming quite a business place.

James Lohr has thirty scholars for a summer school but no school room, while another teacher has the promise of the room from the directors and has but eight subscribers.

On Friday night, 26th, a fire was discovered at Simon Moyer's saw mill, about two miles below Centre Hall, on the Huston tract. A building containing lumbering implements, machinery, belting, etc., was burned to the ground without saving any of its contents.

A sad and fatal accident occurred in the eastern end of Miles township, on Saturday. N. P. Wolf was in the woods chopping trees, assisted by his son. At noon they went to a run for water and had their attention drawn to a grape vine pending from a tree. Mr. Wolf grasped the vine for a "swing" but his weight was too great and the top of the tree was broken off, causing him to fall on his head. His skull was fractured and after suffering for ten hours he expired. He was aged 29 years and leaves a widow and two small children.

MILLHEIM.

(From The Journal) Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stover and children, accompanied by Mrs. Cromley and Mrs. Shires, all of Milton, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. O. Housman.

At a meeting of the directors of the Farmers National bank held last Friday evening Miss Dorothy Bower, teacher of the Pike school, in Penn township, was elected clerk in the bank to succeed E. R. Shreckengast, who resigned recently to go into the mercantile business.

After continuous service for 22 years in the local Commercial telephone exchange as head operator, Miss Mabel Ziegler has resigned and accepted an office position in the new Centre County silk mill. It can be said of Miss Ziegler that Millheim never had a more obliging "hello" girl.

Al. Mark, of near Penn Hall, on Friday purchased Mrs. F. P. Vonada's farm at Penns Cave for $5,500. Mr. Mark is tenant on the Henry Mark farm and his lease would expire in 1922 but Mr. Ziegler, the purchaser of the farm, made an offer to Mr. Mark to vacate in the spring which was accepted.

On Tuesday afternoon local sportsmen received a shipment of ringneck pheasants from the state game commission. The shipment consists of three male and nine female birds and will be cared for on the loft of R. S. Stover's barn until after the close of the hunting season, when they will be liberated on Middle ridge.

Begin Issuing 1921 Auto Tags Nov. 15.

The State highway department has issued notice that it will begin issuance of 1921 automobile plates on November 15. The state authorities in making the announcement asked that applications be filed at once so that hundreds of thousands of licenses may be issued. No guarantee of delivery by December 31 will be made on application filed after December 24.

Many Growers Careless in Packing of Apples.

Pennsylvania apple growers must use greater care and in some cases greater honesty in packing their apples if the wholesalers of the state and country are to handle them generally. This fact has been established by inspectors for the Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, who during the past month have conducted an extensive survey among the wholesalers of the state.

As a rule it has been found that whole salers have refused to handle Pennsylvania packed apples unless they have been packed by some grower whose reputation is known to the wholesale trade. This condition has been brought about by the fact that in the past growers have been prone to pack their apples carelessly, devoting much attention to the top of the barrel or box and neglecting the middle and bottom of the package entirely.

As a corrective measure, the Bureau of Markets is having apples in many sections of the state graded and packed and it is believed that the grading and packing regulations, if promulgated and made permanent, will do much toward securing a permanent place for Pennsylvania apples on the wholesale market.

GREAT WORK OF RED CROSS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Hundreds of Thousands of Persons Assisted by Great Organization of Mercy.

MONEY CONTRIBUTED HERE IS SPENT IN HOME WORK

Enormous Number of Lives Saved by Red Cross in Influenza Epidemic, and Nursing and First Aid Activities.

The extent to which the American Red Cross has entered into the lives of the people at large in the Pennsylvania-Delaware Division, comprising the states of Pennsylvania and Delaware, is not generally known. During the past year, the first full year of operation under the comprehensive peace program, this great organization has given aid to more than half a million of the population of this state and Delaware.

The Public Health.

