

FARMER'S WIFE NEARLY STARVED

Mrs. Peterson Says She Was Afraid to Eat on Account of Trouble That Followed.

"I weighed just a hundred and three pounds when I began taking Tanlac, but now I weigh a hundred and twenty-two pounds," declared Mrs. Amy Peterson, the wife of a prosperous farmer, of Lakeville, Mass., a suburb of New Bedford.

"I had acute indigestion," she said, "and no one knows how I suffered. I had cramping pains in my stomach that were almost unbearable, and I suffered no end of distress from gas and bloating. Why, I was actually starving to keep from being in such awful misery, and I lost thirteen pounds in weight! Sometimes I wonder how I lived through it all, and I just thought there was no hope for me. I was restless night and day and was easily irritated, and some nights I slept so little it didn't seem that I had been to bed at all.

"But now I feel as strong and well as if I had never been sick a day in my life, and I just know Tanlac is the best medicine in the world. I haven't a touch of indigestion now, and every time I sit down to the table I can't help but feel thankful to Tanlac. I have a wonderful appetite and have gained back all my lost weight and six pounds besides. I am simply overjoyed to be feeling so well, and I just praise Tanlac everywhere I go."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Writes Finis to Guffey's Career

Wall Street Once More Puts Her Quietus on Man Who Was Too Ambitious.

HIS STORY IS SENSATIONAL

Nephew of Colonel Guffey, Who Made and Lost Many Fortunes, Himself Did Some Very Spectacular Things With Oil Stocks.

New York.—When the directors resigned the other day and the Tidewater Oil company, a Standard Oil subsidiary, thus got control of the Guffey-Gillespie Oil company, insiders knew Wall street once more had written "finis" to the career of a man who "bit off more than he could chew."

The victim was Joe Guffey, more formally Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh, and fully described thus:

President of the Guffey-Gillespie Oil company, with leases covering 220,000 acres in the Mid-Continent and Texas fields.

President of the Atlantic Gulf Oil corporation, controlled by the Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies Steamship lines and operating around Tampico.

President of the Colombia syndicate, controlled by Guffey-Gillespie and "Agwi" and owning a million acres of oil lands along the Magdalena river in South America.

Director of Reliance Life Insurance company, and several Pittsburgh banks.

Democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania, promoter and "angel" of A. Mitchell Palmer's last presidential boom.

Former director of sales for the alien property custodian.

Uncle Lost Many Fortunes.

Back of this announcement lies a story seldom equaled in American business and political biography. It parallels the story of another Guffey of a preceding generation. For Joe Guffey is a nephew of old Col. James M. Guffey, also of Pittsburgh, said to have made and lost more fortunes in oil than any other person in the United States.

By 1919, when the partnership was reorganized as the Guffey-Gillespie Oil company, it had become one of the largest in the midcontinent field. In addition, Guffey & Gillespie, with other Pittsburghers, acquired 125,000 acres of oil lands in Colombia, and the Colombia syndicate was formed.

Then "Agwi" entered the Mexican field, organized the Atlantic Gulf Oil company, and elected Guffey president.

Boosted Stock to $30.

Last summer Guffey found the bears out gunning for Guffey-Gillespie stock, although it had earned $9 a share the year before. Guffey began the fight which ended Tuesday in total defeat. Putting in almost every dollar he had and borrowing $2,000,000, he formed a pool to "peg" the stock with New York and Pittsburgh friends.

Late in February Guffey's pool tried to rout the bears and boosted the stock from 22 to 30. The effort exhausted his strength, and the bears, buying in New York and selling by wire in Pittsburgh, flooded the latter market. When the price reached 20 the Pittsburgh banks called their loans.

The Tidewater Oil company took over the stock held as collateral and bought enough more to give it voting control. Guffey, Gillespie and the old directors attempted to fight for places in the reorganized company. Tidewater asked for their resignations, and called for a receiver.

THIS MAKES MR. HAYS HAPPY

His Policy of Humanizing the Postoffice Department Results in Saving a Woman's Life.

Washington.—Postmaster Will H. Hays probably is the happiest man in Washington today. His slogan "Humanize the Postoffice Department" has been carried out to what appears to be the limit. Here is the story:

In a little Nebraska farmhouse a woman lay dying for lack of medical attention. The nearest physician was Dr. Selby at North Platte. True, North Platte was only two miles away, but between the dying woman and the physician was the South Platte river, flooded to a raging torrent that had swept away every bridge near and far.

Dr. Selby had telephoned to every town within a radius of twenty miles.

Elixir of Youth Found in Chicago

Decrepit Old John Shebec Took But One Dose and Did Some Great Stunts.

GLIMPSE OF "DICK'S" STAR

Senile Cripple Overtook Trolley Car and Would Have Defeated Police—Flivver if the Street Crows Had Not Hampered Him.

Chicago.—John Shebec, who is 67 years old, discovered the elixir of youth the other day. Before taking he was stooped, lame, decrepit, hopelessly senile. After one dose he was able to hop a speeding street car, outrace a flivver, and stand on his ear. Mr. Shebec was first observed by Detective Sergeants Bierndt and Janacak at Western avenue and Madison street. He was limping.

"Give me a quarter for carfare, please," he asked them. Bierndt started to explain that transportation in this City of the Horn may be purchased, theoretically, at a nickel a ride—and, if one is traveling in the suburbs outside the precincts of the city hall, at 8 cents. He meant to follow up this information with a remark that the old man's two-bit demand was a bit exorbitant. He was interrupted, however, by a citizen who burst from the corner saloon.

