

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Annie Lohr, of Boalsburg, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Lutz, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Foss, of Altoona, visited at the C. F. Emery home on Sunday.

Mrs. Ella Westfield, of Bradnor, Ohio, visited her cousin, Mrs. Geo. H. Emerick, for several days last week.

Misses Isabel and Ethel Rowe visited friends in Altoona over Saturday, the former having her eyes treated while in that city.

The Goodling farm, west of Old Fort, will be tenanted by a Mr. Gault, of near Tyrone. He formerly lived in the vicinity of Howard.

Bruce Stahl, an employee of the Pennsylvania in Altoona for the past few years, is at his home in Centre Hall as a result of the company's retrenchment policy.

Mrs. R. D. Runkle, of Shamokin, visited her sister, Mrs. John H. Runkle, near Centre Hall, and also her daughter, Mrs. W. G. Runkle, at Bellefonte, last week.

Mrs. Irvin Stover, of Philadelphia, is visiting the James Stover family at Yeagertown, and later will visit the George Searson family near Linden Hall.

Eugene Gramley, of Spring Mills, star pitcher of the Penn State baseball team last year, has been signed up by the New York team of the American League.

Dr. Elmer L. Williams, the "fighting parson" of Chicago, and well-known in Centre Hall, preached four times on a recent Sunday at State College. Dr. Williams is now located in Washington, D. C.

Miss Jeanne Kessler, who has charge of the ladies' goods department of the Kessler Store, Millheim, is spending two weeks in New York for the purpose of purchasing the latest and best in spring goods.

A recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post contained a striking portrait of Miss Rose Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woods, who resided at State College and Bellefonte, up until a few years ago, when they moved to New York City, where Miss Woods is engaged in posing as an artist's model.

Mrs. Agnes Meyer, of Lock Haven, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. H. Weber, in Centre Hall. Mrs. Meyer has been spending the past six weeks very pleasantly among her relatives in various sections, and came to Centre Hall from Montgomery where her son, George Meyer, is the railroad station agent.

State College citizens are voting by newspaper ballot on the daylight saving proposition. It is being done for the reason that there are two bills before Congress now legalizing daylight saving time in the Eastern Standard Zone for a part of the year, and the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce is gathering information as to the sentiment of the people.

District Forester Barschot, of Milroy, has notified the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry that he has received five new applications for permanent camp sites in the Penn Forest since January 1. Already applications are coming in for permits to camp on State land during the trout fishing season. One party has requested permission to locate at the Paddy Mountain tunnel, one of the favorite fishing spots in that section.

Finds Town Better Without Booze.

Miss Rebecca Rhoads, president of the Center County Women's Christian Temperance Union, lectured at Sandy Ridge on Tuesday evening, and went to Philipsburg to spend the night, returning to her home at Bellefonte Wednesday afternoon.

Some difficulty was experienced in obtaining hotel accommodations, three places reporting they were filled, Miss Rhoads said. The condition, she stated, shows that the hotels are managing to do a thriving business without the bars, though Miss Rhoads said she remembered when the friends of the liquor traffic used to put forth the argument that if the licenses were taken away the Philipsburg hotels would be obliged to close up.

Many improvements to Philipsburg were noted to Miss Rhoads. She said she recalled the period a few years ago when she would have hesitated over going to Philipsburg on the late train. This visit she found the town quiet and orderly with no intoxicated persons on the streets. It is quieter at nights out doors as well as in public houses. She noticed the improvements made to many homes, and in every way the town seemed to her to have improved since prohibition went into effect.

More About Apples

It was a fall in apples that depopulated the Garden of Eden. A rise in nursery stock threatens to depopulate the apple orchards of America. But there's money to be made in fruit, says Benjamin Wallace Douglass, in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

He knows, because with his big Indiana orchard he's making money every year. He is now contributing a most helpful series of articles, How to Grow Apples, a series that it will pay every grower to read.

One of the articles is in next week's issue. So is E. V. Wilcox's new apple marketing story—Thousand-League Boofs. I wish all you fruit farmers could read this issue; it would help you to realize what a big lot of helpfulness you get for less than 2c. a week in a year's subscription to the great National weekly at $1.00.

There isn't a farm interest that THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN doesn't touch. And on every subject it offers that sensible, concretely helpful guidance that you've always hoped some farm weekly would be able to give you. You'll like it. And if you send me your check or a dollar bill today, I'll see that your enjoyment begins next week.

Take it from me, it's a bargain!
