TUSSEYVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolfe and family, of Altoona, spent the week end at the home of John Kortney.

Miss Ruth Rockey, who is employed at State College, spent over Sunday at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bitner attended the funeral of Miss Minnie Kline, at Centre Mills.

Mrs. Anna Klinefelter went to State College last week where she is employed in a restaurant.

SPRING MILLS.

Mrs. Breon, of Millheim, spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Gent-zell.

The Aiken spinning mill has resumed operations and is running on full time.

The funeral of Mrs. Kate Kusterborder, of Bellwood, was attended by a large number of people, on Tuesday.
The order of the Rebekah had charge of the ceremonies.

Mrs. Sylvia Grenoble took care of her sister, Mrs. Cleveland Eungard, who was quite ill.

Philip Shook, who came with his family from Franklin county to attend Grangers picnic, is still seriously ill with pneumonia.

William Zettle, son of Roland Zettle, of Potters Mills, has typhoid fever. Mr.
Zettle recently moved from here to Potters Mills.

(From last week.)

John Smith, John Horner, Lewis Rossman and Joseph Bitner are having their houses wired for electric light.

Schools opened on Monday with good attendance.

Several wrecks occurred near here during picnic, but no one was injured seriously.

The silk mill has closed for a short time on account of being out of material.

O. T. Corman has been quite ill.

Miss Martha Smith went to Williamsport on Monday where she entered a business college.

Penn State's Problem.

"How long will this great State of Pennsylvania allow a thousand of its best boys and girls to knock in vain each year for admittance to its own State College?" This query was presented by Judge H. Walton Mitchell, head of the Pennsylvania State College trustees, upon the occasion of the recent college opening. In the past three years Penn State has been unable to accommodate over 2500 young men and women residents of the state, due to lack of buildings, equipment and State funds for additional faculty members. The number turned away in that time is almost equal to the present capacity of the State's institution of higher learning.

The dailies, on Wednesday, had little hope for constitution revision, the constitution of the voters having been too robust.

If it wasn't for outside advertising the Reporter would cease to exist. The fact that this advertising space is in demand is a tribute to the paper—to its influence and wide circulation.

FOR SALE.—50 White Leghorn Pullets, ready to lay by Nov. 1st. They are first-class stock, and anyone may feel proud in their ownership. Hurry if you want them.—Grover Weaver, Centre

PRIMARY ELECTION.

155 Votes Cast in the Borough.—Contest in Two Offices Only.

Less than a fifty per cent vote was polled at the primary election in Centre Hall boro, on Tuesday. The total number of ballots cast was 155, divided as follows: Democratic—men, 73; women, 31. Republican—men, 32; women, 16.
Prohibition—men, 0; women, 3.

Local interest centered about two borough offices only, where there was a contest for nomination. The Democrats had one in councilman, where five names were printed on the ballot and only three to be voted for. The vote stood:
R. D. Foreman 53, A. H. Spayd 72, W.
F. Bradford 55, Lawrence E. Runkle 28, M. L. Emerick 69. Spayd, Emerick and Bradford will have their names on the fall ballot as a result of Tuesday's election.

In the Republican party, the contest was for school director, where there were two to vote for and three named, Mrs. Margaret Strohm and E. S. Ripka secured the nomination, Mrs. Lucy Henney being defeated. The count was:
Ripka 29, Strohm 34, Henney 21.

On the proposed constitutional convention the vote was 20 "yes," and 119
"no."

The nominees for the various borough offices, on the Democratic and Republican tickets, follow:

- Judge of elections—
C. A. Smith, D
John F. Kramer, R
- Inspector of elections—
Mrs. Freda Kerlin, D
Robert I. Smith, R
- Assessor—
J. S. Rowe, D
W. A. Odenkirk, R
- Tax Collector—
C. D. Bartholomew, D & R.
- Borough auditor—
Mrs. Lettie Brungart, D
Charles M. Smith, R
- Councilman—
A. H. Spayd, D
M. L. Emerick, D
W. F. Bradford, D
Wilbur A. Henney, R
H. H. Longwell, R
Frank McClellan, R
- School Director—
D. K. Keller, D
H. G. Strohmeier, D
Mrs. M. E. Strohm, R
E. S. Ripka, R
- Burgess—
T. A. Hosterman, D

Note, Ex-service Men.

Veterans of the World War who claim benefits under the War Risk Insurance Act, should come in touch with the nearest Red Cross chapter in their section.
An effort is being made to reach every ex-service man who claims benefits under this act by a squad of the Veteran's Bureau, which includes the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Public Health Service, and Federal Board for Vocational Education. The squad is now in Pittsburgh and later will be somewhere in this section. In the meantime all veterans making claims of any kind should get into communication with Miss Shippis, executive secretary of the State College Chapter of the Red Cross, State College, Pa. She will be glad to give immediate attention to calls in person or requests by mail from ex-service men or others who may know of cases that should be taken care of.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Potatoes are selling for one dollar per bushel in the local market. Not a bad price, especially when wheat is no t sought at any price.

The primary election failed to raise a ripple. It may be different on the day when both Democrats and Republicans appear on the same ballot.

Considerable over 2 inches of rain fell on Saturday, which was followed by a decided drop in temperature, reminding one that the fall season is actually here and that winter is just around the corner.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. M. Rearick, of Elk Lick, Somerset county, is seriously ill at this writing. Tuesday, Mrs. Rearick has been suffering from a cancerous growth and other complications for several years.

