COURT NEWS.

(Reported by S. D. Gettig, Esq.)

Commonwealth vs. Mrs. John Martin. Indicted for assault and battery. Prosecutrix Agnes Verbitski. This case is from Clarence and from the testimony it would appear that the prosecutrix and the defendant had some words on the 18th of June, last. The testimony of the Commonwealth was that the defendant had thrown a stone at the prosecutrix and hit her, while the testimony of the defense is a denial. Verdict, guilty of assault and subsequently sentence was suspended upon Mrs. Martin owing to her large family, but that she was to return to where she came from and where her son is working.

Commonwealth vs. Sandy Peters. Indicted for assault and battery. Prosecutor George Harris. This case is from State College and grows out of an altercation between the prosecutor and defendant on the 23rd of February, last, following the losing of some money by a man by the name of Rudy, and the defendant having seen the prosecutrix pick up the money and which resulted in a law suit at May sessions of court. The defendant going to the place of business of the prosecutrix and informing him that he saw him pick up some money. An altercation arose and this prosecution brought, which resulted in a verdict of not guilty, and the prosecutor to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Harry S. Horner; prosecutrix, Bertha Weaver. This case is from Potter township and the prosecutrix is the daughter of the defendant. The trouble arose by reason of some of the children of the defendant staying with the prosecutrix, going to her home on the 27th of May, last, demanding these children, when altercation arose and the prosecutrix stating that she was slapped by the defendant. Verdict, guilty, and sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $25.00 fine and 6 months in the county jail.

Thomas Gill, indicted for involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Heien Shuey, on the 9th of May, when she was struck down by the defendant's automobile after leaving the circus ground, was found not guilty, but pay all the costs.

A civil case of Mary E. Brown vs. Chas. M. McCurdy, administrator of Jane Brown, deceased, was tried Thursday afternoon. This was an action brought against the estate for services as housekeeper and nurse for the decedent for a long period of time. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff of $11,284.00.

Frank Benedeck, charged with the murder of Raymond Shaw, at Phillipsburg, on June 24, last, changed his plea of not guilty at the opening of the trial, to guilty after all the testimony had been offered and the Court held there was not sufficient evidence to show the premeditation for a first degree murder as contended for by the Commonwealth. The Court then imposed a fine of $1.00, pay costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of no less than 8 years and no more than 10 years.

Conference of Women's Clubs.

A conference of women's organizations in Centre county was held in Lemont, on Saturday. Clubs and organizations from Boalsburg, Lemont, State College, Centre Hall, Howard, Oak Hall, Phillipsburg and the League of Women Voters, a county organization, were represented.

Among the items of general interest reported was that Centre county's apportionment for the Armenian fund was $5000 and that $12,000 was contributed. Miss Florence Dibert, president of the Pennsylvania Women's Federated Clubs, stated that there were 436 clubs having, a membership of 60,000 in the state, co-operating along the lines of education, art, music, and everything in the way of uplift.

Col. H. W. Shoemaker, of McElhattan, a member of the State Forestry Commission, told what the State was doing to preserve the forests. The mountaineer children of Pennsylvania have elicited his sympathies. He said they were worse off than the children of the Cumberland mountains of the south, and appealed to the various women's organizations to take up the work of improving the condition of these children.

Prof. Jonas Wagner, former superintendent of the Bellefonte schools, and now a member of the State Board of Education, spoke of the coming improvements in school facilities for the country boys and girls. This improvement, he said, would mean Township High Schools, Vocational Schools, transportation of students, etc.

Miss Helen Williams was elected treasurer, and Howard was fixed as the place for holding the next meeting.

Auto Accident in Boalsburg.

Last Sunday, at noon, while George E. Meyer, of Boalsburg, was driving his automobile on West Main street, in that town, in front of the John A. Jacobs home, Master "Jack" Jacobs, three years old, ran out in front of the car. Fortunately Mr. Meyer was driving slowly and when the boy got in front of the car he saw striking the child could not be avoided. The brakes were applied but sufficient force remained to push the child over. The car was stopped within its length and the child picked up as he lay under the rear axle. Only a few light bruises were found in his body and in a short time he was again playing. The incident caused a great scare among those who witnessed it, and had not Mr. Meyer been driving carefully and acted quickly, the child might have been seriously or perhaps fatally injured.

New Auto Stripes Tree, Demolished.

A brand new Reo touring car, purchased a few months ago by Adam Smith, tenant on the S. E. Weber farm, near Linden Hall, is a total wreck as the result of an accident last Wednesday morning. The machine was being run by the owner's son and was occupied by some of the boy's friends. In rounding a curve at the Walnut Grove school house, the car skidded and struck a large tree alongside of the road. Before the machine could be brought back to the road another tree was encountered, stripping big chunks of bark off it, and damaging the car to such an extent that it is practically ruined. The radiator and engine were broken, as well as the top, windshield, fenders and wheels. Mr. Smith is undecided whether to try and have the machine repaired or to purchase a new car.
