DENIED PLEASURES OF TABLE

Great Jockey Had to Sacrifice Much to Maintain His Position as King of Riders.

Fred Archer, the famous English jockey, had to employ heroic measures to keep his weight down.

The story is told of how, on one occasion, he was the guest of a very hospitable host.

From the kitchen came the perfume of savory meats, and at dinner a sturdy, rosy-cheeked man-servant made his appearance, his back bending under the weight of a great salmon on a lordly dish.

Poor Archer's face, as he surveyed the initial preparations for the evening meal, was quite piteous to watch.

Talk is cheap, but not when you are hiring a lawyer to do it for you.

Peter the Great had a passion for riding about in a wheelbarrow.

Clowns to Jail in Petrograd. According to the energetic Aftonblad of Stockholm, the circus still exists even if it does not flourish in Petrograd. At a recent exhibition two clowns engaged in the following patter:

"Where have you been for the last week?"
"Looking for firewood."
"Did you find any?"
"Sure thing."
"Let me see it."
"I will if you promise not to touch it." With that he took a match from behind his ear.
Both clowns were locked up by the soviet police.

Legion Inherits Old Cannon. The American Legion is assuring perpetuation of an Indianapolis tradition, which has endured for more than fifty years, due to McIlvaine-Kothe post continuing the custom of a society of Civil war veterans. Salutes will be fired from a Civil war cannon at an Indianapolis cemetery on Memorial day and in the courtyard on Washington's birthday. The old cannon originally was on board a confederate flatboat, which patrolled the Ohio river and was captured by a federal gunboat in 1864. The cannon has been in the hands of the legion post since last Memorial day.—The American Legion Weekly.

SECOND HAND

"YOU have the general appearance of a man who is hunting for trouble," volunteered the low-browed man.

"I am greatly annoyed," replied the professor. "I bought a second-hand typewriter, thinking I was getting a bargain, and it is a constant aggravation."

"A man always thinks he's getting a bargain when he blows himself for second-hand goods. Old Doolittle thought he was getting rich quick when he bought a surrey for $17. The man who sold it said it was as good as new, and it broke his heart to part with it, but he had to go to Florida for his health and needed the money. Most of the great bargains are offered by people who have to go somewhere, for their health, and they're wise in doing that, for if they stayed around the neighborhood where they sold the junk, they'd have their heads punched."

"Doolittle was so proud and happy over his bargain that it would have made you feel ten years younger just to look at him. He hitched up his family steed, which is named January, and then invited Aunt Julia and Mrs. Spry to take a buggy ride. He and his wife sat in the front seat, and the invited guests took the rear one, and all went as merry as a divorcer-bell for about a block.

"Then one of the hind wheels came off, and the surrey keeled over and dumped my aunt and Mrs. Spry onto a pile of gravel that had been left on the street by a cement contractor. He had put a red lantern on top of the pile as a danger signal to motorists. I think the fall must have unsettled Aunt Julia's faculties for the time being, for she grabbed up the lantern and broke it over Mrs. Spry's head. Mrs. Spry has her faults and failings like other people, but she is dead game, and the way she went for Aunt Julia was the prettiest thing I ever saw. I was sitting on our front porch where I could see the doings, and I don't know when I ever enjoyed myself so much.

"Unless you have seen a couple of refined and cultured ladies clawing each other around on a pile of gravel, you don't know what true sport is. Mrs. Spry showed some fine ring generalship, but my aunt had the best wind and she finally won out and came home victorious. And thus through camp and court she bore the trophies of a conqueror," as the poet says, but there was no pleasure in living in the same house with her for a week or two. As soon as she cooled down she was sorry and ashamed, and would have given a million dollars if the row had never started.

"Women are so blamed queer I've given up trying to understand them. When I get the best of a shindy I feel all swelled up for quite a while. I don't have any remorse unless I get the worst of it, and that doesn't often happen, for I am a pretty handy man. When I put a cupola on Tensmith's head last February I was so cheery for a month that everybody noticed it, and thought I must have been appointed postmaster.

"Well, after the women fell out of the rear seat of the surrey, old January ran away, and it was amusing to see that rig bumping along the street on three wheels, with Doolittle hanging onto the dashboard and his wife waving her umbrella and yelling 'Fire!' January couldn't go very fast, being covered with ringbones and spavins and other blemishes, but he managed to knock several people down and do a lot of damage to property, and the old man had to pay out nearly $200 to avoid some damage suits.

"The one thing that keeps him from despair is a rumor that the man who sold him the surrey is coming back here to live. Doolittle will be at the depot to meet him, and it will be worth $5 to have a ringside seat when the meeting occurs."

Opinions.

"What is your opinion of the tariff?"
"It's a great question," replied Senator Sorghum, "on which I do not permit myself personal views. My public opinions are regulated largely by the lines of business in which my most influential constituents happen to be engaged."

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown. Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.
