

PENNSYLVANIA BRIEFS

William T. DeHaven, aged 22, of Butler, was killed near there when an automobile he was driving went over an embankment.

John Hedges, aged 65 and crippled, was run down on the main street of McAdoo by an autoist who escaped, waving his hat as he fled.

E. L. Painter, of Westmoreland county, was sentenced to three years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for robbing a railroad car of goods from an interstate shipment of freight.

Edward S. Delaney, aged 55, for the past 30 years assistant postmaster at Brownsville, shot and killed himself at his home. He had been in ill health.

Because as "a friendly alien" he claimed exemption from the draft, Isaac Morris, a native of Russia, was refused naturalization papers at York.

Dr. J. W. McKay, who has been president of Waynesburg College for the past three years, will retire from that office with the close of the college year, it was announced at Waynesburg. Ill health was given as the cause.

George, 15-year-old son of Ebert Baker, of East Mauch Chunk, was drowned in the Lehigh river at Packer Dam. With two other boys he went swimming and was seized with cramps, his companions being unable to go to his assistance. The body was grappled for by Douglas Arner, of Wellsport, an expert in the work.

An old family feud brought from overseas caused the murder of Frank Cameron, at Girardville, near Pottsville, according to state police, who arrested Frank Ballegreene for the deed. The latter was given a hearing and will be placed on trial in court at Pottsville. Cameron was found stabbed through the heart, lying on a kitchen floor, in a house where the men had been engaged in a game of cards.

Thirty-six divorce decrees were granted by Judge McConnell at Greensburg.

State police from Hazleton seized five barrels of alcohol at the farm of R. J. Bechar, near Homestead.

Rev. Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, pastor of Pine Street Presbyterian church, Harrisburg, has decided to accept the office of stated clerk of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

The industrial board has adopted a tentative ruling requiring all bread to be wrapped before it leaves the bakeries, the action resulting from a complaint to the board that unwrapped bread is exposed to too much handling between bakery and table. The committee of bakers which framed the bakers' code will pass on the proposal before final action.

A national fund to erect a memorial to the late Colonel Frederick W. Galbraith, commander of the American Legion, was started at Pittsburgh by the Homewood Post of the Legion. The post forwarded to national headquarters a check covering its contribution and suggesting that all posts in the United States and individuals contribute.

Andrew Wilson, aged 30, of Mount Pleasant, near Connellsville, was killed and three companions injured when an automobile in which they were riding along the Connellsville-Mount Pleasant road struck a pile of stones. The four men, employees of a glass company at Mount Pleasant, had finished their day's work and had started on a ride through the mountains. They had not gone far when the accident occurred.

Earl Womer, of Schuylkill Haven, a lineman, while doing electrical work on a pole was rendered unconscious by a heavy shock when his hand touched a live wire. A belt around his body held him on the pole, otherwise he would have been thrown to instant death. Companions, seeing Womer's plight, carried him down from the pole and, although badly burned and shocked, physicians say he will recover.

The 200th anniversary of the founding of the Donegal Presbyterian church was celebrated at Donegal Springs, near Lancaster. The Donegal Society unveiled a tablet in memory of its first president, Miss Martha B. Clark, of Lancaster, and will mark the graves of 10 revolutionary soldiers.

Adjutant General Beary issued general orders directing the commanding officers of National Guard units to recruit all federally recognized units to as full strength as possible by June 30. The allotment of federal funds, it was explained, will be based on their strength on that date.

Edward Burke, aged 20, was arrested in Pittsburgh in connection with no less than 75 burglaries, the police say, of which 25 were of chain tea stores. The police also charge Burke with being one of the gang which entered the residence of Cornelius Scully the night of April 2 and while being driven from the house shot Scully in a leg.

Knocking a box of dynamite caps from a shelf, Mrs. John Mastonic and her 12-year-old son were fatally hurt at Scranton.

Burglars entered the offices of the North Pole Ice company at Pittsburgh and escaped with $2000.

Attempting to jump on a moving trolley car at Rocky Springs Park, Harry Frank, of Lancaster, sustained a crushed foot.

Falling into a tub of hot water while his mother's back was turned, Robert, 2-year-old son of C. H. Klinebeter, of Beaver Springs, was so badly scalded he died.

Women have been exempted from the payment of the $5 head tax by the Altoona school board for 1921.

When Virginia Funk, 7 years old, of Esterly, near Reading, discovered a large blacksnake in the bath room of her home, having presence of mind, she ran out, closing the door. Calling her father, Oscar Funk, he seized it with a towel and took it to the yard, where Westley E. Conklin, a guest, shot it. The snake measured five feet nine inches.

