In almost every piece of news coming from the disturbed sections of Europe appear sentences like this: "The refugees are being tenderly looked after by the Red Cross." Everywhere the Red Cross is on the job, sparing neither money nor time nor—in some cases—the lives of its agents, to insure the comfort of those in distress. Unfortunately, those who should be the friends and backers of the Red Cross are not equally on the job. A drive is on for needed funds for this great charitable organization, and the money has not poured in as it should. Saturday is the date set for closing the efforts to round up subscribers and it behooves one to come up with the cash and be enrolled as one who has done his duty.

The proposed effort of the Government to perpetuate the good work begun during the war by incorporating in the public school curriculum some provision for inculcating the principle of thrift and of safe investment is an excellent move. The besetting sin of extravagance and prodigal waste has been inveighed against by preachers and editors, but it is the teacher who is qualified as the best missionary for this work. It is hard to teach the old dogs new tricks. To make this a nation of thrifty people the seed must be planted early.

AARONSBURG.

Rev. W. D. Donat, of Strawberry Ridge, visited friends here last week.

Mrs. Jennie Sylvius is spending a week at Pine Creek at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ream are rejoicing over the arrival of a new baby.

Steri Frazier is one of the thousands made idle through lack of work in Akron, Ohio, and has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Roush and others autoed to Centre Oak on Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Detwiler.

Thomas Hull was at his home over Sunday.

N. W. Cronmiller is improved very much in health and will soon be among old friends again.

Harold Orwig, who had his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bright, went to the home of his parents in Sunbury and accepted a good position in that place. His brothers, Kermitt and Bright, came on to Bright home recently and the latter will remain there and go to school.

THE DEATH RECORD.

SMETZLER.—After lying in a semi-conscious condition for exactly one week as a result of a paralytic stroke, Mrs. James Smetzler passed away at her home in Centre Hall on last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Funeral services were held on Monday morning at the residence and burial made at Centre Hall, Rev. J. F. Bingman, of the E. U. v. church, of which the deceased was a member, officiating.

Mrs. Smetzler was formerly Miss Catherine Kennelly and was born at Spring Mills, she having been seventy years of age on March, 3rd, last. No children survive, but two brothers and one sister remain, namely, Gates and Daniel Kennelly, of Spring Mills, and Mrs. James Dubbs, of Philipsburg.

YOUNG.—William Young, who for a number of years made his home with the family of Henry Knofsinger, on top of Nittany mountain, near Pleasant Gap, was found dead in bed on last Friday morning, having suffered an attack at the heart. His age was past seventy-two years. He was unmarried and has no immediate surviving relatives. Burial was made at Centre Hall on Saturday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Bingman, of the U. v. church, officiating.

BECK.—Mrs. Charles L. Beck, of Smulton, born Sept. 24, 1856, died Nov. 17, aged sixty-four years, 1 month and twenty-three days. She was in feeble condition for over a year. She is survived by her husband and the following children: H. H., of Smulton; Mrs. Maud Leach, of Wilkes Barre; Carrie, at home; John, of Wilkes Barre; two children preceded her to the eternal world. There are also the following brothers and sisters: Samuel Wate, of Pleasant Gap; Frank and George, of Rebersburg; John, of Beaver Falls, and Mrs. Emma Breen, of Lock Haven. She was a faithful and consistent member of the Evangelical Association church. Burial was made in the cemetery connected with that church in Rebersburg, Rev. Maneval, her pastor, conducting the services.

COLE.—Isabelle M. (Mallory) Cole, born in Rebersburg, Nov. 15, 1851, died on Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Staley, of Jersey Shore. She was in feeble condition for the last year. Several weeks ago she went to a hospital at Lock Haven for relief, but the disease had taken so firm a hold that medical aid was of no avail. Her husband died nine months ago. No children were born to them. She is survived by these brothers and sisters: Wm. James, of Rebersburg; Calvin O., of Williamsburg; N. Catherine Staley, of Jersey Shore. Burial was made at Rebersburg on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Shank officiating.

LANE.—The body of Mrs. Lane, widow of the late Rev. Lane, Methodist minister, was brought to Centre Hall on Wednesday afternoon from Clyde, New York, where she passed away a few days ago at the home of her son, Rev. W. W. Lane. Burial was made from the train beside the body of her husband, in the Centre Hall cemetery. Deceased was a sister of the late William Stiver, of Centre Hall.

ROUSH.—John H. Roush, a director of the Farmers National Bank of Millheim, died Sunday morning, 14th, after a lingering illness. Mr. Roush was one of the most prominent of Millheim's residents and during the many years in which he resided in that town filled a number of local offices.

For 50 Years Thought Coal Existed; Only Rock.

Dreams of wealth through the possible development of coal measures thought to abound in the vicinity of Morrison's Cove, in Bedford county, have been shattered. For over fifty years the residents there have shown great interest in a bed of black rock of coal-like appearance which occurs along the mountain a short distance from New Enterprise. Recently the citizens of that town have taken steps to prospect the deposit, and consulted Dr. E. S. Moore, Dean of the School of Mines at the Pennsylvania State College, urging him to make a personal investigation. Dean Moore has just returned to State College with the announcement that there will never be any possibility for finding coal in that section.