Of all these activities the public health and nursing service is the most far-reaching in its effects at the present time. The Red Cross is actively co-operating with Dr. Edward Martin, State Director of Public Health to aid in the betterment of the public health and he recognizes the power for good of the organization. Nursing services have been established by many chapters of the state, some of them being Erie, Corry (Erie County), Clarion, Brookville, (Jefferson County); Armstrong, Indiana, Westmoreland, Pittsburgh, Beaver, Mount Pleasant, (Westmoreland County); Washington, Fayette, Greene, Somerset, Clinton, Cambria, Toga, Cameron, Ridgway, (Elk County); Franklin (Venango County); Du Bois (Clearfield County); Clearfield, Bellefonte, (Center County); Moshannon (Center County); State College (Center County); Huntingdon, Fulton, Juniata, Franklin, (Franklin County); Wayne, Lebanon, Wyoming Valley, Wilkes-Barre, (Luzerne County); Pike, Greater Berwick, (Columbia County); Danville (Mifflin County); Monroe, Carbon, Catawauqua, (Lehigh County); Allentown, Mahanoy City, Bethlehem, (Northampton County); Harrisburg, Southeastern Pennsylvania (services established in Bucks, Montgomery, Chester and Delaware Counties); Wallingford (Delaware County); Lancaster, York, Dora, (Washington County), and four established in the state of Delaware.

During the first six months of the year in the nursing service in Pennsylvania, the public health nurses made 44,537 visits. There are now sixty-five nursing services established and eighty-four nurses are employed in the public health services. The astounding number of visits made during the year to the sick who are unable to secure proper attention for themselves may be seen when it is considered that each nurse makes about 115 visits a month. In the Toga chapter, for example, the three nurses employed by that Chapter made 1510 calls, and about this same proportion is maintained in the other Chapters. In another Chapter, prompt Red Cross measures prevented an epidemic.

Teaching First Aid.

Scarcely second to the public health education and nursing service, are the classes for the teaching of First Aid to the Injured. In the United States as a whole, there are about 100,000 fatal accidents annually, and fully 500,000 which do not result fatally. Pennsylvania, as a great manufacturing and mining state, with about one-twelfth of the population of the country, can therefore count on at least 8500 fatal accidents and about 45,000 non-fatal ones, each year.

But a non-fatal accident may easily result in the death of the victim unless prompt and efficient aid be given, and this is what the Red Cross First Aid teaches. It is impossible to estimate the number of lives saved in Pennsylvania and Delaware by the Red Cross during the past year by means of its First Aid classes, but it must be a very considerable number. During the first six months of 1920 the Red Cross conducted 41 First Aid classes in which there were 1245 students, of whom 711 received certificates of graduation. This number will be greatly increased before the close of the year.

Among the Chapters which have added first aid courses to their activities are: Erie, Crawford, Warren, Brookville (Jefferson County); Oil City (Venango County); Punxsutawney (Jefferson County); Armstrong, Indiana, Butler, Beaver, New Kensington (Westmoreland County); Pittsburgh, Latrobe (Westmoreland County); Dora (Washington County); Mount Pleasant (Westmoreland); Somerset, Fayette, Greene, Snyder, Greater Berwick (Columbia County); Danville (Montour County); Southeastern Pennsylvania (Philadelphia) and the Delaware Chapter.

During the Epidemics.

No stronger evidence of the efficiency and preparedness of the Red Cross can be shown than in the influenza epidemics of the past two years. By a prompt mobilization of the Red Cross nursing resources thousands of lives were saved in Pennsylvania, and the Red Cross Chapters stood gallantly by the families of the victims, giving food, fuel and money where necessary, until the unfortunates were again self-supporting. Fully 100,000 cases were administered to in this state and Delaware by the Red Cross, and many lives were thus saved which otherwise would have been sacrificed.

The teaching of Home Nursing by the Red Cross is another most important activity. Ninety per cent of all cases of illness are nursed in the home and with this percentage, home nursing is of the first importance.

During the first six weeks of 1920, the Red Cross conducted 226 classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, 77 instructors teaching 3845 students, most of whom passed satisfactory examinations.

This great record was made by a large number of the Chapters, as the Home Hygiene course is instantly recognized as a thoroughly practical one and it is taught by actual demonstration as well as precept. Toga County graduated 420 pupils and Lycoming, Potter, Union, Kane, McKean County, Wilkes-Barre, and many other chapters had notably fine records.

Home Service Work.

