

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Prof. N. L. Bartges' summer school closes this week.

Capt. G. M. Boal is spending some time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. Gross Mingle, in Philadelphia.

On June 15th, the U. S. Government paid out millions of dollars in interest on the First Liberty Loan and Victory Notes.

Motoring promises to be more popular this summer than last, with the recent drops made in the price of both cars and gasoline.

Mrs. Wallace Weaver and children, of Reading, are visiting at the home of the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Weaver, at Colyer.

Miss Elsie Slick and little niece, Dorothy Auman, of Struthers, Ohio, are spending a few weeks with the former's parents in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Burkholder, of near Centre Hall, and the former's brother, Wilbur Burkholder, of Philipsburg, visited relatives in Philipsburg, New Jersey, recently.

Morgan D. Van Valkenburg, of Catskill, N. Y., spent the week-end with his friend, J. Frederic Moore. Both young men are students of the Dickinson Seminary in Williamsport.

The report of the Centre County Sunday School convention, held at Milesburg last week, reached us too late to be set in type this week, and will be published next week.

Miss Carrie Sweetwood has been highly favored by a former patient and is now in Portland, Maine, a guest of Dr. Margaret Rupert. While a nurse in one of the Philadelphia hospitals Miss Sweetwood, for a period of thirteen months, was Dr. Rupert's nurse.

Automobiles passed down the Brushvalley road all day Sunday in a steady stream, the objective point being Penns Cave. It was Commencement Sunday at Penn State, and with the modern mode of travel, the day's enjoyment was not complete without a trip to the cave.

Among the twenty-six Centre county students who were graduated from Penn State this week were: William R. Ishler, of Boalsburg, industrial chemistry; James R. Stover, of Boalsburg, electrical engineering; Miss Mildred L. Wieland, of Linden Hall, education and psychology.

One of the horses on the Penn State college farm was scared to death Friday afternoon, when an airplane which had been circling about the town descended and landed near it. The animal was being used to draw a lawn-mowing machine, and when the airship alighted, the horse is said to have given one wild leap and dropped dead.

Mrs. W. T. Noll, of Linden Hall, was in Centre Hall on Saturday afternoon. She is not a frequent visitor here, but is welcomed, especially at the Reporter office where she never fails to call early enough to keep the label of the Noll paper in good form. She was accompanied to Centre Hall by Mary Page, of Rock.

Messrs. C. A. Boyer, of Sunbury, and C. W. Lee, of Lock Haven, were over Sunday visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lee, at Centre Hill. The gentlemen are brothers-in-law, and both are railroad men, the former passenger agent at Sunbury and the latter in the freight office at Lock Haven.

Mrs. Robert McCummins and Miss Edna Wolfe, both of Altoona, spent a few days last week with relatives in this section. Miss Wolfe came to witness the graduating exercises of the Gregg Township Vocational School, her sister, Miss Bessie Wolfe, being a member of the class. Mrs. McCummins is a sister of Mrs. V. A. Auman, of the place.

Despite all the glowing forecasts of a big hay crop, made earlier in the year, the crop will not come up to expectations, and in many places will be a very short one. The heavy rains early in the spring and up until a few weeks ago appeared favorable for the grass, but the cold days and nights nullified the good the rain might have done. A good rain right now is much needed.

Miss Edna Neff, on Saturday, entered the University of Pennsylvania hospital, at Philadelphia, with the expectation of qualifying for a professional nurse. Miss Neff, it will be remembered, started upon this work a year or more ago, but a few weeks after entering was forced to return home owing to the serious illness and subsequent death of her father, the late C. R. Neff. Her friends wish her success.

A beautiful Children's Day program was rendered Sunday evening by the members of the United Evangelical Sunday-school in this place, the children performing their parts most admirably. A feature of the exercises was a most delightful solo by Miss Gertrude Ishler, who is a graduate of an institution for the blind. Much favorable comment was expressed on her beautiful rendition and pleasing voice.