Saturday's hard rain interfered with the picnic in Delaney's woods, at Old Fort, which was to have been held by Rev. Drumm's catechise class. The young people will attempt it again on Saturday of this week, and hope for nice weather.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Farner, Rev.
C. E. Odell, (Methodist) and wife, Hon.
C. W. Catlin and wife, George E. Maloney and wife, all of Port Allegheue, were a party to visit Penns Cave, making a stop at Centre Hall, Mr. Farner's boyhood home, long enough to greet old friends.

Post Office Exam. on Friday, Oct. 14.

Examination of applicants for the office of postmaster of Philipsburg will be made on October 14th. It is said there are several applicants. Postmaster Rowles' term expired Aug. 6, 1921.
The salary for the Philipsburg office is now $2,900.

Oseola Mills examination will be made the same date. The salary there is $2,300.

The Winburne office is to be filled by examination Oct. 8th. Max Crain, the present postmaster at Winburne who served under both Wilson terms, is the only applicant, it is said.

Boy Killed By Auto.

Tuesday morning a telegram was received here by friends from A. Miles Arney, of Niagara Falls, New York, saying that his eight-year-old son had been killed by an auto striking him.
Death was instant. No further particulars were given.

A large number of the Reporter readers who are acquainted with the parents of the unfortunate lad, will express great sorrow on reading these paragraphs.

New Ice Plant in Operation.

Philipsburg has a new ice plant which was put in operation last week. At an expenditure of approximately $30,000 the very latest improved machinery for the manufacture of artificial ice has been installed. The plant has a capacity of eighteen tons every twenty-four hours.
Philipsburg contemplates no ice famines in the future.

Penn State Girl Would/Become Forest Ranger.

Even the story of fried rattle snakes as a part of the menu at the Penn State College forestry students' camp at Le-mar last summer has not deterred Miss Caroline B. Kessinger in her ambition to become a forester through her enrollment last week as the first woman to study that profession at Penn State.

Her fondness for all outdoor activities, and the pleasure she gains thru roaming the Central Pennsylvania mountain forest reserves, prompted Miss Kessinger, who residence is in State College boro, to join forces with the very popular forestry department at the college. An expert with rifle and gun, she likes nothing better than a mountain hike and shows as much familiarity with the nearby forest trails as most of the habitual men student hikers. The danger of forest ranging hold no fears for her, and one of her ambitions is to some day patrol a section of State forest preserve.

Health First, at Penn State.

Every effort will be made this year to keep the students at the Pennsylvania State College in the best of health, according to the college officials. Working on the principle that "Good brains needs a sound body," every able-bodied student will be required to enter some kind of athletic sport or recreation. All new students will be given a thorough physical examination immediately, and corrective exercises assigned for those who need them. The college physician, health service staff and the department of physical education all combine in this very necessary work.

Penn'a To Have Standard U. S.
Grades For Potatoes.

As a result of the hearings on standard potato grades, held at different points in Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, will establish and promulgate standard grades for this state. Under the rules to be promulgated, all potatoes marked as "graded" and originating within the state, will have to conform to the United States Standard grades, while ungraded potatoes will have to be so marked.

Heretofore, potatoes packed for transportation could be marked "graded" and the packer or grower could conform to any standard he saw fit. The new rule, however, will bring about an observance of the grades that are in force in practically every state where potatoes are produced on a commercial basis and it is believed that a conformation to the U.
S. grades will give Pennsylvania pota-tes an equal chance in the large markets, with the tubers from other states.

The standard grade rules will not become effective until six months after they are issued so that they will have little bearing on the 1921 crop, but will be in full force for the crop of 1922. At the hearings conducted jointly by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Bureau of markets, not a single objection was made to the promulgation of the grades.

MILLHEIM.

(From The Journal.)
J. Calvin Smith on Monday purchased a handsome new Nash roadster from the Breon garage.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cole started on their homeward motor trip to Mansfield, O., Tuesday morning, after spending three weeks with relatives in Millheim and vicinity.

At the request of the postmaster general, the United States civil service commission announces an open competitive examination to be held at Bellefonte on October 8 to fill the position of postmaster at Millheim. Necessary blanks can be secured at the local postoffice.

The newly organized Millheim band made its first appearance on the street on Saturday evening and played a concert. The band, considering the small membership of experienced musicians and the bad condition of the instruments is making rapid progress towards developing a first class band such as Millheim was proud of in years gone by.

The time for the final decision of the steel company to take over or reject the farms in this section upon which they hold options is near at hand but nothing definite has been given out concerning the actions to be taken by the company, but during the past week two different sets of men were here on special detail work and the presumption is that in a few days the company will take over the farms.

Camel

Gains $1,300 By Forfeited Bail.

Lycoming county is $1,300 richer by reason of cash bail being forfeited during the past week. On Wednesday morning the bail of David W. Cramer was forfeited when he did not appear for sentence. This amount, $300 in cash, was received by the county commissioners Thursday, and was placed in the care of the county treasurer.

On Wednesday afternoon J. J. Cassidy, charged with transporting liquor through Williamsport, failed to appear at this hearing before Alderman H. R.
Fleming, and the $500 cash bail was forfeited. Alderman Fleming stated that the money is in the bank and will be paid over to the county commissioners on Monday.

If merchants want to see business boom, let them try a "Dollar Day" sale.
The public is looking to where they can save the pennies nowadays.

Many are invited to weddings because their presents are needed.

Biliousness

WHEN you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. There is nothing better.
