

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Prof. N. L. Bartges is considering opening a summer term of school in this place.

R. D. Foreman makes an important announcement in an ad. appearing in this issue.

Charley Stump, who spent the winter in "Old Virginy," arrived in Centre Hall on Tuesday.

Capt. G. M. Boal went to Reedsville on Monday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Meyer.

The Potters Mills orchestra will render some good selections at the Potters Mills hotel on Saturday evening. Everybody welcome.

Messrs. Francis McDermott and Thomas Errico, of Trenton, New Jersey, were pleasantly entertained at the C. F. Emery home from Friday until Monday.

Ray Yearick, of Sunbury, recently discharged from the U. S. service, has been spending some time with his aunt, Mrs. W. E. Bartges, west of Centre Hall.

Rain on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Old Sol was hidden from view for four days, making his first appearance in that time on Monday afternoon. Rain continues to be the order of the day.

George Luse, aged twelve years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry H. Luse, is recovering from a serious illness of lobar pneumonia. The child's condition for a week or more was critical, but his full recovery is now expected.

Miss Mildred Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown, of near Potters Mills, entered the Lock Haven Normal on Monday for the summer term. Miss Brown has taught several terms in Potter township, and her desire to improve in her chosen profession is highly commendable.

The best securities you can buy today are War Saving Stamps and Treasury Certificates. Each month you have them they become worth more. They never are worth less than you pay for them, something that cannot be said of many securities. And then, you can get the cash for them in just a few days.

The graduating class of the Centre Hall High school attended in a body the Baccalaureate service in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening. The under classes were also present and together sang two of the school songs in the church previous to the sermon by Rev. M. C. Drumm. The church was crowded and many occupied chairs in the Sunday-school room. The choir prepared special music for the occasion.

Clean-up campaigns are being waged in many towns throughout the country at the present time. While Centre Hall has always enjoyed the reputation of being among the cleanest towns in the state, nevertheless nothing is so good but what it might be better. A bigger effort than ever is being put forth to exterminate the deadly house fly. During the next week, beginning to-day, look about the premises and clean up any spot which will make a breeding place for the fly. By so doing you will show yourself to be a good citizen.

It appears that out-of-town business men appreciate the value of the Reporter's advertising columns more than local business men. It must pay, else the year-in and year-out advertising by these "outsiders" would not be continued. It is not a matter of sentiment with them; they must derive results, and we know from personal observation and from their own word that the advertising does pay. How much more it would pay home merchants to place their store news before a large percentage of the people in their own community!

Tyson-Heverly.

On Wednesday of last week, at the Reformed parsonage, Boalsburg, Walter G. Tyson, of State College, and Miss Janet Heverly, of Milesburg, were united in wedlock by Rev. S. C. Stover. These parties are favorably known, and we extend congratulations.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE

state commission, were passed in the closing hours, while new military laws and changes to the game and fish codes were passed. Hereafter, November will be the small game season and hunters will wear licenses on their backs. A state fishermen's license bill providing a fee of $1 with a ten-cent issuing fee was passed, $100,000 of the proceeds to go to the department of fisheries.

A state fair commission was authorized to select a site for a fair.

Several important agricultural bills were passed, including those placing dog licenses directly under the department of agriculture; stiffening up penalties for violation of quarantines; giving greater control of potato wart; requiring assessors to report on crop acreage, and a pure seed law, which defines seeds and weeds and requires statements of germinating quality and origin to be given.

The full crew act of 1911 was repealed with authority for the public service commission to determine the number of men needed to man a train properly.

License fees for trucks were increased about 100 per cent, and new classifications were made.

Bills carrying heavy penalties for bandits and increasing punishments for various crimes were enacted.

THE DEATH RECORD.

HARTER.—George Moyer Harter, whose illness was mentioned in these columns last week, passed away at his home at the Stone Mill on Tuesday morning at four o'clock. He had taken no nourishment for two weeks, and his bowels had become paralyzed. He was aged seventy-seven years, having been born in Haines township. He learned the milling trade at the age of sixteen years, and this occupation was his life's work. For a period of a quarter of a century he was the miller at the Red Mill, in Potter township.