Many years ago a shaft was sunk to a depth of about fifty feet, and a well a short distance from the shaft was drilled to a depth of 84 feet, in an effort to locate the source of a deposit of black shale resembling coal smut. Although the shale resembles coal when it has been highly squeezed by the movements of the rocks, it was found that it occurs in a formation thousands of feet below the coal measures in what is known as the Reedsville rock formation, just above the Trenton limestone. Dean Moore, who is one of the country's leading geologists, says that drilling has been done on this formation in a number of places in Centre county but all efforts are useless since no coal has been found anywhere in the world in formation as old as the Reedsville.

County Grange Meeting.

The Centre County Pomona Grange held one of its quarterly sessions in the hall of Progress Grange, Saturday, which was well attended by members from various sections of the county. The sessions—two in number—were full of interest, the discussions having been participated in by a goodly number of the members. A large class, most of them young people, were inducted into the mysteries of the 5th degree of Grange work.

The leading question before the body, after the regular routine Grange propositions were disposed of, was that of conservation, applying chiefly to that of conserving timber—our forests. Forester John W. Keller, who is now in the office of the forestry department in Harrisburg, was an invited guest and gave a splendid talk on the subject. He is a preservation enthusiast. In his remarks he gave many useful suggestions to those who have in mind the care of their wood lots and timber tracts, as well as those who desire to reforest waste places. The organization, in a resolution presented, endorsed the state's forestry program.

To those skeptical in the belief that the "farmer feeds them all," the sight of the long tables laden with the choicest foods at the noon hour, would at least have convinced that he first feeds himself and well; that his food is not the seconds and that he does not stunt his family.

Probably the most gratifying report of the Grange Encampment and Fair ever presented was read before the body. In every department the receipts were such as to attract attention, and as a whole the debit side was not the prominent feature.

Puff-Fetteroff.

J. LeRoy Puff and Miss Elizabeth Catherine Fetteroff, both of Centre Hall, were united in marriage on Saturday at 10 o'clock at the Lutheran parsonage in Bellefonte, by Rev. Ard.

The groom is a son of J. H. Puff and is employed as a clerk in the local railroad station. He was in the overseas service in the late war as a member of the engineering corps. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Fetteroff and is a young lady who is especially well fitted to make a home all that it should fit.

Their many friends wish them much happiness.

Thanksgiving Services.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held on November 25th, at 10:30 a. m., at Centre Hall in the Lutheran church, where the Rev. J. F. Bingman will deliver the message, and at Spring Mills, in the Evangelical church, at 10:30 a. m. the Rev. I. C. Bailey preaching the word.

Dr. Johnson to Speak.

Dr. R. E. Johnson, who made the liquor raid on the Bellefonte hotels last week, will make an address in the Court House, Bellefonte, on Friday evening of this week at 8:30 o'clock. Everyone who can should go hear him.

BOALSBURG.

Charles Hosterman, a student at Penn State, is with the Soccer Ball Team which plays at Syracuse, Ithaca, and Toronto.

Mrs. S. S. Weber and son, of Huntington, spent last week with relatives here.

Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Gephart and son spent Saturday at Huntington.

Miss Harpster, of Harrisburg, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. O. Barr.

D. W. Meyer was a recent visitor at Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ishler and children, of Pleasant Gap, spent Tuesday at the Clyde Brouse home.

There will be Thanksgiving services at the Reformed church, Thursday evening, November 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lonberger and daughter spent Saturday in Lewistown.

Mrs. John Bitner, of Ohio, is visiting at the home of Mr. Bitner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bitner.

Miss Emily Jordan spent the week end with her friend, Miss Margaret Swartz, at Staollege.

Everybody is invited to the entertainment and box social on Friday evening. The entertainment will begin at 7:30. Come and bring your boxes.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rickert, of Mill Hall, spent Sunday with Mrs. Rickert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stoner.

MILLHEIM.

(From The Journal)

Ira Gramley, of Penn street, has been commissioned a special deputy game protector by the state game commission.

The Rebersburg national bank opened for business on Monday of this week with Curtis M. Bierly as cashier. The officers were delighted with a goodly number of depositors on the opening day, the deposits having exceeded expectations.

Miss Jennie K. Reifsnyder departed Tuesday afternoon for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Breen, at Riverside, Cal. She expects to stop enroute at Pittsburg, Chicago and Omaha. She expects to return home in April.

On Friday forenoon a mail plane circled about the vicinity for quite a while and finally made a safe landing in a field owned by J. S. Weaver, southwest of Aaronsburg. The airman was forced to land owing to a shortage of gasoline and oil, which he stated was caused by the high winds, the engine requiring more gas and oil for the trip. The necessary fuel was procured at Aaronsburg and the airman proceeded on his flight to Bellefonte.

The workmen who installed the electric burglar alarm in the Millheim Banking company's rooms finished their work on Thursday, and departed Friday morning. When the bank was opened Friday morning the time lock on the vault failed to open, due to the workmen unintentionally dropping one of the tumblers when wiring the door. S. W. Gramley, the cashier, telegraphed ahead and intercepted the workmen at Sunbury and they returned to Millheim, reaching there at noon. The "only thing to be done was to break through the wall of the vault to open the door and the task required several hours.