The following from Centre Hall attended the meeting of the Northern Conference of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, held at Snyderstown, last Thursday and Friday: Mr. and Mrs. James S. Stahl, Mrs. S. W. Smith, Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, Miss Elizabeth Royer and Paul Smith, the latter representing the young people's society while Mrs. Stahl represented the local Lutheran woman's missionary society.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

C. F. Deininger was up from Harrisburg over Sunday.

C. E. Flink is, the local agent for Champion farm machinery. See his ad. elsewhere in this issue.

Children's Day services in the Reformed church on Sunday evening, will begin promptly at 7 o'clock.

A Children's Day service will be held in the Methodist church at Sprucetown, Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Bruce Stahl and sister, Mrs. Jennie Snyder, motored to Altoona, over Sunday, visiting relatives while there.

Miss Pearl Arney is attending the State convention of the Eastern Star, in session at Wilkes-Barre this week. Miss Arney is a delegate from the local Chapter.

Mrs. (Rev.) S. A. Snyder, of Hellam, York county, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Daup, in Centre Hall, for a few days. The closest friendship exists between the Snyder and Daup families.

James H. Smetzler is on a trip to Clyde, Ohio, where he will visit his brother, David Smetzler. He was accompanied by Miss Catherine Bradford, a nurse in the Bellefonte hospital, who is enjoying her vacation at this time. They will also visit friends and relatives in Cleveland, Ohio, and on their way home Miss Bradford expects to visit her former school friend, Miss Ruth Parsons, in Pittsburg.

The local Chautauqua committee desires to impress upon the citizens of Centre Hall boro and Potter township the necessity and the wisdom of purchasing Chautauqua tickets from the solicitors and not wait until the opening day of the Chautauqua and then buy tickets at the gate. The gate receipts fall into the hands of the Chautauqua people, thus making it difficult, and probably impossible, for the local committee to meet the guarantee. No one wishes to see a deficit this year, and by purchasing from a solicitor you will be helping prevent this possibility.

BOALSBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris and son, of Philipsburg, were guests at the Grant Charles home over Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Ryan returned to the G. N. Fisher home on Saturday after spending several weeks at Altoona.

Mrs. E. R. Tussey and children returned to their home at Arch Springs on Sunday after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goheen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher, of Schenectady, New York, stopped at the Fisher home here on their way to attend commencement at State College.

Fred Ishler, of Iselin, came to his home here on Saturday for the commencement exercises, his brother, Russell Ishler, being a graduate at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stuart returned to their home at Pittsburg on Tuesday after spending a few days at the home of Mrs. E. E. Stuart. They were accompanied by Mrs. R. R. Stuart and daughter who had spent several weeks at the O. L. Mothersbaugh home. Miss Nannie Bell Stuart also went along and will visit for several weeks.

Millheim Selected by S. S. Workers.

Millheim was selected as the place for holding the 1922 meeting of the Centre County Sunday School convention. That town was the only one which made a request for the next annual gathering, at the convention held at Milesburg last week.

Handsome New Home Ready For Dedication.

The $100,000 addition to the Methodist Home for the Aged at Tyrone has been completed and will be dedicated by Bishop W. F. McDowell on Tuesday, June 21st. It will provide accommodations for forty additional guests, and is so constructed that further additions can be made at any time at much less expense. The new construction is fire proof and includes an infirmary, two sunparlors, heating plant, laundry, refrigerating plant, cold storage, elevator and dining room.

The Methodist Home is located in the most desirable residential section of Tyrone, fronting on two main streets, has spacious grounds and porches, and can be enlarged from time to time as conditions warrant. The new addition was made necessary by the pressing demands for accommodations for aged people from every part of Central Pennsylvania, and there is still a waiting list larger than the present membership of the Home.

A superintendent, matron, and resident nurse, are employed regularly to look after every want of the guests, and Methodism of the interior of the State can be congratulated that another forward step of such importance has been undertaken.