Jewels valued at more than $2600 were stolen from the Packard Hotel at Canton, by two men who gave their names as H. K. Wills and J. B. Brays and still are at large. The men came to the hotel, registered and obtained a room. Then, while the other guests were at dinner, ransacked several rooms. The heaviest loss fell upon Mrs. Frank Capella, wife of the proprietor. The raid was discovered about two hours after the men had left Canton in an automobile.

An unknown person fired a bullet into a Pullman car on the Pennsylvania railroad express train just north of Pottsville, missing a woman passenger by an inch. It tore away a wire screen and damaged the wood-work.

Captain Harry L. Reigh, a passenger conductor of Greensburg, will soon retire from the service of the Pennsylvania railroad, having completed his 57th year with the railroad company.

The Clinton County Bar Association laid aside its professional duties for an outing at Hamersley's Fork, in the upper end of the county, where they participated in a trout dinner at Van Horn's Hotel.

One hundred and fifty dollars for two boxes of cigars was the price set in federal court in Pittsburgh by Judge W. H. S. Thompson when he sentenced Philip Arrigo. The defendant, charged with stealing two boxes of cigars from the mails, pleaded guilty and was fined $150.

The lodge of Elks at Renovo has purchased the lots at the corner of Fourth street and Erie avenue, upon which the old Exchange hotel formerly stood, from T. Edward Harvey, for the sum of $21,000. It is not the intention of the lodge to build upon the site at once, but within a few years will erect a three-story building. The lodge now has a membership of considerably over 300.

"Any man who refused to fight for the land of his adoption during the late war is not deserving of citizenship," declared Judge S. Plummer Emery at New Castle in refusing the right of citizenship to seven applicants out of a class of 134. Several others were refused because they were not prepared. The class was the largest that has ever petitioned the Lawrence county court for naturalization papers.

While filling an automobile tire with air Lawrence Worrell, of Wood street, Belle Vernon, near Greensburg, was rendered unconscious when the tire burst and hurled the iron rim through the air. Worrell was struck in the face by a tire rim.

It required the expenditure of more than $1000 in counsel fees, court costs, etc., to try the case in which Alva M. Morris, Sr., of Nicholson township, near Uniontown, was convicted of violating the compulsory school law, the conviction carrying with it a fine of $2. Morris refused to send his 11-year-old son to school on the plea that his health would not permit. The legal battle was one of the most hotly contested of the first week of the June term.

With more than $150,000 in the treasury and current bills paid, Northumberland county's strong box is bulging with cash, according to Treasurer Phillips. Most of this is due to heavy payments of taxes on unseated lands by the big coal companies.

John Caparelo, who lives in a shanty at Ferney, near Lock Haven, and who is employed as a night track watchman for the Pennsylvania railroad, was accidentally shot through the abdomen by his own revolver while fishing in Ferney Run. Caparelo slipped on a wet rock at the side of the stream and fell. As he did so the revolver he carried dropped out of the holster and struck on a rock, which discharged the weapon. He managed to walk to his shanty, two miles distant, where the wound was bandaged by neighbors, then was brought to the hospital in Lock Haven. His condition is serious.

Michael Marzen, a Hazleton miner, was entombed by a fall of rock for six hours, but rescuers finally reached him.

The housing of the new motorized fire truck by the Schaefferstown Fire company was the occasion of a big turnout of firemen from Berks, Lancaster and Lebanon counties.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Finnegan will sail from San Francisco August 3 for Honolulu as a delegate to the Pan-Pacific Congress on Education.

Work has been started on Shamokin's Memorial Hall, which is to be erected by the community as a tribute to the soldiers and sailors who served in the world war.

Charles Aucker, of Union township, Union county, died from injuries suffered when caught under a road drag.

A serious forest fire, covering 75 acres, near Proctor, Lycoming county, was extinguished by a crew of 25 men after an all-night fight.

It took a night-long jury less than half an hour to acquit Bennie Brown of the murder of Sylvester Williams.

Robert Barnes, 10 years old, of Burnham, was shot through the right arm by a small rifle in the hands of a playmate.

Frank Hassel, of McAdoo, was seriously wounded in the left leg by the accidental discharge of an automatic revolver while returning from a fishing trip.

EXPERT INFORMATION GENERALLY IS WRONG

"Wise Boys" Are Incorrect Nearly Every Time.

Dopesters Possessed Marvelous Amount of Knowledge on Sullivan-Corbett Affair—Lavigne Looks for Surprise.

