Orphans Taken to Loysville.

The following is taken from the Bellefonte Republican:

LeRoy, aged 10, and Paul, aged 12, minor children of Earl and Annie Eckenroth, late of Pleasant Gap, were taken to the Tressler Orphans' home in Loysville on Friday afternoon by N. E. Robb, treasurer of the Bellefonte Trust Co., guardian of the two lads. The Eckenroth boys' mother died during the influenza epidemic that swept the country several years ago and about one year later the father passed from this life. Wise provision had been made for the children and they had been carefully looked after by the Bellefonte Trust Co., assisted by Rev. Brown, minister of the Lutheran church at Pleasant Gap. Mr. Robb was able to locate the boys in the Tressler Orphans' home. Accompanying them on their trip to Loysville on Friday were Mrs. Robb and children, Marv and Malin, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roan, the trip being made in Mr. Roan's car.

Mr. Robb was much impressed with the Tressler Orphans' home. His statement in part regarding this institution is quoted as follows:

"The institution is supported by the Lutheran churches of Pennsylvania. There are 274 boys and girls ranging in age from 1 1/2 to 17 years of age. They are taught to work and all things that are good and have plenty of play time. Superintendent Wydie took us all about the grounds. The buildings are of a substantial character and they have a school and church of their own. There are about 500 acres of land from which is produced all the local food stuffs for the institution except wheat. This year there is being established a four year High School course. The Eckenroth boys will remain at the institution until they are 17 years of age. This is a splendid institution and all Lutherans should contribute liberally toward its support."

Tender Farewell to Pastor and Family.

A large number of Odd Fellows and members of the sister organization, the Rebekahs, totaling nearly 150 members, which included a large representation from Spring Mills, gathered in the Odd Fellows' hall on Tuesday evening to tender Rev. R. R. Jones and family, members of the organization, a farewell. Following a short business session of the Rebekah lodge, V. A. Auman, D. D. G. M., acted as master of ceremonies, and called for short talks by various members. Rev. M. C. Drumm spoke feelingly of his association with the Rev. Jones about to leave and "how Rev. Jones would be missed in the councils of the ministerium, where he was considered the "father," in view of his greater and broader experience in religious work. Others who spoke were W. H. Sinkabine, of Spring Mills; B. D. Brisbin, G. H. Emerick, Mrs. J. H. Puff, Rev. Jones responded to these expressions of brotherly love in his characteristic good manner, and voiced his regret at leaving so good a community, feeling, however, that a greater work was before him in the strictly rural field which he was about to enter. One expression, especially, made by him found favor with the order, and that was, that regardless of where he might live in the future, his membership as an Odd Fellow would always be retained in Centre Hall lodge. This as a token of appreciation for the consideration shown him in permitting him to "go through the chairs" in the early period of his membership, a desire he cherished. Mrs. Jones also made a few appropriate remarks.

Following the talks refreshments were served by the ladies, of sandwiches, pickles, cake, ice cream and coffee, the members departing at a late hour.

Another Fire at Bellefonte.

Bellefonte and vicinity has been visited by a number of very costly fires recently, the latest being a $20,000 loss when the fine home of John Blanchard, the Pennsylvania railroad attorney, was destroyed early Sunday morning.

On Saturday evening a fire was built in an open fire place at the Blanchard home. Members of the family say that it was extinguished before they retired for the night. About 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning they were awakened to find that fire was burning in the upper floor of the house. It is supposed that sparks smoldered in the chimney and got in between partitions, where they were confined until morning.

When the fire was discovered it was so bad that nothing could be removed from the second floor. Some articles were saved from the lower floor, however.

Callahan-Frantz.

Howard D. Callahan and Miss Verna A. Frantz were united in marriage, on Saturday, at Rockwood, by Rev. W. A. McClellan, uncle of the bride. The happy young couple, on a short wedding trip, stopped at Johnstown, Altoona and Bellefonte. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Frantz, of near Centre Hall, and is a seamstress of ability. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Callahan, of Linden Hall, and a short time ago returned from Missouri where he received training in automobile construction and repairing.

Their many friends extend congratulations.

Fatally Hurt in Fall Off Train.

Herbert I. Caldwell, a New York Central freight conductor, aged fifty-one years, died in the Jersey Shore hospital last Friday morning from injuries sustained when he fell beneath his train at Mill Hall about a half hour previously.

Mr. Caldwell was seen on top a string of cars at the coal dock tracks at Mill Hall, where some cars were being switched. A few minutes later the engineer on the train, Mr. Brumbaugh, saw him lying along the tracks.

When he was picked up it was seen that he was seriously injured and he was rushed to the hospital as quickly as possible but died soon after reaching there. His skull was crushed, his head apparently having struck the track. The wheels of the train had passed over his left arm and several ribs on his left side were crushed.

Mr. Caldwell had been employed by the New York Central for thirty years. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Gordon, of Jersey Shore, and Samuel, of Clearfield.

The old stone house on the hill on what was formerly the Curtin farm, is being torn down, and thus passes away another old landmark. Away back in the sixties this house was an old tavern where the stage coaches stopped enroute from Philadelphia to Pittsburg, and many traditions cling about this famous old building.

J. B. Rockey, a retired farmer at State College, had a fall from a ladder that confined him to the house three weeks. He is now able to walk out.

Aaron Gramley, C. M. Dale's right bower on the farm, spent the early part of the week at his parental home at Indiana.

More Price Reductions by Harvester Company

Entire Line of Implements Now at LOWER PRICES

In view of the recent reduction in the price of steel, we now announce lower prices for our entire line of farm machines and implements not covered by reductions previously announced.

All lower prices take effect at once

The reduction in the price of steel comes after all the material for the machines and implements we will sell this year has been provided, and will therefore have no bearing on the manufacturing costs of such machines. However, it does enable the Company to buy materials at lower prices for future manufacture, and in accordance with our announced policy we now quote those prices, the Company taking the loss on machines already finished and materials on hand.

Full information regarding our lower prices on binders, mowers, and all other harvesting, haying and corn machines, tillage implements, tractors, engines, and all other I H C farm machines can be obtained from any International Dealer.

A BUSINESS RUSH!

We have never in our business history experienced such an early rush of business as we have witnessed this season. Hardly a month elapsed before our first purchases for the Spring Season were almost all disposed of. This ready response in buying from the people in our vicinity urged us to make a second trip to the Eastern markets for a complete replenishment of our stock.

We are pleased with the patronage thus far given us because we know our trade is beginning to realize and appreciate the care and taste of our selection in buying. They are beginning to realize the full values received for lowest prices paid, but our initial purchases were only a forerunner to the newly arrived merchandise. We have made some truly wonderful purchases of new merchandise and want to convince everyone of what we term as wonderful.
