Timely Reminders from
The Pennsylvania State College

SCAB—Apple scab is still showing up in increasing quantity, and shows signs of becoming a serious menace this season. If it has been controlled by the usual sprays thus far, one more application should complete control. The lime-sulphur spray should be made immediately.

LIVE STOCK—It is very essential that proper shade be provided for sheep and hogs that are on pasture. Serious losses frequently occur during the hot days of early spring and summer where there is no protection from the hot sun. Shade trees or any temporary shade provided at a small expense will avoid heavy losses.

DESTROY WEEDS—Weeds are a great menace to crops, robbing them of plant food and moisture. They are best killed just as they start to grow. Land planted to corn and potatoes may be harrowed just before the plants come up. Once over with a slant toothed harrow in the nick of time is more effective in destroying weeds than when they are well established. Kill them early.

GARDEN—Twisted and broken asparagus tips make just as good winter soup as the finest marketable shoots. See that they are not wasted as there are few palatable dishes than asparagus soup.

DAIRY—According to the last census, Pennsylvania is the second state in the Union in production of farm cheese. This is a large industry and a profitable one on many farms. Specific directions for the manufacture of farm cheese may be secured from the Dairy Husbandry Department of the Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.

He went to visit his daughter in March and had been ill for the past month, being confined to his bed the last two weeks. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Moore; two sons, Isaac P. QUEER CUSTOMS OF AFGHANS

People Eat Only With the Right Hand—Animal Life of Every Description Held Sacred.

The average Afghan has no particular fondness for wine or spirits.

Tobacco raised in the land is of inferior quality; the better sorts are imported from Persia, Russia, India and Egypt. Amir Habbibullah Khan always had a good private stock of Havana cigars. Both young and old people take snuff.

Tea, sweetened and unsweetened, is the favorite drink and is consumed in prodigious quantities. When you go to see an Afghan, you can hardly escape before swallowing four or five cups of tea; it is, therefore, no trifling gastronomic feat to pay several visits in one afternoon, the more so if he polite host (with a view of honoring the European guests) has the tea served in big Russian glasses.

The right hand is always used in eating and drinking, the left hand being considered unclean.

Dogs, though numerous and useful, are looked upon as unclean, and pious people never touch them.

Animals that go badly lame on the march or camels that get snowbound in the mountain passes are abandoned to their fate. Afghans never kill such animals, as we might do, to put them out of their misery. They believe that the lives of all living things are in the hands of Allah, and that man sins if he presumes to interfere with the Supreme Will. Afghans will not even kill fleas or other vermin; they merely pick them off and throw them away!

A BUSINESS RUSH!

We have never in our business history experienced such an early rush of business as we have witnessed this season. Hardly a month elapsed before our first purchases for the Spring Season were almost all disposed of. This ready response in buying from the people in our vicinity urged us to make a second trip to the Eastern markets for a complete replenishment of our stock.

We are pleased with the patronage thus far given us because we know our trade is beginning to realize and appreciate the care and taste of our selection in buying. They are beginning to realize the full values received for lowest prices paid, but our initial purchases were only a forerunner to the newly arrived merchandise. We have made some truly wonderful purchases of new merchandise and want to convince everyone of what we term as wonderful.