Heavenly Dust Cloud of Vast Bulk Is Found

London.—Dr. A. Pannekeek, a Dutch scientist, has been demonstrating the existence of an inconceivably vast object in the heavens. Its mass, he says, is 20,000,000,000 times greater than that of the sun. He calls it a celestial gas or dust cloud. Doctor Pannekeek says this huge body is situated in the constellation of Taurus and his estimate of its size is greater than many estimates of the combined mass of the whole universe itself.

At each turn it was the same disheartening story—bridges gone and no way of fording the turbulent waters.

Just when all hope seemed gone, Dr. Selby remembered something. Somewhere he had read that the postmaster general was "humanizing" the postoffice department. He rushed to the telephone and asked C. A. Sluder, manager of the air mail field at North Platte, to take him across the river in an airplane.

"Sorry," said Sluder, "but I couldn't without getting authority from Washington first."

"But the woman is dying," the physician urged.

"In that case," replied Sluder, "we will take you first and get the authority afterward."

So it was that the life of a woman in an humble Nebraska farmhouse was saved just because the postoffice department has been humanized. And so it is that Postmaster General Hays is probably the happiest man in Washington.

Keeping the Czech and Magyar Apart

Only at certain hours on Sunday may persons cross this bridge, and then under strict supervision, for it is the bridge between Hungary and Czechoslovakia, over the Donau river, at Extergon, Hungary.

No use! With an easy leap Shebec had achieved the step. Then he looked behind him and saw that the police flivver was making better time than the street car.

"You're too darned slow," said he to the conductor—and off he jumped. The particular section of the metropolis into which the ancient leaped was a bit populated. The abundant citizenry impeded his progress and made straight running impossible. In the zigzagging which ensued the flivver had time to catch up and Shebec was apprehended. In his pockets were found twenty $1 bills and about $5 in coins.

"I think I'll enter that bird in the Indianapolis sweepstakes next year," said Bierndt at the station. "He runs without gas and never has the trouble. He's the fastest thing I ever saw in pants."

PROFITEERS ANGER TRAVELERS

Extortion Practiced in Paris Arouses Americans.

French Authorities Tell Them the Remedy is in Their Own Hands.

Paris.—The effect of the high cost of living in Paris upon tourist trade, as indicated by the growing frequency of complaints of extortion by Americans visiting France, is occupying the attention of the government.

The authorities hold that the tourists have the cure largely in their own hands, exaggerated prices being due in large part to indiscriminate spending by visitors, aided by the spendthrift tendency of French profiteers.

It is admitted that abuses practiced in amusement resorts, where meals, wine and dancing are provided, have their effect upon prices in gen-

HOME TOWN HELPS

TO A MAN'S TOWN

What should a man boost more for than his town—
The place that shelters all his life holds dear,
Perchance, his grandfathers' ashes and the tales
That old tradition couples with his name?
What should a man be prouder of than just
The harbor of his neighbors and his friends,
The place where smiles of greeting start his day
And mark its close. His town is this and more.

It has been wisely said of man that he has two homes. One is where he sits and reads

When evening's come and where his children are.

The other one is that which makes him safe.

Assures him protection with his friends,
A home that keeps his home—and that's his town.

One is his heart's desire. He plans for it
And works and saves, then works and saves some more.

That he may have it; and the other one
Gives him the first one and makes it secure—

What should a man boost more for than his town?

UNITE TO BEAUTIFY HOMES

Example Set by Women of New Mexico Might Well Be Copied in All Most All the States.

In one of the dry-farming counties in New Mexico the women have shown their interest in improving the surroundings of their ranch homes by making home beautification a project in the county program of work. Through the assistance of the home demonstration agent, co-operating with the United States Department of Agriculture, these women, during 1920, bought, planted and cared for 1,800 rose bushes which were planted in 21 home gardens. The roses include varieties which had never been tried before in that section of the country.

Some of the varieties which made the best growth are Red Radiance, Crimson Queen, Lady Battersea, Madam Cochet, Sunburst, Old Gold, Dorothy Perkins, and Gold of Ophir. The roses were planted in well-fertilized soil and were protected from the winds until growth was well established. In the fall the bushes are protected by turning a small nail keg without a bottom over them and filling in with earth and manure. The beauty and fragrance of these roses tend to weld the people more closely to their ranch homes and thus make for more permanent agriculture.

Hybrid Tea Rose.

In this connection it is well to remember that there is no section of the country where roses cannot be made to thrive, with care.

Small Town's Many Advantages.

The small town rules America, because, instead of being a place of hotels, restaurants and amusements, it is a place for normal living—where men walk home to lunch from their place of business and mow their own front lawns and weed their backyard gardens and bid their neighbors across either fence the time of day; where they not only live in today, but remember yesterday and plan for tomorrow; where families and communities retain, cherish and transmit traditions, there heats the heart of America.—Dodge County (Minn.) Sanitation Always Pays.

Some people say that sanitation doesn't pay. Well, it doesn't pay doctors and grave diggers, says the United States public health service. Be sanitary; seek health before you need it.

Take Care of the Trees.

A city without trees is a desolate place. Yet any city which does not guard its trees will some day be without them.

Keep Everything in Repair.

Holes in the street are warnings against more holes. So are holes in the graveyard. Repairs in time will delay both.