His wife preceded him to the beyond a year ago last fall, and surviving him is only one son, Ephriam Harter, at the old Harter home; also one brother, Jacob Harter, of Aaronsburg, besides a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Deceased was a member of the Lutheran church. Funeral services, in charge of Rev. M. C. Drumm, will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at the home, and burial made at Tusseyville.

MALLOY.—William James Malloy, born in Miles township on December 3, 1846, died on Saturday, aged seventy-four years. He received a common school education and for a time taught in Centre county, then drifted to Illinois and taught several terms in Stephenson county; from there he went to New Mexico and going with the mining craze he landed at Globe, Arizona, where he helped to develop the New Dominion mine, a mine of fabulous wealth. About six years ago he came back again to pass his last years among friends and kin of his native place.

One sister, Mrs. Kate Stabley, of Jersey Shore, and one brother, Calvin O. of Rebersburg survive. He was a well known figure on the streets of Rebersburg and greeted everybody with a smile.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Shank officiating, assisted by Rev. Maneval. Burial in family lot, Evangelical Association cemetery.

SMITH.—Isaac Smith passed away at his home near Penns Cave on Wednesday morning of last week, following a stroke of paralysis sustained less than a week previous. His wife preceded him to the grave on October 12, 1920.

Deceased was born in Union county, Dec. 30, 1844, hence was aged seventy-six years, three months and twenty-seven days.

Surviving him are three daughters, one son, eleven grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren. Also four brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning by Rev. M. C. Drumm, assisted by Revs. Jones and Kirkpatrick, and burial was made at Farmers Mills.

Bazaar and Exchange sale will be held at the livery barn of D. Wagner Geiss, at Bellefonte, on the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of each month until further notice. Persons having articles for sale, including live stock, potatoes, produce, furniture, anything, bring it to the sale barn any time. Persons desiring such articles may buy on 1st and 3rd Tuesdays.

MILLHEIM.

(From The Journal)

E. L. Stover, of Aaronsburg, manager of the Millheim-Coburn turnpike, greatly improved Penn. street this week by applying crushed stones in the ruts and holes, and then thoroughly rolling the street.

The ordinance prohibiting the use of cut-outs on automobiles and motorcycles in Millheim, is being entirely disregarded by many motorists.

On Saturday forenoon Bruce Shreck engaged caught a 24 1/2 inch trout in Elk creek, at the Phillips creek bridge. The fish weighed 5 pounds and 10 ounces.

A pretty double wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Brungart, of Rebersburg, on Saturday evening about 11 o'clock, when their son, John R. Brungart, was united in holy wedlock to Miss Ruth M. Royer, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Royer, of near Woodward, and Norman R. Bierly, of Rebersburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bierly, was wed to Miss Marie E. Leister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Leister, of Georges Valley.

The commencement exercises of the Haines township high school were held in the Lutheran church at Aaronsburg last Thursday evening, and were largely attended. Dr. Lee L. Driver, of the state department of public instruction, Harrisburg, was the speaker and delivered a forceful address. There were seven graduates, as follows: Heyl K. Wolfe, John F. Burd, Charles A. Smith, Sara E. Cunningham, Elmira M. Guiser, Martha M. Boyer and Luella M. Hosterman.

On Wednesday night a number of parishioners and friends of Rev. C. B. Snyder, United Ev. minister, gathered at his home on his birthday anniversary. They brought along seven freezers of ice cream, a number of cakes and a lot of other good things to eat and spent a very enjoyable evening at the local parsonage. Some of the male members of the party took their pastor to the Nieman store and paid for all the wearing apparel that he desired, in each instance being sure that the minister was choosing the best.

One breeding place for the fly destroyed this week will mean millions of less flies in June and July.