Beware the dope of the boxer. Expert information generally goes wrong. Go back to the days of the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons setto. Ninety-nine out of 100 picked Dempsey. Well, he lost, oh, so easy. And then came the Irish champion, Peter Maher, and these same boxers said that he would eat Fitz alive. It was astounding, marvelous the amount of knowledge they possessed; they lost; Fitz won and won easily.

Then comes the Sullivan-Corbett affair. With hardly a dissenting voice the experts chose Sullivan, and some of them pictured the outcome so vividly that every one stood in open-mouthed amazement. They had the big fellow with the $25,000 in his vest pocket before the fight had gone a couple of rounds. They lost again. The odds against Corbett were greater than at any previous championship affair in the history of the ring.

Then they retrenched; and said that Corbett would win over Fitzsimmons. As usual they were wrong. Fitz won.

Bring their prognostications up to the present time and let us see how they fared. Abe Attell against Johnny Kilbane for instance. They told us that Attell couldn't lose, but he did. Then there was Leonard and Willie Ritchie and a host of other bouts in which they picked the wrong fellow.

There is, there always will be and always has been a prejudice favoring native sons, and this is quite natural to every good American. But this prejudice is apt to be the jinx in picking winners. No American wants some foreign boxer to come over here and take a championship back with him to Europe, but sometimes they do.

Kid Lavigne, the ex-champion lightweight, is one of the prophets on the coming fight, but he doesn't come out flatfooted. He says that he has a hunch Carpenter will surprise Dempsey. But in his next prediction he states that Dempsey can whip Carpenter all right, and then he says, "but mark my words, watch out for a surprise; a win for Carpenter is possible."

INTERESTING SPORT NOTES

Boxing bouts in Milwaukee since August 23 last netted $168,857.70.

Miss Alexa Stirling has 19 clubs in her golf equipment, five being of wood.

Placing odds on the big fight depends on whether you have French ancestors or not.

Even money is being offered that America will win one of England's three golf titles.

Romig of Penn State ran two miles in college record time when he finished in 9:29.

The man who bets on every race and loses consistently is literally "nagged" to death.

Ray Outmet, brother of Francis, won the annual golf tournament at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Carpenter has been in the United States twice before. Is it going to be three times and "out"?

Those who believe a knockout is coming in the big fight are wondering—now, when and where?

Georges has been photographed with a dog, probably to offset the pictures Jack had taken with the pigs.

Bob Hutchinson, star sprinter of the University of California, has been elected captain of the 1922 squad.

The headlock has lost its grip on the public since Strangler Lewis' famous hold slipped off Zybby's bald head.

Columbia is now the gem of the Harlem river, having copped the Childs cup race from Princeton and Pennsylvania.

Yale's freshmen collection of track stars looked good in the mud when it beat Harvard 8 1/2 to 3 1/2 at Cambridge.

Recommendations may be made to the International Athletic federation to eliminate walking, tug-of-war, cycling, fencing, shooting, rowing, tennis and football from the Olympic games.

BESPECTACLED PITCHER

Josh Devore, manager of the Grand Rapids team of the Central league, has signed Otto Meller, a Milwaukee semi-pro pitcher, who wears glasses a la Meadows. He had a trial with the Milwaukee Association team a year ago, but did not make the grade.

BRADY THINKS CARPENTIER WILL BE NEXT HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

"Carpentier, in my opinion, will be the next heavyweight champion of the world," said William A. Brady during a chat the other day. "He surely will defeat Jack Dempsey in the big bout on July 2, and it will not surprise me if he turns the trick in less than three or four rounds.

"Dempsey isn't so formidable as he was when he won the title from Willard. He was comparatively slow when he boxed Brennan in Madison Square Garden. In the Frenchman he will meet a wonderful fighter—the greatest boxer since Jim Corbett's time. Carpenter not only is scientific, but he is a powerful hitter and the quickest thinker in the ring today.

"When those big fellows clash you'll find that Carpenter's clever defensive tactics will offset Dempsey's rushes and heavy blows. Jack will discover right at the start that he is up against the smartest antagonist he ever has tackled. It's the general opinion that Dempsey hasn't defeated a first-class pugilist and that each of his victims would have been pie for the European champion."

Brady until recently was in partnership with Tex Rickard and Charles E. Cochran in promoting the Dempsey-Carpentier battle. He and Cochran withdrew, however, and left Rickard to act as sole manager of the mill. Brady knows the boxing game from every angle. He developed two heavyweight champions in Corbett and Jeffries and predicted their respective victories over Sullivan and Fitzsimmons.