This activity grew out of the war, and among those Chapters which have secured permission to extend home service to civilian families are Mercer, Beaver, Titusville (Crawford County); Forest, Oil City (Venango County); Punxsutawney (Jefferson County); Indiana, Perry, Westmoreland, Latrobe (Westmoreland County); Fayette, Somerset, Wyndor (Somerset County); Cambria, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Harrisburg, Southeastern Pennsylvania, covering Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery Counties; Southern Schuylkill, Carbonate (Lackawanna County); Easton (Northampton County); Adams, and the Delaware Chapter. A number of other Chapters have made application for this permission.

In the first part of 1920 Home Service has been rendered in about 20,000 cases, excluding entertainments given by the Red Cross, the attendance at these entertainments reaching about 100,000. Thus Home Service alone came into contact with almost 200,000 persons in the state.

Specific cases of what Home Service has done might be multiplied indefinitely. The Harrisburg Home Service paid for a delicate and expensive operation, which gave a hopelessly crippled little boy the normal use of his legs and will enable him to become a useful member of his community. The Scranton Home Service helped a blind soldier open a store which he is successfully conducting and made him a self-supporting citizen instead of a dependent upon others. Cases such as these might be mentioned in almost every Chapter in the state. In Fayette County Chapter, Home Service handled 2300 cases in the first half of the year and the Beaver County Home Service and Juniors together have provided for tonsil and adenoid operations for children unable to pay for these.

Baby Welfare Clinics.

The Red Cross pays special attention to the health of the baby and in the first half of 1920 baby welfare centers were opened by 30 Chapters with enormously good results. A few of the Chapters doing this great work are Southeastern Pennsylvania (at Ardmore and Coatesville), Greater Berwick (Columbia County); Carbon, New Bethlehem (Clarion County); Latrobe, Indiana, Delaware and many others.

It is impossible to say how many little lives were saved by the Red Cross and how much suffering averted, but the number is undoubtedly very large.

Special Activities.

But the work of the Red Cross for the people of Pennsylvania did not end here. There were many special activities conducted by Chapters. The Delaware Chapter maintains a very efficient Motor Corps which takes the nurses from place to place, rushes desperate cases to the hospitals and gives pleasure rides to the aged and the poorer children; the York Chapter has a mental hygiene dispensary which has done remarkable work in its specialty; dental clinics are conducted by the Lawrence County and many other Chapters; Armstrong County, New Bethlehem (Clarion County), and Kitzing (Armstrong County), as well as some other Chapters, have opened free community centers and rest rooms, maintained by the Red Cross Chapters; Berks County (Reading) has a remarkably successful continuation school to enable those who must work, to continue their studies.

Shippensburg Chapter (Cumberland County), has supplied clothing to children who otherwise would be unable to obtain it. In Carlisle, the same county, there is an Ideal Nurses Recreation House at the hospital, provided by the Red Cross; Corry (Erie County), has started a Little Mother's League; Blair County, as well as many other Chapters, conducted First Aid Tents at the County Fairs; Wyoming County has a big Nursing Class and an established Health Nurse; Milton (Northumberland County), has established a Health Center as have many other Chapters of the Division, while Bedford distributed 600 garments to the poor of the county, besides furnishing them with food, fuel and supplies. Junior activities are notable in the Bradford and McKean Chapters.

On this proud record of a year the Red Cross asks the people of the Pennsylvania-Delaware Division for its endorsement in the coming Roll Call. All this, and far more, has been done on one dollar memberships. Every resident of these two states who has the welfare of his community at heart should join the Red Cross in the 1920 Roll Call, November 11, Armistice Day, to November 25, Thanksgiving.

ON THE JOB EVERY DAY

Red-Blooded Men and Women are Sel-dom Sick.

WATCH YOUR BLOOD CONDITION.

If You Look Pale, Feel GloomY and Run-down, Take Pepto-Mangan and Build Up.

You see men and women who are never sick. They work hard, look robust, eat heartily and enjoy life. They have plenty of rich, red blood. That is why they are never ill.

People who try to get along with weak, impoverished blood always have a struggle. They go from one sickness to another. Children the same way.

If you keep your blood rich and red you'll enjoy full vigor. Disease has little chance to develop in healthy blood. As soon as you feel run-down take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It will feed your blood with the ingredients needed to create a good supply of red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. They are alike in medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's". The full name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" should be on the package.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 765. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
