

Paragraphs of News Taken from the Files of the Reporter of 1886.

NOVEMBER 24, 1886.

On last Saturday, Dr. W. A. Jacobs, of this place, while attending his patients in the Loop, met with a severe accident. He was driving down a steep hill at James Horner's, when the breech band of the harness broke and let the buggy run against the horse. The horse was a young beast and began to run and kick, and soon became unmanageable. Seeing several children in the road ahead of him, the doctor leaped from the buggy and finally succeeded in quieting the frightened beast. After unhitching the horse, he felt a severe pain in his right ankle and was carried to Mr. Horner's house and was brought home in the afternoon. It seems that in leaping from the buggy, he stepped upon his right foot and tore some of the tendons and fractured a small bone in the ankle.

One of the aged citizens of Miles township, David Wolf, is seriously ill and is not expected to survive. His age is 83. H. G. Strohmeier has built an extension to his marble shop.

Jerry Miller is minus several razors and other articles, supposed to have been stolen from his barber shop during his absence.

Rev. D. J. Mitterling, of Lucas, Ohio, filled the pulpit for Rev. Fischer on last Sabbath afternoon, and preached an interesting sermon.

Mrs. A. G. Curtin, of Bellefonte, has raked all the Wilson real estate at Centre Hall, at the appraisalment, which foots up to $30,000. The land comprises between 600 and 700 acres, in three farms.

Prof. P. O. Stuver, lately elected county supt. of Stephenson county, Ill., was in on a visit to his native township of Potter.

Harvey Searson, of Boalsburg, while employed as brakeman on the Beech Creek, had the misfortune to have his arm crushed at the elbow, while coupling cars. He was taken to his home on Sunday. It is thought that it will probably be necessary to amputate the arm above the elbow.

Married.—On Nov. 29, at the residence of M. L. Rishel, Farmers Mills, by Rev. W. E. Fischer, Jeremiah Stover and Emma R. Houtz, both of Farmers Mills.

POCAHONTAS NOT REAL NAME
 English Means "Tomboy" and Was Given to Indian Child as a Term of Ridicule.

The story of John Smith and Pocahontas is known to everyone who has attended school in the United States, but few know that the name Pocahontas was only a nickname, and meant so unpoetical a thing as "tomboy." Her real name was Ma-ta-oka. When she was about ten or eleven years old she was engaged in turning a series of handspindles at the door of her father's hut. He was the chief of the tribe, and was known as Pow-ha-tan, although his real name was A-bun-so-nacook. Ra-bun-ta, an Indian runner, came leaping through the forest with a message for the chief. He turned the corner of the hut just as the little daughter of the chief made one of her most vigorous wheels. Her flying feet struck him in the chest and knocked him down. Indians dearly love a rough joke, and a great shout of laughter went up, although the chief was anything but pleased, and called his daughter sharply to him. "This is not maiden's play," he said. "Will you never cease to be a po-ca-hun-tas?" The children caught up the name, and it clung to the little girl ever afterward. The English changed the spelling a bit, but the name has come down in history almost as it was given away back in 1607.

Chang Smoked Pipe.

Li Hung Chang was the first to pay me a visit in my capacity of minister of finance, Count Sergius Witte late Russian diplomat, writes in the World's Work. When we had taken our tea, I inquired of Li Hung Chang whether he did not want to smoke. He emitted a sound not unlike the neighing of a horse. Immediately two Chinamen came running from the adjacent room, one carrying a narghile and the other tobacco. Then began the ceremony of smoking. Li Hung Chang sat quietly inhaling and exhaling the smoke, while his attendants with great awe lighted the narghile, held the pipe, took it from his mouth, and put it back. It was apparent that Li Hung Chang wanted to impress me with all these ceremonies. On my part, I made believe that I did not pay the slightest attention to the proceedings.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.