BASEBALL NOTES

Eddie Collins continues his hitting streak.

The clinch in boxing is no relation to the squeeze play of baseball.

"You can't tell a player without a scoreboard." Can't tell him what?

Otto Miller, in his twelfth year with the Dodgers, is catching better ball than ever.

Mulrean seems to be getting better every time out. At least, his control is improving.

Our idea of nothing at all: the honor of batting into the first triple play of the season.

Clyde Manion, Detroit catcher, has been loaned to the Toledo American association team.

When a batter stretches a single into a double it doesn't mean that a rubber ball was used.

Preliminary work on the new stadium for the New York Americans has been started.

The New York Yankees have sent outfielder Christensen to Joplin to replace Frank Gleich.

Walter ("Dutch") Ruether, former Cincinnati player, is giving great service to the Dodgers this year.

School teachers are umpiring ball games in Chicago. Maybe it'll make the kids perk up in their studies.

There is something wrong with the day during which several homers aren't registered in the big leagues.

Fort Worth beat Wichita Falls in four straight games of their recent series, each time by a one-run margin.

The 14th must be Walter Pipp's lucky day. He cracked out his first homer of the season on April 14, and his second on May 14.

Shortstop Tom Stevenson of the Minneapolis team became disgusted with his own work last week, packed his grip and started homeward.

One of the notable comebacks of the season who should not be overlooked is the veteran Bill McKechnie, who is going great guns for Minneapolis.

Walter Christensen, new outfielder from the New York Yankees, got away with the Joplin team. He is complimented for his smartness of play as well as his hitting and fielding ability.

The Detroit club also is going to the Alabama colleges for them. It has signed George Johnson, pitcher and captain, and Sam Barnes, second baseman of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

PIRATES KEEP YELLOWHORSE

Pittsburgh National League Club Officials Decide to Retain Little Rock Hurler.

Chief Yellowhorse, became known when officials of the club announced that the Little Rock team had been paid the purchase money for Yellowhorse's release.

CREDIT GIVEN ARTIE HOFMAN

It Was "Circus Solly's" Throw to John Evers That Forced Merkle at Second Base.

Artie ("Circus Solly") Hofman, Chicago Cub center fielder from 1906 to 1912, has returned to baseball after nine years in the commercial world. Announcement is made of Hofman's appointment to coach a high school team at Chicago. In 1908, it was Hofman's throw from center to Johnny Evers at second that forced Merkle of the New York Giants, causing the game, which was for the pennant, to end in a riot. The Cubs defeated the Giants in the play-off, thereby winning the title.

EVERYBODY SEES A CHANGE IN FATHER

Grateful Son Says His Father Looks Like Different Man Since Taking Tanlac.

"My father has suffered from chronic stomach trouble for over twenty years and has paid out thousands of dollars for medicines and doctors," said G. W. Slayton, a well-known Cobb County farmer, living a short distance out of Atlanta, Ga.

"We tried nearly everything trying to cure him and he went off to the Springs, thinking maybe the water might help him, but it just looked like nothing would reach his trouble. Then he tried dieting and lived on liquid food until he almost starved, but even that failed to do him any good and he just kept going from bad to worse.

"I don't guess there ever was a case as stubborn as his, and if there ever was a confirmed dyspeptic he was one of them, and I guess he would have been one yet if it hadn't been for this Tanlac.

"The first we heard of this medicine was when my father saw an advertisement in the papers from parties he knew in Tennessee, who were friends of his and he knew what they said about it was the truth, so he got it right away and began taking it. Well, sir, it acted just like magic—everybody notices the change in father. Why, he is just like a different man and sits down to the table and eats like a farmhand. Only yesterday he ate pork and turnips for his dinner and ate so much we were actually afraid he was going to overdo the thing, but he laughed and said nothing hurt him now and that he was hungry and expected to eat and make up for lost time.

"Now, when a medicine will do things like that I think people ought to know about it, and I want to say right now that I would not give one bottle of Tanlac for all the other medicines and health resorts in the country put together."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Paternalism.
"You seem very much afraid of paternalism in affairs of government?"
"I am," replied Farmer Courtosel.
"I've tried paternal authority on Josh, and if it doesn't work any better in a government than it does on a farm, I'll say it ain't safe to fool with."

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Postal Note. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

If Knighthood Were in Flower.
The Maiden—In God's name, hasten, Sir Knight! save me!
Sir Launcelot—Not so fast, my good girl. The reporters have not yet arrived; besides, there are the serial rights and the motion picture royalties to be considered.—From Life.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Beware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago, and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacetaicacidester of Salicylicacid.
